U.S. Tanks Confront Reds

Soviets Send New Note On Berlin Issue

Message Details Unavailable; U.S. Blasts New Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets have sent a new note dealing with the question of access to the Communist-surrounded city of West Berlin, a Western diplomat said Wednesday night.

This word was given to newsmen at the windup of a 2½-hour session by a Western Big Four ambassadorial group considering the German issue.

There was no immediate word on the content of the note.

Earlier, the U.S. government had issued a statement denouncing the new Berlin restrictions as another Communist move to confine 17 million East Germans and East Berliners "behind barbed wire and concrete curtains."

Barricading Followup

U.S. strategists tended to regard the new restrictions as a followup on the Communists' Aug. 13 barricading of the East Berlin border, rather than as an impairment of vital Western rights such as access by the West to West Berlin.

No details were immediately available on the reported new note from Moscow.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said one of the points in Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that needs clarification is what Khrushchev means when he talks about "guarantees of access" to West Berlin.

What is clearly vital to the Western position in the Communist-surrounding city, in American opinion, is access to that city from the West. The Reds have not so far tampered with that lifeline during the current crisis.

Secrecy Maintained

This left uncertain what response the Western powers might decide on. Strict secrecy was maintained on the Washington ambassadorial discussions.

State Department press officer Lincoln White did acknowledge that one possibility under study is whether the Western diplomats in West Berlin would use the entry point to East Berlin designated by the East Germans.

White declined to say whether the Western governments would file any formal protest beyond the complaint issued by the Western commandants in Berlin terming the Red restrictions illegal, calloused and a flagrant disregard of humap rights.

Interim Tax Plan Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Action on President Kennedy's interim tax revision program has been put off until the 1962 session, the House Ways and Means Committee reported Wednesday.

The program was designed to give tax credits to businessmen who invest in plant modernization, and to make up this revenue loss elsewhere.

It was to have preceded a general overhaul of the income tax structure which the administration suggested for the 1962 session.

The committee action raised the question of whether the interim program might get lost in next year's projected general overhaul.

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said his group plans to report a version of the interim tax program to the House by February.

However, the senior Republican member, Rep. Noah Mason of Illinois, indicated the tax-writing committee could be expected to consider not just this program but the whole income tax program for possible revision.

Demo Leaders To Push School Aid Package

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders agreed Wednesday to push for passage of a $2.6 billion school aid package in a last-ditch attempt to save a skeleton of President Kennedy's education program.

Speaker Sam Rayburn and House school aid chieftains launched the fight at a meeting a few hours after Kennedy gave the move his blessing. The legislation contains several features designed to win over opponents.

The President has been seeking such a formula since the House Rules Committee scuttled his public school aid plan and three related bills by an 8 to 7 vote July 18.

Rep. James J. Delaney, D-N. Y. who cast the deciding vote in the rules committee, attended Wednesday's meeting. He was understood to be more friendly to the new plan, drafted by Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

But Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., of the House Education Committee said Delaney made no promise to switch his vote. He said Delaney wanted to study the legislation when it is introduced Thursday.

Powell said the new package would authorize:

—$325 million in aid for public school construction for one year. Kennedy requested $2.3 billion for construction and teachers salaries over three years.

—$1.9 billion for loans and grants for college classroom construction and scholarships for talented but needy students. This actually was larger than the $1.6 Kennedy originally sought.

—$200 million to continue for another year federal aid to "impacted" schools crowded with children of servicemen and government workers. The President asked a three-year extension.

—$90 million to extend for one more year the National Defense Education Act's student loan program. Kennedy wanted the loan plan made permanent and the entire act extended at a cost of two or three times $90 million.

Dog Lovers Rally To Bark Defense

DROXFORD, England (AP) — Outraged dog lovers rallied to the defense of Mrs. Olwyn Harbottle's eight high-spirited miniature poodles and a Kerry Blue terrier.

The local council of this quiet Hampshire village—which wants to keep it quiet—says the dogs must be de-barked because they bark too much and annoy the neighbors.

That would mean an operation to sever the dogs' vocal chords. And that got the dog-lovers snapping mad.

Officials of dogs' best friends organizations came out strongly against debarking.

"This is a very wicked thing," said Bernard Workman of the Canine Defense League. "If it comes to a legal struggle we will get Mrs. Harbottle a lawyer and back her to the hilt."

UAW Accuses GM, Threatens To Strike Ford

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union ordered psychological warfare on General Motors, Ford and Chrysler Wednesday in the union's drive to win a new, pattern-setting contract before current wage agreements run out in just eight days.

The UAW, in effect, threatened Ford with a strike unless it betters the economic package which Ford, GM and Chrysler offered simultaneously Tuesday.

The union termed the offers "woefully inadequate."

General Motors was accused before the National Labor Relations Board by the union with failing to bargain in good faith. The charge was based on GM's third refusal to provide the union with the formula on which GM bases prices and figures profits. The company said it was none of the union's business.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther personally took over bargaining with American Motors Corp., which offered the union a profit-sharing package July 28, which Reuther described as "a meaningful approach." He proposed to begin immediate, intensified, round-the-clock negotiations to effect a quick settlement.

Negroes Stage 'Hoax-In' At Baltimore Restaurant

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Three Negroes staged an apparent elaborate "hoax-in" at a well-known downtown Baltimore restaurant—and were served along with the white customers.

The men, one robed like a maharaja and the others in formal diplomatic attire, stopped at Miller Brothers restaurant Tuesday afternoon.

Theodore Cook, the headwaiter, said a spokesman for the group told him the robed man was the finance minister of the new African nation of Gabon, and that the party had come from conferences at the State Department in Washington.

Cook said in view of past snubs of African diplomats in Maryland and "Gov. (J. Millard) Tawes' request that restaurateurs be particularly careful and courteous to foreign dignitaries, I seated them."

The three men stayed less than half an hour and ate what the head waiter described as a token meal. They left in a limousine, after a Negro photographer took several pictures. Cook said while the men were eating, he saw the photographer sitting in the car with the driver.

The spokesman for the group identified the "finance minister" as Sorfa Adiwba. In Washington, the Gabon Embassy said their finance minister is Francois Meye, and that he is presently in Gabon.

The limousine bore Maryland plates, not diplomatic plates. The car was identified Wednesday by the Department of Motor Vehicles as belonging to Arlington Sylvester Phillips, a funeral director. Phillips said the limousine is rented out frequently, and that his secretary handled the rental Tuesday and he knew nothing about it.

Britain Assails Red Bloc Abuse Of West In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain accused the Soviet bloc Wednesday of heaping common abuse on Western powers in the U.N. General Assembly in order to obstruct successful negotiations between France and Tunisia over Bizerte.

The British delegate, Colin T. Crowe, spoke in the third day of the assembly's debates on Tunisia's demand that French forces be evacuated from the Mediterranean naval base at Bizerte and from posts in the Sahara.

Crowe was sandwiched between two Soviet bloc spokesmen, the Ukraine delegate who repeated Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov's attack on Western bases Monday, and the Czechoslovak delegate who delivered a series of denunciations of the United States.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson on Tuesday protested Morozov's assault as shameless in view of Soviet troops still stationed in Eastern European countries. He said "the Soviet record of cynical suppression of freedom is in sharp contrast to the self-righteousness of its rhetoric."

Crowe told the assembly that Morozov's statement, taken up in turn by Soviet bloc country spokesmen, was a vivid illustration that some members of the United Nations do not sincerely wish to see a successful negotiation between the two parties.

Crowe also took issue with some language of the 32-power Asian-African resolution. It would have the assembly call for France's full compliance with a Security Council order for pulling its troops back to July 19 prebattle posts. It would also call for France to negotiate evacuation of all its forces from the Bizerte base and elsewhere in Tunisia.

"France does not contes' the principle of ultimate evacuation," Crowe said. He urged the assembly to act in such a way that the climate for negotiation could carry out that aim, but he took exception to phrases that pinpointed all the blame on France.

Britain, France Plan Channel Link Talks

LONDON (AP) — Britain and France Wednesday night announced agreement to discuss the building of a bridge or tunnel across the English Channel — 22 miles wide between the ports of Calais and Dover.

The project, talked about since the 18th century, would cost around $600 million, according to authoritative estimates.

The Ministry of Supply said officials of the two countries will discuss the possibility of building a fixed installation across the channel. Informants explained this could mean only a tunnel or bridge.

Powerful British, French and American interests for years have been canvassing support for the project.

Senate Votes Job Training Bill Approval

Kennedy's 4-Year Program Passed By 60 To 31 Margin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate by a vote of 60 to 31 Wednesday approved President Kennedy's four-year $655 million program to train more than 100,000 unemployed workers in new skills.

The measure, aimed at chronic unemployment such as is caused by automation narrowly survived a Republican-led attempt to reduce the new program to a two-year $255 million trial effort.

The Senate rejected 44 to 43 a proposal by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., to approve only the first two years of the program. Republicans forced a second roll call in an effort to reverse the outcome. This move was tabled 47 to 40.

Program For Young People

Kennedy asked Congress to approve the program late in May. As approved, the bill incorporates a program to provide job skills for young people—especially those who drop out of school. The President wanted this, but suggested it be included in his youth opportunity program.

Prouty's contention that Congress should "know whether it is going to work" before enacting a long-term program provided the major controversy in Senate debate.

However, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., floor manager for the bill cautioned that the bill "proposes no Utopia" and would not solve all unemployment problems.

The bill would give the secretary of labor authority to survey the nation's work force and determine what skills will be needed. The secretary, working through local employment offices, also could select training applicants to attend federally-supported training courses.

Allowance Provided

Persons taking training courses could be paid allowances equal to the unemployment insurance benefits paid in the state.

By a 53 to 39 vote the Senate approved a Clark substitute for a second Prouty amendment designed to withhold training allowances from trainees in the 16 through 21 age group. As amended, the bill would permit 5 percent of the training allowances to go to the youthful trainees.

After the second year of the program states would be required to match the federal outlay on a 50-50 basis.

Father Appeals To Fugitive Son

LAKE DELTON, Wis. (AP) — A father's advice to his fugitive son echoed from the loudspeaker of an airplane circling ahead of a grim posse Wednesday as it closed in on a wooded area where the last member of a desperate trio may lie wounded.

"Don't get yourself shot, son," blared the message from Raymond Welter of Franklin Park, Ill., to his son, William, 23. "I don't want any more bloodshed. The police have promised not to shoot if you surrender."

Two of the three men sought relentlessly since Sauk County Deputy James Jantz was slain and Lake Delton Police Chief Robert Kohl critically wounded by a blast of gunfire early Monday already are in custody.

Richard Nickel, 28, wounded at a roadblock and flung from the trio's speeding car in the initial stages of the chase, is under guard at a Mauston hospital. Lawrence Nutley, 26, was cornered by two of the posse and captured when he tried to wrest a gun from one.

Pension Tax Credit Bill Clears House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a bill Wednesday designed to equalize tax advantages of retired persons without Social Security and those of old age insurance beneficiaries.

The bill was sent to the Senate by voice vote. It brings up to date a 1954 law establishing a tax credit for persons receiving private retirement income to balance off the tax-free treatment of Social Security and other federal government retirement payments.

Matching recent increases in Social Security benefits, the bill increases from $1,200 to $1,524 the maximum amount of income that can qualify as tax-free retirement income.

Space Platform Piggyback Shot Partial Failure

Most Gamblers Ignore Tax Law, Senators Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Picturing the 10-year-old gambling stamp act as something of a failure, Mortimer M. Caplin, Internal Revenue Service commissioner, told Senate investigators Wednesday most professional gamblers ignore that tax law.

And with limited manpower and not enough authority under the law, Caplin said, he is unable to crack down properly. So far, he said, it has cost more to enforce the gambling tax than the government has been able to collect.

Caplin estimated that the government is being cheated out of the taxes on $25 billion in unreported income each year from all sources and that at least part of this is by gamblers. The IRS chief did not elaborate, but he later told newsmen the tax loss amounted to $4.9 billion annually.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate Investigations subcommittee estimated that professional gamblers may be evading as much tax liability as $5 billion a year.

As for the gambling tax and stamp act, McClellan said, "It seems a kind of mockery on our part to keep a law like this on the books and not enforce it."

Caplin told the subcommittee the Treasury Department and his agency are considering proposals for tightening up the law. But he and his IRS aides shied away from recommending proposals, for or against, to legalize telephone wiretapping in their investigations.

"That is an extremely sensitive question," said H. Alan Long, director of the IRS intelligence division, which enforces the law.

McClellan's subcommittee, in the second day of a new inquiry, questioned Caplin and aides on how hoodlums cheat on taxes and prey on race tracks. The hearing is aimed at helping Congress to decide whether any new laws are needed to combat racketeers.

Ranger Ejected, Doesn't Travel Distance Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The first American "space platform" was fired into orbit and it in turn launched a second satellite Wednesday, but failed to send it deep into space as planned.

Despite the partial failure, scientists were heartened by some valuable data they were receiving from the experiment, whose revolutionary techniques may some day guide man to the moon and beyond.

Whirling around the globe every 91 minutes were the 1,400-pound Agena space platform and the complex 675-pound piggyback payload named Ranger I. They were very close together in space, in orbits ranging from 105 to 312 miles above the earth.

It was at first thought they had failed to separate and were locked together in their spins around the globe. However, analysis of radio data showed the pair of space travelers apparently did kick apart.

The mystery was why Ranger did not fly into a gigantic, cigar-shaped orbit covering a million miles each round trip.

Engine Shutdown Indicated

Once it settled into orbit, the Agena was intended to fire its big engine for 1½ minutes to accelerate the speed from 17,400 to about 23,800 miles an hour. Then Ranger was to break away on its high-flying course.

Best estimate is that the Agena engine ignited only briefly, then shut down inexplicable. When Ranger received the ignition cut-off signal it apparently separated automatically—but its speed had not been increased by the suspected brief ignition and it continued on almost an identical orbit path as Agena, slightly in front.

Officials of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which developed Ranger, said the heart of the complicated spacecraft—a unique attitude stabilization system that seeks the sun — was working perfectly under unexpected conditions.

"If the launching had been normal," one of the project men reported, "the spacecraft would be high above the earth and the attitude stabilization device would be able at all times to lock on to the sun and keep the vehicle on the proper course.

In Darkness Half The Time

"But in the near-earth orbit attained," he explained, "the craft is in sunlight half the time and in darkness the other half. During the sunlight portion of the orbit, our radio information tells us that the system is locking onto the sun perfectly.

"In the dark portion, the system tries desperately to find the sun which is impossible to locate. The nitrogen jets which take their commands from the system are puffing away trying to orient the vehicle toward the sun. Once it returns to sunlight, they zero in on the sun once again."

This was the first flight test of this system, which may be the basis for helping guide future unmanned and manned packages to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Some other instruments also were working. But those designed to gather information about radiation and other conditions in far space were nearly useless because of the near earth orbit.

Troops Move To Positions Along Border

Allies Show Force As Crisis In Berlin Reaches New Pitch

BERLIN (AP) — Western forces squared off Wednesday with a show of tanks and troops facing fenced-in East Berlin in a quick reaction to new Communist restrictions on entry into their sector.

U.S., British and French commanders rushed tanks and soldiers with bayonets to the barricades dividing Berlin after the East German government reduced entry points from 12 to seven—six for Germans and one for foreign personnel.

Denouncing the Communist action as illegal effrontery and a "brutal and callous" oppression of the German population, the commandants said they were assuring the "security and integrity" of West Berlin.

U.S. Patton tanks, a machine gun squad and jeeps moved to the Friedrichstrasse Gate, the crossing point that the East Germans said foreigners, including Allied military and diplomatic personnel, must use.

Guns Point At Red Offices

U.S. tank guns pointed directly at the former Air Ministry of Nazi Reichminister Hermann Goering, now the offices of many East German officials.

The British sent a company of about 120 infantrymen with mortars and antitank guns to the Brandenburg Gate, the walled-off former symbol of German unity.

French armored personnel carriers, jeeps and radio cars patrolled the French sector.

Both the British and Americans took up positions well within a 328-foot-wide strip on the west side of the border which the Communists had proposed as a no-man's land to keep East and West Berliners from fraternizing over the fence.

Reds Show Agitation

The Allied action caused an agitated movement of light artillery pieces and several squadrons of armored cars of the East German people's police on the East side of the border. Communist frontier guards appeared disturbed.

But there were no incidents. Allied officers kept a tight rein on their disciplined troops, and Communist police and militia maintained an equally alert but correct attitude.

It seemed evident, however, that the 10-day-old Berlin crisis had mounted to a new pitch.

Two Soviet officers who came through the designated gate for foreigners were targets of a crowd of 500 West Berliners shouting, "Ivan go home."

American military police, with rifles across their chests, pushed the crowd back when it reached within a yard of the canvas-topped Soviet car.

Ex-Con Quizzed In Murder Case

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—An ex-convict described by the district attorney as a prime suspect was jailed Wednesday for further questioning in the strangling of Louise Temple, a brunette divorcee who sold real estate.

Mrs. Temple had shown the man, Charles Trudeau, 50, of Syracuse, a fancy ranch-type home in the suburbs just before she vanished Friday.

Her body, clad in a pink dress, was found Tuesday night stuffed in the trunk of her sedan, which was parked in a hospital lot.

Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan said Trudeau, who has a record dating to 1928, had slight scratches on his hand and a mark on his face. Flesh particles found under Mrs. Temple's fingernails were to be analyzde.

The heavy-set Trudeau, balding and a pipe clenched in his teeth, was taken to jail as a parole violator.

Navy To Add 2,000 Civilian Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Wednesday it is adding about 2,000 civilian employes at installations of its Bureau of Weapons.

This is part of a 10,000-man civilian buildup at various defense activities.

The announcement said the 2,000 figure is "an initial increase," adding that as more firm schedules for carrying out the military program are developed "substantial adjustments will be made."

Big Battle Over Filibuster Curbs Looms In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) —Senate leaders are getting set for what is expected to be the last big battle of this session—a proposal to change the rule dealing with filibusters.

The Senate Rules Committee has cleared for floor action, sometime in the indefinite future, a proposal under which three-fifths of the senators voting could end a debate.

The present rule, under which senators have been able to talk legislation to death in the past, requires a two-thirds majority of the senators present and voting to shut off debate.

That means 67 votes are needed to choke off a filibuster if all 100 senators are present. Under the proposed three-fifths rule only 60 votes would be needed if all 100 members were present.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, told newsmen Tuesday the rules change issue will be the last piece of business taken up before adjournment, whenever that is.

There has been some talk of trying to adjourn around the middle of September.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., attacked the rules change proposal as an effort to gag and muzzle senators from the South and less populous states.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., told the Senate he would offer a substitute which would enable even fewer senators to end a debate. Keating favors cutting the number needed down to a bare majority of 51.

Fanatic Sought In Goya Theft

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard—baffled by theft of the $392,000 Goya portrait of Wellington—turned their inquiry Wednesday night to Britain's art cranks. It was noted that one of history's most sensational art thefts—that of the Mona Lisa from the Louvre—was done by a fanatic.

Detectives said they were convinced that either a sensation-seeker or a fanatic took the world-famous painting of the Iron Duke from its easel Monday night and whisked it through the gallery's tight security screen.

But these were only theories. The fact: Nearly two days after the theft, Britain's top detective agency did not know who took the 19th-century masterpiece or what happened to it.

The British meanwhile bewailed the loss of the portrait, which is considered a national treasure. It was not insured.

Investigators theorized that the thief hid in the gallery after closing Monday, then sneaked out and grabbed the painting and returned to his hiding place. Then, when the gallery filled with visitors Tuesday morning, he walked out with it.

The painting is on a 25½-by-20½ inch hard panel that cannot be rolled up, but is small enough to go into an oversize briefcase or under a topcoat.

But on the remote chance that the thief hid the painting in the gallery, investigators pried up the floorboards of the classic-style structure on Trafalgar Square.

Some even crawled down a narrow air vent, but found nothing. Guards posted at airfields and ports amid speculation the theft was part of a pattern of recent big-time art thefts from the Riviera to Pittsburgh, Pa., also reported no success.

Pressman Asks Compact Delay

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Baltimore attorney asked Maryland's congressional delegation Wednesday to withhold any action on the Potomac River Compact which would "interfere with the (Maryland) watermen getting their final day in court."

Atty. Hyman Pressman made the request in letters sent to Maryland's two senators and the state's seven members of the House.

Pressman said the watermen had asked him to convey "their feeling of outrage against Gov. Tawes for his having jumped the gun in calling the Maryland congressional delegation to a conference to arrange for the introduction of legislation for the ratification of the compact."

News reports earlier this week, Pressman said, indicated Tawes and Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan hoped to have a bill introduced in Congress before the last deadline for a continued legal challenge of the compact.

"My clients feel very strongly that the governor's action is not only presumptuous but is an affront to the judiciary," the letters said. "We had expected the governor to let the case run its legal course to a final conclusion before making any move toward congressional action."

Tawes Testifies At Baltimore "Block" Probe

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Gov. J. Millard Tawes arrived here promptly at 6 o'clock Wednesday night to testify at a special grand jury investigating activities in Baltimore's night club district.

Tawes was met as he left his car by Paul Welsh and J. W. Toohey, members of the special grand jury. The governor was accompanied by Judge Michael J. Manley, now sitting in Criminal Court here.

Earlier, State Sen. George W. Della, D-Balto. 6th, spent 30 minutes before the jury discussing possible corrective legislation.

He said any new laws needed to correct abuses uncovered in the probe would have to wait the 90-day session of the legislature in 1963.

"It is logical that all such legislation would effect only Baltimore city. The Court of Appeals has already ruled only bills affecting the entire state, together with financial statutes and extreme emergency bills, can be considered at the short, 30-day session held in even years," Della, state Senate president, said.

State's Atty. Saul A. Harris said abuses uncovered related to the bail bond business, female night club sitters, "and the like."

Harris said he hoped the grand jury would take some action by the weekend. His assistants have been reviewing for the past two weeks evidence given by more than 100 witnesses. The current session of the jury retires early next month.

11 Killed In Crash Of Yugoslav Trains

BELGRADE (UPI) — At least 11 persons were killed Wednesday when a crack passenger train collided with a freight train outside the Breska station between Belgrade and Novi-Sad.

Still incomplete reports said at least 50 persons were injured, and 17 were in "critical state," according to the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug.

Reds Have Right To Close Border, Nehru Declares

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said Wednesday the Russians have a perfect legal right, granted to them in 1949 by the Western Allies, to close the East Berlin border.

Nehru gave his interpretation of the current Berlin crisis to the Indian Parliament.

He said a Big Four foreign ministers' agreement on June 20, 1949, "diluted" the protocol of Sept. 12, 1944, which set up joint occupation of Berlin.

Joint occupation was ended under the 1949 agreement and gave all parties, including the Soviets, the right to control traffic in their respective sectors, according to Nehru.

Butler Brands Equality Drive As "Meddling"

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's senior senator, John Marshall Butler, Wednesday described the federal government's attempt to end discrimination along U. S. 40 as "meddling."

"A man engaged in private business in which there is no public money has a right to conduct that business as he sees fit," Butler a Republican said.

African diplomats, since the first of the year, have been refused service in many restaurants along U. S. 40 between here and the Delaware Memorial Bridge, some 24 miles to the northwest.

Earlier this week, White House and State Department officials said a campaign would begin after Labor Day in an effort to end all discrimination along the heavily-traveled highway.

The officials refused to reveal the particulars of the programs but said it would be carried out together with Maryland officials and would be aimed at the grass roots.

"I definitely do not think it's a good idea," Sen. Butler said of the proposed campaign. "It's not the business of the federal government."

Pedro San Juan, assistant chief of protocol at the State Department, had said the incidents involving the diplomats have been extremely harmful to the nation's foreign relations.

"The country may receive a bad image in a number of ways," Butler said, "but that doesn't mean the citizen should lose his rights.

"I think that if a businessman's outlook is such that he wants to exclude these people, he has the perfect right to do so," the senator said.

American Coal Will Be Shipped To W. Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House Wednesday announced a move to help depressed American coal mines by giving them orders to supply U. S. military needs for coal and coke in West Germany.

The Defense Department in the past has purchased coal and coke from foreign producers, and generally from sources in West Germany.

Meyer Feldman, special assistant to President Kennedy, said 440,000 tons of anthracite coal and coke will be purchased next month from American producers.

He estimated the fuel will cost about $10.8 million delivered in West Germany and said the same amount could have been purchased abroad for just over $8 million.

The White House announcement said "it is likely that most of the coal and coke requirements will be filled by mines and firms located in labor surplus areas of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Alabama, Arkansas and Oklahoma."

Next year the Defense Department plans to purchase even more coal from American sources. This year's purchases will be on a reduced level because of the needed coal and coke for the year already has been ordered abroad.

Feldman said that perhaps the most important reason underlying the policy change is the continuing deficit in the U. S. balance of international payments. By placing orders here, the Pentagon will reduce the flow of dollars abroad and lessen the deficit, running so far this year at an annual rate of about $1.5 billion.

Feldman said a desire to help depressed American coal mines is "almost equally important."

Second Bay Bridge Study Continuing

BALTIMORE (AP)—The chief engineer of the State Roads Commission said Wednesday no conclusions have been reached in a study on the possibility of building a second bridge across Chesapeake Bay.

The engineer, David Fisher, said the study is still underway and no conclusions have been reached.

Fisher made his comments after Sen. Fred C. Malkus Jr., D-Dorchester, asked the SRC for a report on the study, called for in a Senate resolution passed at the 1961 General Assembly.

Fisher said he had not yet seen Malkus' letter.

Malkus said the present bridge facilities are "inadequate." He cited a traffic jam at the span last Sunday.

At the same time, Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein suggested to the roads commission that more toll booths might ease congestion on the bridge.

Castro Speech Slated

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro will make a speech Sunday to discuss the shortages of various articles in Cuba, the government announced.

Arrives In Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI) — Assistant Secretary of State for Africa G. Mennen Williams arrived Wednesday for a five-day tour of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland. He was met at the airport by American consul General John K. Emerson and other American diplomats and their wives, as well as a crowd of government officials.

Confirms Nominations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed President Kennedy's nomination of three members of the advisory board of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. Approved without dissent were the nominations of: Paul M. Butler of Indiana; Thomas P. McMahon of New York, and Dr. N. R. Danielian of Maryland.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Does your list of emergency numbers include the phone number of your local poison control center?

If not—look it up today. Add it to the page in your phone book where you post the telephone numbers of the fire and police departments.

The Public Health Service (PHS) reports that such centers now are spread throughout the nation. They operate in all states except Vermont and Montana, according to the PHS.

The idea for poison control centers started in 1953 in Chicago.

The centers maintain records of ingredients of trade-name products plus antidotes. This information is available to physicians by telephone day or night.

Parents who call the centers are given first-aid instructions and are advised to call their doctor.

The local centers regularly tune in the National Clearinghouse for poison control centers—obtaining information on new products. The information is supplied by manufacturers of products containing hazardous substances.

More than 200 major producers of drugs and household products regularly inform the clearinghouse of the ingredients their products contain and the antidotes to be used in case of accidental ingestion.

The National Clearinghouse, directed by the PHS division of accident prevention is headed by Assistant Surgeon General A. L. Chapman.

"Because many parents do not recognize the poisonous qualities of many common products, they sometimes delay too long before calling a physician," Dr. Chapman said.

"Many serious consequences of poisoning could be prevented if parents called physicians promptly without waiting for symptoms to appear."

The PHS reports that the Hazardous Substances Labeling Act, when in full operation, should facilitate the work of the poison control centers.

The new law, enacted by Congress last year and administered by the Food and Drug Administration, requires that safety information be given on labels of household chemical products, including the identity of hazardous ingredients, antidotes for toxic substances.

The law further requires that the labels contain warnings and precautions needed for safe use.

Earthquake Reported

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet news agency Tass reported that an earthquake of about 6 on a scale of 10 was registered near Stalinbad early Wednesday. Buildings were shaken by two strong underground tremors, but there were no casualties and no serious damage was reported. Stalinbad is 1,900 miles southeast of Moscow, in the Tadzhik Soviet Socialist Republic.

Lawrence Russell Ice Jr. Weds Patricia Ann Flowers

Miss Patricia Ann Flowers, daughter of Mrs. Henry Jacoby, Marietta, Ohio, and the late Ernest G. Flowers, became the bride of Lawrence Russell Ice Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. Russell Ice, formerly of Cumberland, August 6. The double ring ceremony was solemnized in Grace Gospel Church, Marietta, Ohio, with the father of the bridegroom officiating.

Miss Alyce Jo Flowers was her sister's maid of honor; while Miss Sue Pape and Miss Nancy Kendall were bridesmaids. Margaret Mullenix, a niece of the bride, was flower girl and William Beeney Jr., a nephew, ring bearer. William Ice was his brother's best man; James Flowers, Thomas Tucker and Rodger Rinker, Cumberland, cousin of the bridegroom, ushers. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Clyde Leasure Jr.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and candles with palms were used in the decorations. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Society Plans Project

The WSCS of Murley's Branch Church formulated plans to make apple butter again this fall. Orders may be placed with any member. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning.

The group listened to recordings of "Come Thou Almighty King," "Holy, Holy, Holy," and sang "Onward Christian Soldiers." Mrs. Helen Wilson conducted devotions, "A Council of Churches." The hostess read the Scripture. All took part in the lesson on "World Council of Churches."

Mrs. Richard Yonker conducted the business session. Routine reports were given. It was announced that the September meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Margaret Blubaugh, with devotions by Mrs. Browning. Following a benediction, a social hour was held. Ten members and one guest attended.

Bride-Elect Is Entertained

Mrs. A. E. Beaulieu Jr. was hostess for a personal and linen shower in honor of her niece, Miss Mary Barbara Joyce, fiancee of James L. Monahan of Baltimore. It was held at her home, Columbia Avenue, Saturday, using a pink and white color scheme.

The marriage of Miss Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cessna, 508 Woodside Avenue, to Mr. Monahan, son of Mrs. Evelyn Monahan, Baltimore, will be performed September 2 in St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church, Baltimore.

Appropriate games featured the entertainment.

Committee Named

Mrs. Clair Flora conducted the meeting of the Women's CTP Monday evening at the Legion post, and appointed Mrs. Pauline Shaffer chairman for the September meeting. Serving with her will be Mrs. Chloe Reynolds and Mrs. Margaret Baker.

The invocation was offered by Mrs. Catherine Wilson. Mrs. Baker reported Mrs. Mary Schultz ill in Sacred Heart Hospital; Mrs. Myrtle Youngblood, in Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Hattie Carnell, ill at home. Mrs. Myrtle Brode was in charge of the social hour and Mrs. Anna Morin served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Chester Brant.

AAUW Board Outlines Program, Plans For Year

Plans for the year were discussed at a meeting of Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women board Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard L. Tolson, president, Braddock Road.

The general plan includes starting two new study groups, one concerning problems of the consumer and the other on investments. Like all AAUW study groups, these will be open to nonmembers as well as members, Mrs. Milton Bernstein will make preliminary plans for the study of investments; and Mrs. Aden Everstine, consumer problems. This will concern government services on behalf of consumers, legislation protecting consumers, and a private concern, American Standards Association, which has set up an advisory committee on ultimate consumer goods. Representatives of national AAUW are among those serving on this committee. The Great Books group will continue, under the direction of Mrs. Milton Granet.

An art show is planned for March, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Winer, art chairman. A United Nations tour will be conducted for high school students in November under the direction of Miss Lillian Boughton, higher education chairman. Mrs. William VanNewkirk will have charge of the College Night and develop plans for it in the spring.

It was decided to accept the invitation of the house and garden committe of Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch to place an entry in the flower show September 19 at Frostburg.

Meeting programs for the year were outlined by Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, vice president and program chairman. The theme is "Patterns for Education in Keeping with AAUW Purpose." The first will be an all day meeting and picnic September 9 at the summer home of Mrs. Tolson, Deep Creek Lake. The October meeting will be jointly with the other two branches in the Western Maryland Inter-Branch Council, details to be announced. Education Week will be observed in November with two events, one a tea, honoring teachers and prospective members. The chairman for this is Mrs. James Lutton. It will be at the home of Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, Schley Street. The other will be a dinner at the Cumberland Country Club, with a program concerning the new Allegany Community College.

The December meeting will be on the 13th at the home of Mrs. William Frailey, The Dingle. The program will be planned by the arts group. In February the program will be on guidance services, under the direction of Miss Betty Flake, chairman of the elementary and secondary education committee. International relations will be the topic for the March meeting.

April 14 will be an all-day meeting and will be a mass media workshop, planned by Miss Gerardine Pritchard, chairman of the mass media committee. It will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, with lunch in the middle of the day. May 12 will be a luncheon meeting at the Cumberland Country Club. The program will be on modern dance and drama in education, under the direction of Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard. June will be a garden party at the home of Mrs. Milton Beneman, Luteman Road. Miss Nan Livingstone, hospitality chairman, will arrange the socials.

Bridge Winners Announced

With a score of 132½, Miss Rose Jackson and Miss Louise Zihlman, playing North-South, topped the field in the Potomac Valley Bridge Club master point game Tuesday evening. The game was at the Woman's Civic Club house, with nine tables in play and an average score of 108. Mrs. Barnet Leibowitz and A. J. Feigus scored 128½; Mrs. Harvey Aronson, Mrs. John Laughlin, 116½; S. Russ Minter and John R. Wilkinson, 113.

East-West winners were L. G. Trimmier, Robert Stafford, 120½; Mrs. Roy Drumm, Hugo Keller, 112; Mrs. James Hugglestone, Mrs. Trimmier, 111½; Mrs. A. J. Feigus and Edgar J. Dawson, 111.

The Western Maryland Bridge Club game will be tonight at 8 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Programs Outlined

Program books for the sorority year were distributed by Mrs. Dwight Hovis at the meeting of Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Panner, Hawthorne Heights, Keyser. Programs dealing with "Beauty of Home, Self and Life," will be given by members.

Mrs. Thomas Ansel presided and announced the first activity will be the annual "rushing". Ideas for "money-makers" were discussed by Mrs. Lewis Lemon. Mrs. Kenneth Chambers outlined social activities. The next meeting will be September 11.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Panner.

Miss Mary Rebecca Hall of Rockville is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodloe Jackson, this city.

Hymn Sing To Be Held Sunday

Plans for a hymn sing and a study class were formulated at a meeting of the Woman's Society of World Service of Calvary EUB Church, held at the home of Mrs. Grace Bardy, Bedford Road, following a picnic.

The hymn sing will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in Calvary Church, Mary Street, with other churches participating in the program. Mrs. Lottie Richards has charge of the program and Eugene Myers will direct the music.

The study class will be held at First EUB Church in conjunction with Calvary, Bethel and First. It will be September 17.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Aurora Roby and the group sang, "Day Is Dying in the West," and "For God So Loved the World." Other members present were Mrs. Lena Scarlett, Mrs. Blanch Erichsen, Mrs. Helen Whitacre and Miss Mabel England. Guests were Christine Erichsen, Herbert Erichsen and Wayne Brady.

Discuss Bazaar

Plans to begin making articles for the church bazaar, November 2, were formulated at the picnic-meeting of the Dorcas Bible Class of Emmanuel Methodist Church, held at Constitution Park.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Louise McClay. Others present were Mrs. Cecelia Kreiger, Mrs. Bessie Keller, Mrs. Dora Richards, Mrs. Annie Zimmerly, Mrs. Florence Crites, Mrs. Ada Parker and Rev. Harold McClay.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Chandler, Westfield, N. J., have returned home after having visited Mrs. John W. Jackson, Lonaconing, and Mrs. Chandler's sister, Mrs. J. Goodloe Jackson, this city.

Clifton Jeffries Heads Local Kennel Club

Clifton D. Jeffries of Frostburg, was elected president of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club for 1961-62. Other officers are Earl Smith, Lonaconing, vice president; Mrs. Harold Meek, Vale Summit, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Smith, Lonaconing secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Harvey Ware, Cumberland; Gerald Arthur, Cumberland and Dr. Charles B. Hoelzel, Bowling Green.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held at the Gunter Hotel, Frostburg, August 31 at 8 p. m. Committee appointments will be made at that time.

Plans are being formulated for a "Fun Match" to be held October 22. It was pointed out that such a match affords an opportunity for local owners of purebred dogs to try showing them, for many "excellent specimens have been found among family pets." The club urges all owners of purebred dogs to bring them to the match. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Jeffries, OV 9-9888, or Mrs. Smith, HO 3-8784.

Fall obedience training classes are to begin soon. Anyone interested in joining the class is asked to contact any member of the club, Mr. Jeffries or Mrs. Smith.

Plans also are being discussed for the ninth annual All Breed Show, to be held by the club May 20. The date and judges have been approved by the American Kennel Club. This year obedience trials will be an added feature. It also was decided that if those people who have attended previous obedience classes sponsored by the club are interested in a brush-up course, it will be offered.

Thirty persons attended the annual picnic of the club, held at Mr. Jeffries' cottage on the Casselman River.

Northrop Nominated For Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Wednesday nominated Sen. Edward S. Northrop, majority leader in the Maryland Senate, as a U. S. district judge.

Congress has voted two new judgeships for the court in Baltimore, where members of the State Bar say the caseload ranks second or third highest among all similar federal courts in the nation.

If Northrop's nomination to the life-time post is confirmed by the Senate, court officials said he will become the first Democrat since Civil War days to ascend the federal bench in Maryland.

There has been no indication when the second judge will be named. The U. S. District Court for Maryland now is headed by Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen. Northrop would join judge Thomsen and Judge R. Dorsey Watkins as a regular member of the bench.

In addition, Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, although well past 80 years of age and in "qualified retirement," also serves on the federal bench at Baltimore.

Northrop, 50-year-old lawyer of Chevy Chase, has been a state senator since 1955, and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and majority floor leader since 1959. He practices law in Rockville and Washington.

His name was not on the list endorsed by the Maryland State Bar Association, but was submitted to the Department of Justice by some of his Washington-area lawyer friends.

The annual salary of a U. S. district judge is $22,500.

Fight Foiled

THONON, France (UPI)— Ex-King Farouk of Egypt got into a heated dispute with a bus driver, a group of tourists, and their guide Tuesday after his car brushed against the guide. Farouk drove grandly on, according to the tourists, and the driver gave chase, catching up with Farouk as he was about to cross the border into Switzerland. He gave Farouk a piece of his mind. Police arrived in time to prevent a fight.

Heavy Rains Drench State

By The Associated Press

Heavy rain drenched sections of Maryland Wednesday, and the Weather Bureau said additional soakings can be expected into Friday.

By mid-afternoon Wednesday, 1¼ inch of rain had fallen at Baltimore where the official measurement was taken at the Weather Bureau station at Friendship International Airport.

The downfall began during the early morning hours, and continued throughout the day.

In Harford County at Benton, nearly three-quarters of an inch of rain had fallen before the afternoon showers added to the total.

Some sections of Southern Maryland reported more than half an inch of rainfall during the same period.

The weathermen blamed the rain on a strong flow of moist air swept aloft by moist southerly winds high above the Eastern Seaboard.

No significant change in the weather pattern was in sight for the next 24 hours, the Weather Bureau said Wednesday. However, the bureau's five-day forecast held out hope for clearing weather for the weekend.

Temperatures for the next five days are expected to be about normal for this time of the year.

Maryland Briefs

CHILLUM, Md. (AP) — Police reported Wednesday the theft of 30 revolvers and 28 boxes of ammunition from a hardware store here. The weapons were valued at $724 and the ammunition at $123, police said.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Injuries suffered in a fall from an overpass to a roadway below caused the death of Patrick McLaughlin, 20, of Baltimore. McLaughlin suffered head injuries in the fall 10 days ago, and died Monday night in a hospital here.

SALISBURY (AP) — Two counterfeit $20 bills, apparently passed in taverns here, have been turned over to Salisbury police.

Police Chief William J. Chatham said the latest of the phony bills was turned in by a beer distributor, who found it among receipts he collected on Tuesday.

Police received the first of the two bills Monday from a Salisbury bank, where it had been deposited among weekend collections from a tavern.

The police chief said the bills bore markings similar to counterfeit $20 bills recovered by federal agents last week in Virginia.

"We have one inclement weather plan—raincoats."

The wet weather gear was donned by all the guardsmen here and at Camp Pickett to the south, where the division's artillery and armored units are conducting exercises and firing drills.

The division is scheduled to complete its summer training Saturday.

State's Traffic Toll 67 Below Last Year

By The Associated Press

Two more deaths as the result of highway accidents have raised Maryland's 1961 motoring fatality toll to 265, a total 67 below the figure at the same time a year ago.

A 16-year-old Bethesda youth, William Henry Baltz, was killed Tuesday night when the car in which he was riding alone skidded off Rosebank Road in St. Marys County and hit a tree. The wreckage was not discovered until Wednesday morning.

Earlier Tuesday, 78-year-old Nils Gustafson of Edgewood died in a Baltimore hospital of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car Aug. 8.

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—Maryland traffic accidents followed a familiar 1961 pattern during July —less deaths and more injuries.

State Police reported Wednesday that 30 persons died and 2,397 were injured during July, compared with 36 deaths and 2,322 personal injuries during July 1960.

For the first seven months of the year the number of fatalities (230) declined 25 per cent, while the injuries (14,141) increased by two per cent.

University Hall on the Brown campus was used as a barracks by American and French trops during the American Revolution.

NASA Seeks Site For Moon Shot Lab

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) planned Tuesday to locate its $60 million moon shot headquarters in a state that offers a year-round mild climate.

NASA, in listing its essential requirements for the manned space flight laboratory, listed as mandatory a mild climate permitting year-round, ice-free water transportation and out - of - door work most of the year.

These criteria indicated that NASA will pick a site in the South, Southwest or West Coast and has ruled out bids by such Northern states as Massachusetts and Ohio.

Site selection teams this week started looking at possible locations in Florida, Louisiana, and Texas.

Other essential criteria listed by NASA included:

— Capability to transport by barge, large, cumbersome space vehicles to and from water shipping.

—Availability of a first - class all-weather commercial jet service airport and a defense department air base in the vicinity capable of handling high - performance military planes.

— An existing, well-established industrial complex to support a research and development activity of high scientific and technical content and capable of fabricating pilot models of large spacecraft.

— A well - established supply of construction contractors and building trades and craftsmen to permit rapid construction of facilities without premium labor costs.

—Nearness to a culturally attractive community and close proximity to a college and university specializing in the basic sciences and space related graduate and post-graduate education and research.

At least 1,000 acres and enough room to expand.

Desirable, but not essential prerequisites included:

— Compatibility of the laboratory with regional plans and a community capable of absorbing the increased population.

—Reasonably adequate facilities for the temporary use of up to 1,500 people in the same general area as the permanent site.

Ghana Gets Loan

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI)—Communist China has agreed to make Ghana a $19.6 million 10-year loan without interest and with no strings attached, the government announced Tuesday. A spokesman said the loan was part of a 20-year trade agreement under which Communist China also will supply technical assistance to Ghana.

More Scientific Thinking Urged By Psychologist

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — A federally financed program to improve high school science teaching is failing to guide teachers to the most meaningful kind of instruction for youngsters who will not become scientists.

That is the conclusion of a University of Colorado psychologist, Dr. Howard Gruber, based on a study of fellows in the National Science Foundation' Academic Year Institutes during 1958-59.

What the student should be getting and isn't, he said, is an understanding of the scientific process as a means of inquiry and a way of thought.

Gruber's report, covering 314 fellows in nine of the 15 universities in which the institutes were held, found that at the end of their academic year only 25 per cent of the teachers could be rated as "strong" in their concern for such teaching.

He expressed particular concern that the more experienced the teacher the more he appeared likely to rely on teaching science only as established facts and doctrines.

The psychologist said his study was directed to "one central preoccupation, the hope that science may someday be taught in such a way that a very broad section of the educated public will understand the scientific process in its most exciting and most characteristic aspect, as a way of intellectual life.

"The crystallized products of science are easy enough for the layman to see ... Beyond this, the educated public certainly has some sense of the sweep of established scientific ideas and the power of abstract theories to influence practical inventions. This is a very great achievement of public education ...

"Nevertheless, the goal of teaching scientific ways of thinking through the teaching of science still seems most intangible, difficult to define, and difficult to invest with practical pedagogical form. And yet it is this aspect of science, science as a way of thought and inquiry, that is most likely to be of value in the long run, especially to the educated but non-scientist public."

Gruber noted some differences between programs at various universities for the students, all of whom were experienced high school teachers.

The three institutes whose students rated highest on his "teaching scientific thought" scale required the lowest number of hours of regular course work per week. He said it apperred the most valuable program is one that treats its fellows "in a mature way, allowing time for discussion of ideas and opportunity for individual selection of courses, and avoiding overdoses of scholastic busy-work."

Successful Ex-Topkick Forms Exclusive Club

LONDON (AP)—A wartime sergeant who started from scratch and made more than a million pounds—$2,800,000—said today he has formed a club of successful ex-topkicks.

He is Walter Flack who got out of Britain's famous 8th Army at the end of World War II. With a small army gratuity, he entered the real estate business and cleaned up.

"This club is my answer to people who keep recalling that I was a sergeant—as if that meant I was some kind of bonehead who could only sign X as my signature," he said.

"I know of several company directors in this country prominent lawyers and sporting celebrities who will be eligible to join. There are probably hundreds of others we don't know about."

Small, Wooden Boats Hold Big Place In Navy

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Small wooden vessels, without guns and no longer than a good-sized cabin cruiser, have taken an important place in today's Navy.

Because of their size and the fact that their wooden hulls are non-magnetic, these 57-foot boats are able to do a better job in keeping harbors free of mines than their larger, metal-hulled brothers.

These boats carry the official designation of mine sweeping boats (MSB) and carry a crew of six. The commanding office is an enlisted man of the rank of Chief Petty Officer, First Class Petty Officer or Second Class Petty Officer.

Officers at headquarters of the Mine Force of the Pacific Fleet here say taking over as skipper of an MSB is one of the most sought after duties of petty officers.

Although small in size, the MSB's have a built-in range of almost 2,000 miles. Their equipment is the same standard minesweeping gear used by even the largest ocean minesweepers.

A fully loaded MSB displaces 44 tons.

The MSB was designed by the Navy in 1953.

The job of a skipper or crewman aboard a MSB is dangerous because of the close-in area in which they operate and the ever-present threat of striking a mine.

Before a petty officer is given his command his great responsibility to the giant warships of the fleet is drilled into him. He is taught that it is his responsibility to make the waters near shore safe for aircraft carriers, nuclear submarines and guided missile ships of the fleet.

"It's very rewarding duty," says Chief Boatswains' mate Wesley A. Schultz, a veteran of 19 years in the Navy, who has been assigned to the Pacific Fleet Mine Force since 1950.

"When you are out to sea you are the boss. But most of all you have a feeling of accomplishment. You know what to do at any given time. Being skipper of my boat, the MSB-47, is duty far superior to any prior duty."

NEW YORK (UPI)— Certified Industries, Inc., Tuesday announced the acquisition of Northern Lightweight Aggregate, Inc., of Cohoes, N.Y., in a share-for-share exchange of stock valued in excess of $1 million.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Monsanto Chemical Co. said that its inorganic chemicals division will build a plant at Augusta, Ga. to produce raw materials for the detergent, fertilizer and metal treating industries.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Officials of General Dynamics-Convair announced that the firm will do research on the feasibility of using a magnetohydrodynamic (MHD) engine to propel vehicles through deep space. The National Space Agency awarded a $98,264 contract to the firm for the year-long research program, officials said.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Merger of the City National Bank & Trust Co. and the Continental Illinois National Bank to form the nation's ninth largest bank was announced by the Chicago institutions. Spokesmen said the merger would take effect Sept. 1. The new bank, with combined assets of more than $3.2 billion, will operate under Continental's name, spokesmen said.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The President Tyler, a new 23,000-ton freighter of the American President Lines, entered the line's transpacific service Monday. The $16 million sea racer type vessel was built at Bethlehem shipyard here. Along with her sister ship, the President Lincoln, the Tyler is among the fastest and largest modern freighters on the high seas.

ELGIN, Ill. (UPI)—Elgin National Watch Co. Tuesday said it has received $547,984 in government missile contracts. The contracts call for the production of safety and arming devices used in the Sidewinder, Sparrow and Hawk missiles.

Wall Street Views

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Speculation fever again is rising these days on Wall Street right along with stock prices, now at dizzy heights compared with a year ago.

But so far, the fast-dollar impulse hasn't reached anything near the proportions that worried Stock Exchange officials and government overseers of securities trading last spring.

On the whole, trading volume in recent weeks has been light, prompting one observer to remark that the general public did not participate to any great extent in the upsurge that began a month ago.

"Sometimes, speculative activity in low-priced shares is contagious, just like the measles," said Eldon A. Grimm, a vice president of Walston & Co., brokers.

Grimm traced a recent flurry of interest in "cheap" stocks to heavy dealings in Studebaker-Packard shares that in a few days drove up the per share price from $8 to $12, a 50 per cent increase.

Buyers then flocked to American Motors, selling under $20 at the time, the analyst said, then to Hupp Corp. (selling at under $10) "even though Hupp hasn't manufactured automobiles since the days of Babe Ruth."

In case you don't remember, Hupp used to make the Hupmobile car.

The contagion spread to Hercules Motors, an engine-maker that has lost money in late years and whose securities are depressed in price.

"Meanwhile, the Big Three motor shares, Ford, Chrysler and General Motors, remained relatively dormant, as they await the outcome of the present labor negotiations," Grimm noted.

Big Three shares, all carrying a much steeper price tag obviously had much less attraction to the in-and-out boys.

CUTTING UP AT 78—At an age when most women look for a rocking chair, this 78-year-old climbs out on a limb. She refused to give her name when a photographer found her pruning in Evansville, Ind., but said she had planted the tree herself years ago.

Production Increases

DETROIT (UPI) — The Automobile Manufacturers Association said Tuesday car production in the U.S. last week totaled 17,019 units compared with 21,124 autos assembled the previous week. Truck and bus production last week totaled 12,792 units, up more than 5,500 from the 7,038 trucks and buses built the previous week.

Composes New Work

MOSCOW (UPI) — Composer Aram Khatchaturian has completed two new works, the official news agency Tass said Tuesday. One titled "Ballad About the Homeland", is for bass and symphony orchestra and the other is a piano sonata. The ballad, Katchaturian was quoted as saying, is an anthem expressing pride in his native Armenia.

To shrug away birthdays, put your stretching muscles in good working order and keep them that way.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Grow Younger A S-t-r-e-t-c-h At A Time

Can a mature woman recapture the limber, lithe grace of her youth?

She certainly can, with proper exercise. And what's more, she can fully expect to enjoy the process.

That's because the necessary retraining of her muscles requires no more than stretching, reaching, and loosening of tautness until an enlivening resilience returns. With it comes a wonderful new feeling of well-being, and this begins almost at once. Just try this exercise tonight and see what promise it has for you.

1. Stand erect with your feet together and your arms at your sides. Fling both arms vigorously forward and upward overhead. At the same time, swing one leg straight back from the hip. As you lower your arms with the same powerful swing, swing the leg forward. Keep your elbows and knees straight but not stiff and work up a good momentum for five swings with one leg, then the other.

Now this is just a start, of course. Results don't set in until this exercise becomes a daily habit and you can do ten swings apiece with each leg without stopping. And when you've added a second exercise that goes like this:

2. Crouch down with your knees well bent and together. Curl your trunk forward until your head touches your knees. To balance, touch your hands to the floor. Straighten your legs very gradually, keeping your trunk curled. When your knees are straight, begin to uncurl your trunk, starting at the base of your spine and ending with your shoulders and neck. Then, slowly stretch your arms toward the ceiling. Hold for a count of ten and relax. Three times for this exercise at first, but you can soon increase the number to ten.

Opening Ceremonies Set At Junior College

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes heads the list of dignitaries invited to attend an opening convocation Sept. 17 at the new Anne Arundel Community College.

Tawes, school superintendent Thomas G. Pullen Jr., the county's legislative delegation, the county commissioners and many others have been invited to participate in the opening ceremonies.

College officials said Wednesday that the new junior college has already enrolled 188 students, 106 of them on a full-time basis, and has applications pending from 70 more prospective students.

Classes are scheduled to open Sept. 18.

Two Killed In Riot

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Police fired on partisans of the Najjida party leader Adnan Al-Hakim Wednesday, killing two and wounding three. The demonstrators showed up at the Omar Mosque, where Premier Saeb Salam was at services marking the birthday of the prophet Mohammed. When the demonstrators refused to disperse, police opened fire. Later on crowds set fire to two street cars and attacked a fire brigade.

Psychologists have found a way of judging personality from hand grasps. They have discovered that the way a person grasps a knob, dial or handle can reveal aggression, or the tendency to direct action against people, and deference, or the tendency toward conformity and submission.

Korean Working With Soil Conservation Unit In Romney Section

Sung Ho Lee, a native of Korea, who is employed by the Bureau of Forestry, Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry, in his country, arrived in Romney August 20, where he will work with the Soil Conservation Service until September 2.

He has been in the United States since January on a fellowship given by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

In his work in Korea, he is engaged in nursery operations with regard to the special use of tree species for upper watershed conservation projects and special forest by-products production.

While stationed in Romney, he will work in the field with Soil Conservation technicians and will endeavor to obtain a knowledge of techniques and procedures used in all phases of soil and water conservation.

Ho Lee is a graduate of Seoul National University, Seoul, Korea.

Upon leaving Romney, he will go to Franklin to work, and then will work at Moorefield and Martinsburg. He will return to Romney for another week before his schedule in the Mountain State is completed.

He will report to the Washington Office of the FAO late in September and will return to Korea October 4.

During his time in the United States, Lee has worked in Colorado, Michigan, Mississippi, Georgia and Kentucky.

Workman Crushed

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—A 17-year-old apprentice was crushed to death in the nose wheel housing of a Qantas airliner Wednesday. He was working on the mechanism when the huge jet plane nose settled down on him.

Capital punishment has been in use as long as the history of mankind.

Three Out-Of-State Men Will Face Court Action Here

Sheriff's deputies will go to Manchester, N. H., and Columbus, Ohio in the near future to return three men for court action here.

Authorities in New Hampshire have notified State's Attorney James S. Getty that extradition proceedings against two men who robbed the Allegany Liquor Store, 206 Frederick Street last March of $157 have been processed.

The men, Edmund Leo Vallee and Leonard W. Burnor, were taken into custody in New Hampshire after local authorities received information from two young women who were with the two men at the time.

The two girls will also be brought here as material witnesses in the case.

The third man to be returned here is Albert Samuel Wright, against whom a retainer was placed at the Ohio state penitentiary where he is serving a sentence. The prisoner is to be released September 7.

Wright is one of three men who were arrested here two years ago and tried in Circuit Court on the rare charge of being "rogues and vagabonds."

The case was appealed and Wright was out on bond when he became involved with an infraction of the law in Ohio.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris had sentenced him to two years each on the "rogues and vagabond" charge and also two years for attempted breaking and entering the Montgomery Ward Store here. The sentences will run consecutively and Wright will be taken before the court here for the purpose of having him ordered to the state penitentiary.

Troops For Congo

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—About 1,200 U.N. troops from India, Pakistan and Ceylon are due here next Thursday en route to duty in the Congo, it was officially announced.

Sales Planned For Delinquent Taxes

William B. Orndorff, county tax collector, has conducted tax sales in 11 cases of delinquent taxes and seven more are scheduled soon.

Orndorff said that two of the tax sales affected dwellings and the balance were sales of unimproved acreage or vacant lots. The taxes on these properties had not been paid during the 1959 or 1960 tax years.

The tax collector said he is in the process of arranging tax sales of all properties where the owner has been delinquent for either of the two years mentioned. Notice is given to the delinquent taxpayers whereby they are allowed 60 days to settle the accounts before the properties are advertised for public sale.

Orndorff also announced that August 31 is the last day for county taxpayers to obtain the three per cent discoun on their current taxes. During September there is neither a discount or interest provisio but starting October 1 the county charges one per cent interest on unpaid taxes.

Peanuts ripen below the ground.

MILTON E. ABRAHAM

New Engineer Is Added To Amcelle Staff

The appointment of Milton E. Abraham to the position of senior development engineer was announced yesterday by Hudson Nix, industrial relations manager of the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company. Abraham will head the Yarn Finishes Development Group.

He comes from Cresskill, N. J., where he was manager of research and development for Reheis Company, a cosmetic and pharmaceutical firm. He has also held positions as process engineer and development engineer with Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Company and Takamine Laboratories, a division of Miles Laboratories.

Abraham graduated from City College with a B.S. degree in chemical engineering. He also attended Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, where he attained a master of science degree in chemical engineering and completed the course work for his Ph.D.

He has been active in various civic and technical organizations. Abraham served in the Navy during World War II as a petty officer third class. His wife and two children will move to this area when suitable housing is located.

Minister Has New Hobby In Sculpturing

Rev. J. Harold Mowen, a native of Frostburg, has adopted a hobby which he is pursuing in hope of obtaining "beneficial and spiritual" results.

Father Mowen, pastor of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church in Gettysburg, has taken up sculpturing at Gettysburg College and his first major project is a bronze cover for the church's baptismal font.

Father Mowen is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, and is a former missionary in North Dakota. He has preached several times at Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Cumberland and many times at his native St. John's in Frostburg.

He is a cousin of George A. Ruhl, Mrs. Clifford Goodfellow and Mrs. Raymond Mills of Cumberland.

Father Mowen has been attending Gettysburg College two afternoons a week for the past four years and has made so much progress that he has now completed the model for the font cover which will be cast in bronze when completed.

The four figures on the font are approximately 10 inches high and 15 inches in diameter. They represent "Nicodemus Talking with Our Lord," " "Our Lord embracing children," "Baptism of Our Lord at the hands of John, the Baptist" and the ancient symbols of Christ (the Chi Rho and Alpha and Omega).

Playlot Selects King And Queen

FROSTBURG — Cathy Delaney was chosen queen and James Whetstone, king in the recent election held at the Braddock Playground. Miss Delaney and Mr. Whetstone will be crowned August 30 in a ceremony at the playlot. Crownbearers are Miss Patty Delaney and Michael Brady.

Following the crowning a program entitled, "Holiday U.S.A." will be presented by the children of the park.

Reparations Study

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — A six-man Japanese delegation is here this week to study Burmese reparation claims. Burma has received $200 million in Japanese reparations for World War II losses and seeks an additional $200 million.

Injunction Stands

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals refused Tuesday to vacate an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction which temporarily halted a strike by four maritime unions against shipping lines last July.

The 80-day "cooling off" period enforced by the injunction will end on Sept. 21.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Put down the red carpet and start ringing the bells,—Alice Faye, former comedy queen of the 20th Century-Fox Co., returns to the scene of her stardom to play the mother of Pat Boone and Pamela Tiffin in "State Fair." I can't say I'm surprised at Alice returning to her career, she looks as lovely today as she did when she was making "In Old Chicago," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Rose of Washington Square" and so many others.

Alice has been so happy being Mrs. Phil Harris and the mother of two lovely daughters, she has turned down offer after offer until Charles Brackett, the producer, talked her into doing the remake of the loved Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. What's more she gets Jose Ferrer as her director.

You can bet there will be big celebrating at 20th welcoming Alice home.

Radio is crowding TV for attention and big names for the new season. Bing Crosby has just signed for his 32nd year as a radio star having started his singing show in 1930. As usual, Bing's shows are being written by his old pal Bill Morrow, and he'll have Rosemary Clooney as his co-star on many programs.

Also, many of the commentators who are on TV are being invited to return to radio. I have had several offers but as of now I've said "no." My work, especially my column, does not give me enough time but I'll admit it's a temptation. I love radio and it is having such an upsurge with its keen analysis of news and its fine musical programs.

If Glenn C. House, Jr., attached to the USS Hornet aircraft carrier will communicate with Rock Hudson, he'll hear some very good news. Rock was walking near LaRue's, when he found a check for $104.50 from the U.S. Navy, made out to Glenn House.

Having been in the Navy himself, Rock says he knows what the loss of that pay must mean to the sailor. "I know," Rock said, "If I sent it back to the Navy, Glenn would have to wait till it goes through a lot of red tape, so I turned it over to Jack Diamond, head of the U-I publicity department."

If Glenn will get in touch with U-I, and identify himself, he will get the check immediately.

Human beings have intellectual processes which cannot, in the light of man's present knowledge, be duplicated by any computing device. Among the uniquely human capabilities mentioned by Cornell University scientists are the ability to recognize other people's emotions, ability to dwell upon past and future situations and the experience of beauty and love.

TV EASY WORK—Enid Markey, shown today and as she appeared in silent films, returns to Hollywood after 43 years on the New York stage to star in a TV series. She says the work is easy compared to the rough and tumble early days in Hollywood.

TWIST

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Martin Brandt had been marked for death by the Nazi party until he fled to the United States in 1941. Since then he has played many roles in which he is running from the Nazis.

Things were reversed in Columbia's "Judgment at Nuremberg." In that picture he played a Nazi war criminal who is sentenced to life imprisonment by Spencer Tracy.

Over the world, about 40,000 persons are killed by snake bites every year.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are in our early thirties. When we married we decided we didn't want any children. Neither of us has changed his mind. In fact, the more we see of the spoiled, demanding kids of our friends, the happier we are with our decision.

Invariably, the most neurotic, worn-out mothers are the ones who take me aside and say, "You ought to have two or three little ones." I've often been tempted to tell them that I think they are envious of the orderly, uncomplicated life we lead and I wish they would mind their own business.

Do you feel that every married couple should have children, Ann? To be perfectly frank, we think kids are a pain in the neck.

—HIM AND ME

DEAR HIM AND ME: It takes maturity and unselfishness to be good parents. A couple who considers children "a pain in the neck" could contribute very little to the emotional health of a child. People who feel as you do should not bring children into the world. It's unfair to the kids.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 21-year-old daughter is pretty, and she has an excellent position with a good firm. She has never given us a moment's trouble.

Four months ago she started to go with a man who is in charge of a roaming magazine crew. He had no permanent address and seemed too old and too slick for her. When she began to get phone calls at odd hours (urgent pleas for money) and telegrams asking for "a little financial help" we tried to get her to see that this man wasn't for her.

Well, we've failed. She told us last week that she's going to marry him. He is quitting the crew but has no other job in sight. She plans to keep working and she wants us to repaint her bedroom and buy new furniture so they can live with us. We are heartbroken over this. —M & D

DEAR M & D: Your daughter is of legal age and there's nothing you can do but let her make her own bed. But it doesn't have to be in your home.

Tell the girl if she wants to marry this man she's on her own. It might scare some sense into her head.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Before my husband and I met he was engaged to another girl. He bought her a beautiful diamond ring worth $800. When she left town she took the ring with her. He still owes $300 on the ring.

I work and we split everything fifty-fifty. All the bills are paid from our joint paychecks and we've never had any fights over money. He never mentioned this little $300 debt before we married and I am really put out about it.

Do you think that instead of letting him take a vacation in December I should insist that he work overtime for 18 days and pay that debt off himself? We had planned a little trip together, but I wouldn't mind staying home.

—GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: Marriage is a partnership and that means you both share in the profits and the losses. Consider this a "loss," and pay it off together. He'll think you're a living doll.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How TO BE WELL-LIKED," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND
INVITATION FOR BIDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF DETENTION ROOMS AT THE ALLEGANY COUNTY INFIRMARY, FURNACE STREET EXTENDED, CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 22nd day of September, 1961, at 10:30 a. m., E.D.S.T., by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for work to be done and materials to be used in the construction of Detention Rooms at the Allegany County Infirmary, Furnace Street Extended, Cumberland, Maryland, in accordance with certain Plans and Specifications, dated August 15, 1961, prepared under the supervision of the County Commissioners of Allegany County.

Said Specifications will be available on and after August 22, 1961, at the office of the undersigned Clerk, in the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, to whom requests for additional information should be made. Plans and Specifications may be obtained for bidding purposes from the undersigned Clerk by depositing $15.00 for each set. Full amount of the deposit will be refunded upon return of the Drawings and Specifications unmarred and in good condition within five days of the closing date of the bidding.

Sub-contractors and Material Men may obtain complete sets of documents by depositing $15.00 plus the cost of printing and binding. No partial sets will be issued. The deposit of $15.00 will be returned provided the documents are returned in good condition within five days after closing date of bids.

Plans and Specifications are also obtainable at the office of the Architect, Coble and Burger, Architects, 223 Antietam Street, Hagerstown, Maryland.

Plans and Specifications will also be on file at:

F. W. Dodge, Plan Room, Baltimore, Maryland; Baltimore Building Conference, Baltimore, Maryland.

A lump sum proposal is requested which will include all General Construction, Plumbing, Heating, and Electrical work.

Proposals, to be entitled to consideration, must be made in accordance with the following instructions:

Proposals shall be made upon the forms of proposal provided each Bidder; numbers shall be stated both in writing and in figures, and the completed form shall be without interlineation, alteration or erasure. Bids must be signed in writing by the bidder, or an authorized agent of the bidder. If the bidder is a corporation, the bid shall be signed by a properly authorized officer of the Corporation and the Corporation seal attached. Proposals shall not contain any recapitulation of work to be done. No oral proposals of modification will be considered.

Proposals shall be addressed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, and shall be delivered enclosed in a sealed envelope marked proposal and bearing the title of the work and the name of the Bidder.

Any bulletins issued during the time of bidding are to be covered in the proposal and in closing contract they will become a part thereof.

Either a certified check or a Bidder's Surety Company Bond in the amount of (5%) five percent of the base bid, payable without recourse to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, shall be filed with each bid. Said check or bid bond will be returned to the Bidders immediately upon signing of the contract, in any case not over thirty (30) days after the opening of the bids.

The Bidder whose proposal is accepted by the County Commissioners shall jointly execute with the County Commissioners "The Standard Form of Agreement Between Contractor and Owner for Construction of Buildings" issued by the American Institute of Architects. The successful Bidder shall furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Men's Bond in the full amount of the contract price, said Bonds to be issued by a bonding company licensed to do business in the State of Maryland and to be approved by the County Commissioners of Allegany County.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the opening date.

Evidence of Workmen's Compensation and Public Liability Insurance must be furnished, and the Contractor must comply with all Federal, State and Local regulations.

Labor rates must be figured at prevailing hourly wage rates in the vicinity at the date of the contract and the Contractor, in addition, must comply with the provisions of Section 80 (b) (c) of the Code of Public Local Laws of Allegany County (Everstine's 1955 Edition).

The County Commissioners of Allegany County hereby reserve the right to reject any or all bids or to accept any.

Opening lead: Four of ♥

East displayed great ingenuity in defending against today's three no trump contract, and his timely performance resulted in a four trick defeat.

After South's response of one spade North chose to make a jump rebid in diamonds. Our own preference with the North hand would have been for a jump rebid of two no trump. The hand contains the required 19-20 points in high cards and a six card suit should be no bar to such a rebid. The holding in hearts should be a distinct inducement to North to have his hand led up to. With North as declarer no amount of ingenuity on the part of the defense would have prevented the scoring of game.

South was disinclined to pass his partner's jump rebid. With faith and a touch of hope he tried three no trump.

West opened the four of hearts. East took dummy's king with the ace and cashed the queen. One glance at the imposing dummy made it evident that defeating this contract was no easy task. However, after some thought, East saw a way which offered some hope.

It was apparent that West had the ten of hearts since declarer would have ducked the first trick if he had held that card. Therefore, the problem was to get West in but it had to be done before dummy's diamond suit was established. That South held the spade ace seemed certain, since otherwise he could hardly have enough points for a response.

There was, however, a chance that South did not hold the king of clubs, in which case the contact could be defeated. East therefore played the queen of clubs and sounded declarer's death knell. In a desperate effort declarer tried the diamond finesse and went down to a crushing defeat.

Five Die In Fire

SYDNEY MINES, N.S. (UPI)—Five persons were killed early Tuesday in a fire that destroyed a two-story home in this Cape Breton mining town.

The dead were identified as Gus MacNeil, 78; Mrs. Mary Campbell, 64; and three children, Betty, 18; Tony, 13; and Wanda, 2. The children were wards of the Children's Aid Society and were being cared for by Mrs. Campbell. MacNeil was a boarder in the Campbell home.

The accident death rate in the United States is about 57 for every 100,000 persons a year.

Air Reserve Has Openings In Squadron

The Air Force Reserve has vacancies in the 9212th Recovery Squadron, based at Hagerstown Municipal Airport, according to Col. William B. Curry, commanding officer.

Former Air Force servicemen are particularly needed, the colonel said, although the vacancies are open to personnel of any branch of service who can meet the enlistment criteria.

Training sessions are held one weekend each month, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday. Capt. Willard W. Morley of Frostburg, the squadron education officer, said members of the unit are required to provide their own transportation to and from training session, but that this should be no problem since there are a good many members residing in the Cumberland area.

The most pressing need, Capt. Morley said, is for firefighters and medical personnel, as well as in the squadron's crash and rescue service.

Further information can be secured by calling Capt. Morley at OV 9-5471, or Technical Sgt. Lewis Murphy at the Hagerstown Airport, RE 3-4911, between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Sacred Heart Pre-Admission Service Fast

Sacred Heart Hospital has instituted a pre-admission service for residents of the area, according to Sister Mary Richard, administrator.

The service makes entering the hospital more convenient and eliminates patients, or relatives, being delayed upon entering the institution.

A special telephone headset has been secured for one of the hospital's clerks. As soon as a physician phones for a reservation, the clerk in turn telephones the patient.

The specially designed head piece permits the admitting clerk to type the necessary data required for admission and at the same time answer questions the patient might have relative to entering the hospital.

Thus when the patient arrives, he must only sign the admission papers, receive his plastic identification band and is immediately escorted to his room.

Sister Mary Richard said one of the biggest advantages of the system is that the patient's relatives are able to go directly to the room with the patient instead of being delayed by giving the patient's history.

Break In Water Line Repaired

Water service to Ridgeley was cut off Tuesday night as a result of a serious break in the main line to that community, officials of the City Water Department said.

Residences and places of business were without water from Tuesday evening to about 10:30 a. m. yesterday when repairs were completed.

The break occurred near the George Washington Crossing Bridge, and was first reported last weekend. The exact location of the break could not be immediately determined, but when it was located emergency crews worked "round the clock" until repairs were made.

Plagued Day And Night with Bladder Discomfort?

Unwise eating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations — making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. And if restless nights, with nagging backache, headache or muscular aches and pains due to over-exertion, strain or emotional upset, are adding to your misery—don't wait—try Doan's Pills.

Doan's Pills act 3 ways for speedy relief. 1 — They have a soothing effect on bladder irritations. 2 — A fast pain-relieving action on nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 3 — A wonderfully mild diuretic action thru the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. New, large economy size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Youths Sentenced In Theft

Two local youths were sentenced yesterday by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in the theft of approximately $1,300 from Barton's Dairy in June this year.

Gary Leon Canfield, 16, was placed in the custody and care of officials at the Maryland Training School for Boys, and David William Shank, 18, was sentenced to the Maryland Reformatory for Males for a period not to exceed two years.

Judge Harris passed sentence after having received a pre-sentencing report from James Lewis, state probation officer.

The court said that the reports indicate both youths do not have good backgrounds and the younger of the two was sent to the training school to receive the care and custody which he had not received at home, Judge Harris commented. Arrangements have been made for the youths to make restitution. They spent most of the money.

LaVale Civic Organization Now Has 650 Members

Cameron Otto, membership chairman, informed the board of directors of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association Monday that the organization has a total of 650 residents and businesses belonging.

Mrs. Bess Buchanan, board chairman, read a letter from the Cumberland Post Office Department requesting that LaVale residents place numbers on their homes to facilitate mail delivery.

Builders and individuals opening new streets in the community are urged to meet with street sign Chairman Dudley Browne, so that street names will not be duplicated.

This committee is anxious to place street signs as soon as new streets are opened. New residents are asked to contribute to the street sign fund for the placement and maintenance of signs.

John Rowan, Allan Macy, Mrs. Verna Huck and Arthur Vickers were appointed by Mrs. Buchanan to a committee to study the publication of a monthly newspaper for LaVale.

Lloyd Smith appeared before the Board to request cooperation in developing recreational facilities for LaVale. Action was taken to meet with the Lions Park Committee. Smith represented a group of parents who are interested in the immediate development of a ball field.

Others attending the meeting were Robert Macbeth, Cromwell Zembower, Albert Tosh, Ivan Hall, Lloyd Buchanan and Mrs. Florence Whitworth.

Germany has 641 youth hotels.

The Illegality Of 'Prestige'

Russia has no legal right to attempt to change the status of Berlin. The Kremlin doesn't pretend to have any. The Communist demand for a change in Berlin's status is, as Khrushchev said recently, a question of "prestige." And he offered a hint as to what he meant by "prestige" when he implied that Russia is so powerful that the Allies will not resist her in this matter.

There is a long-continued Berlin crisis, and Moscow created it unaided. The Allied protests observe that present developments constitute the most flagrant violation of international agreements on Berlin since the Berlin blockade of 1948-49.

When that blockade ended, Russia signed still another agreement, pledging herself to facilitate freedom of movement both within Berlin and between Berlin and all parts of Germany.

But Russia and her East German puppets have cut the elevated and subway service in Berlin, torn up streets, erected road blocks, and strung barbed wire. None of this exactly facilities freedom of movement.

The four-power agreements on Germany and Berlin also forbid the formation and use of military and para-military units in the city. So Berlin is out of bounds to West German troops. But the extraordinary and illegal measures described above are being illegally enforced by East German military and para-military units.

In further violation of their pledge to facilitate freedom of movement in Berlin, the Communists have prevented tens of thousands of East Berliners from keeping their jobs in West Berlin. This is not only illegal; it denies to the workers their elementary right to choose where they will work.

All these measures, in addition to being illegal, flout the wishes of the people of East and West Berlin alike. The reason for them, of course, is that the Communists are embarrassed by the flight of their subjects to the West. But they constitute a reckless attempt to settle the problem by force and threats of force.

'Don't Do Anything To Get Him Excited'

White House Informal, Lively And Bustling Under President Kenendy

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The stately White House, a place of precept and protocol under Dwight D. Eisenhower, has changed dramatically during the seven months since John F. Kennedy moved in.

Ike conducted affairs of state not only by the book but by the clock. All papers were processed through channels, were never passed up to the President without the proper endorsements.

Briefings were punctual and punctilious. Even Cabinet meetings were rehearsed and timed in advance. The speaker's rostrum was fitted with a three-minutes-to-go light and a time's-up signal.

Kennedy has junked most of Ike's formality. He prefers to work with small, informal groups kicking ideas around. Restless as a hungry cat, he also prowls around the White House and holds spontaneous, unscheduled conferences in the corridors.

Nobody knows when the President will poke his shock-head into an office. If the aide is out, Kennedy may riffle through the paperwork on the desk—a habit he developed in his Senate office, not so much to pry as to keep tabs on his output.

Once he wandered into the White House's back offices where the secretaries (many of them holdovers from as far back as the Roosevelt regime) had never seen a President at close quarters.

One of them, Lucille Tutt, looked up from her typewriter to see JFK framed in the doorway.

"Oh! Good morning, Mr. President," she gasped, although the time was 6 p. m. Now her colleagues always greet her with an elaborate "Good morning," no matter what time of day it is.

Powers Takes A Bow

Another time, a reporter for this column was chatting with Dave Powers, official greeter, whose Irish humor has made him the new court jester. Suddenly the President thrust his head through the open door and called "Dave!"

Powers bounded to his feet, tripped over an ash tray, and ended up doing a deep, involuntary salaam. Without even meaning to be funny, he got a Presidential belly-chuckle.

Kennedy has surrounded himself with brainy young men, most of them Ivy Leaguers of the pipe-and-sweater look. Like their chief, most are intense, yet appear to be casual. They work long, irregular hours, usually in their shirt sleeves.

They seldom are too busy, however, for a little sophisticated horseplay. They particularly enjoy ribbing Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, better known around the White House as "Pudgy Pierre" or just plain "Pudgy." The President gave him the nickname, borrowing it from a favorite adjective used by the press to describe him.

After Kennedy strained his back and Salinger was inundated with press calls for medical information, mischievous aides also began calling him "Dr. Salinger." Sometimes they would disguise their voices on the telephone and ask him for medical advice. The President went along with the joke and sent him a book for his birthday: "The Family Medical Encyclopedia."

Lanky, likable Mike Feldman, who was abandoned as a child to an orphanage but now has a suite of offices in the White House, came in for some kidding for his work on the President's message to Congress on the highway program.

"This must be a crash program," Feldman wrote earnestly. But Ted Sorensen, the No. 1 aide, suggested dryly that it might be poor politics for the President to advocate a "crash" program for highways.

White House Verse

The President, whose own sense of humor is dry as a martini, likes to join in the backstage banter. But his humor shows up more often in the quick postscripts he scribbles on personal letters.

To ease the tension, some aides exchange comic notes and verses. Most prolific is the bland, brilliant Sorensen who can dash off doggerel like an amateur Hammerstein.

In a poetic tribute to his deputy, he ribbed Feldman recently about his illegible handwriting. Wrote Sorensen:

"Whose works are illegible—or does this say illegal?

Who has the sense of a hare and the strength of an eagle?

Or does this say an absence of hair and the stench of a beagle?

Anyway—it's the deputy.

"Who works on food drains—or does this say feed grains?

Who is our backbone, our head, and a mass of brains?

Or does this say our backache, a headache, and a mess of pains?

Back came Feldman with a parody, written to a tune from "H. M. S. Pinafore":

"Ted Sorensen was first in his class at school,

Yet declined lega' offers; he was no fool.

Instead he learned to play the piano with ease;

He studied all his chords and scales until they were a breeze.

And now that Harry Truman has retired (with his spouse),

We needed a pianist to cheer up the White House.

So it was simple as it could be:

Ted became special counsel to John F. Kennedy."

Such is life inside the White House during these days of crisis, as the whole world walks the razor edge of Berlin. It is an extraordinary mixture of devotion, humanity, and the spices of wry, dry wit, but as wholesome a mixture as ever went into one of grandmother's cakes.

Allies Have Lost Ground In Berlin Crisis

By David Lawrence

IN EUROPE — The Lyndon Johnson visit to West Germany and Berlin is over, and the cheers and the shouting have subsided. It was a good idea for him to make the trip. It gave timely encouragement to the West Berlin populace, which had grown panicky. But the sad, unvarnished truth is that the Western Alliance stands in a dazed, if not frustrated, condition as it becomes clear that the Soviets have in reality seized and virtually annexed a piece of Berlin and apparently have gotten away with their aggression.

The facts are plain to see. Four powers allied together in the last war made an agreement to act as trustees for a conquered territory. No single trustee had the power to disregard the will of the others or to continue to occupy any territory or govern any of its inhabitants without the express consent of the other allies.

The Soviet Union now has violated its trusteeship. The people of West Berlin were dumbfounded when the three Western powers of the wartime alliance sent a note to Moscow that merely called attention to the violation without seeming to be willing to do anything about it. That's why the morale of West Berlin's population sank and Vice President Johnson hurried over to the area to cheer them up and to participate in the welcoming of 1,500 additional American troops who came to strengthen the garrison in West Berlin.

But such a small military contingent and the demonstrations of the crowd for the distinguished Ameircan visitors have little, if any significance so far as the Communists are concerned. This is because, for all practical purposes, the Western allies have already acquiesced in the cutting off of East Berlin, and there is really nothing to negotiate now except the ratification of the Soviet action in annexing the whole East German area through the device of a separate peace treaty.

Most of the voices that come from the Western governments, formally and informally, call vaguely for "negotiation." But there seems to be no iron hand behind the words, and the peoples of Europe really don't expect any militancy from the Western governments now. If the principle involved is of no value, if the Soviets can annex a piece of territory and police it as if it were their own, shutting off access to West Berlin as they please, and the Allies continue only to send diplomatic notes of protest, then indeed the Berlin crisis is over. For the Russians will be glad to talk for months or years about their concepts of legal rights and postwar agreements.

The psychological impact of what has just happened struck the West Germans quickly, but the true significance of the latest aggression by the Soviets has not yet permeated elsewhere in Western Europe.

For all practical purposes, the crucial moment has passed — the expected agreement now is likely to elicit some paper guarantees of the right of allied access subject to Soviet whims and variable interpretations. But the world will know that the Soviets have not only perpetuated their occupation but have set up a puppet government in East Germany to harass West Germany and the Western Allies.

Actually, despite everything President Kennedy has done — the stepping-up of the United States military program, the dispatch of 1,500 more troops to West Berlin, the organizing of our military effort in NATO — the Communist dictatorship in the Kremlin is still doubtful whether the West means business.

Within the last few days, the Moscow government has started in tary effort in NATOetaoinrpete its own way a probing operation. Newsmen in various Western capitals have been approached. Members of different governments have been interrogated privately by Soviet diplomats at luncheons or dinners. There has been a concerted effort to find out how resolute the Western Alliance really is.

The skepticism about the Western attitude has resulted from the repeated statements in the American and British press that "negotiations," in effect, may include concessions and compromises. If this be true, it is only natural for the Moscow government to continue to press hard toward its goal, and to assume that even tactics of harassment on the corridor between west Berlin and West Germany will not be resisted and that a protracted palaver will be acquiesced in by the West.

What should the west have done? It could have insisted on free access to West Berlin by the East German people and the right of West Berlin residents to go to East Germany at any time, under military protection if necessary. The West instead is in the position today of having recognized the right of the Soviet government to imprison the East German people and to block the free movement of the East Germans within their own country.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Uncorrectable Errors

Politicians play their little games but some of them become costly irretrievable errors. Also some are not understandable. For instance the establishment of the American Sector of West Berlin inside of East Germany — 110 miles inside of East Germany without a corridor is beyond understanding.

If there was to be a divided Berlin, each sector should have had a corridor. By agreement, Berlin was divided into American, British, French and Russian sectors. The Western countries united and the people of West Berlin elected a government of their own, headed by Mayor Willy Brandt.

Soviet Russia declined to join in this rationalization of Berlin, establishing East Germany as a separate area, controlled by Soviet Russia. This was a violation of all agreements, but Soviet Russia has maintained that there are two Germanys and that there will remain two Germanys and that Berlin is actually within the Soviet Zone, in East Germany. Therefore the Western powers, who may be there legally, are there irrationally.

Khrushchev makes this point now. He holds that after 16 years, a settlement must be reached that makes sense from the Russian standpoint. President Kennedy has challenged the Russian point of view in the most practical manner possible, by sending troops into Berlin and by sending Vice-President Johnson there. It was a direct challenge to Russia and Khrushchev let it pass.

The initial error was undoubtedly made by President Truman, Prime Ministers Churchill and Attlee, by the American and British chiefs-of-staff who accepted the Russian formula which was unsound when adopted and is unsound now. Even a movie house has a fire exit.

This kind of historical error was not only made as regards Berlin but also as regards China. I have been reading Robert Morris' remarkable book, "No Wonder We Are Losing," in which he gives the details of his services as a counsel for Congressional committees. In this book, he establishes beyond question the activities of Russian agents and spies within the State Department and the White House.

He describes carefully what we now call, to avoid libel, "Russian-oriented" persons who played an enormous role in the development of American policy toward Red China. Morris describes what he knows from first hand experience.

The mistakes made in our relations with China cannot be corrected and they are proving to be very costly to us. But the personalities who made the mistakes, who associated with Russian-oriented personalities, who influenced Presidents and Secretaries of State are, many of them, still around, working in the State Department and elsewhere in the government. They made mistakes and to err is human; therefore it is held that the entire country not the individuals should suffer.

A final example of error and carelessness is to be found in Cuba, in the support and opposition to Batista; in the support and opposition to Castro; in the boycott of Cuban goods but the shipment of American goods to Cuba from both Tampa and Canada. And, of course, the greatest blunder was the amateurish commando-type invasion of Cuba which ended in a fiasco.

Who has been tried for the fiasco? Who has been held responsible for the confused Cuban policy? Actually nobody has been. The doctrine remains that to err is human and that all a human being need say is that he regrets his error, whereupon he is permitted to err some more.

This country will have to wake up and take a sterner attitude toward experts who make mistakes. There are some who still do not believe that Harry Dexter White was a malicious official, a Russian agent, despite all the evidence to that effect gathered by the FBI. There are still some who believe that Alger Hiss is innocent. What is their proof? Is it not enough to establish a man's innocence that Joe McCarthy held that he was guilty? If it is possible to prove guilt by association, why not establish innocence by looking at the accuser?

No nation can afford the luxury of that sort of logic—surely not in a battle with Soviet Russia.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

SPACE FLIGHT — Russia's leader displayed to the world an unusual degree of confidence in the reliability of the Russian rocket system. He announced his major speech in reply to President Kennedy's mobilization address before the Titov flight, knowing he would deliver it after Major Titov had returned to earth.

Further, the Russians announced Titov's take-off within hours, and while he was still orbiting the earth. Titov had still to land in order to make the flight a success.

If Titov had failed, Khrushchev would have been in a bad spot. He probably would have brazened it out and made his speech anyway. However, it would not have had the impact it did have, coming on the heels of another Soviet space triumph, with its military and propaganda overtones.

This display of confidence is one of the factors which most impress U. S. government leaders. Another is that Khrushchev has effectively destroyed the myth that somehow Yuri Gagarin did not make his flight and the whole thing was a Soviet-inspired hoax.

It must be said that no one in the U. S. government ever swallowed that one, but believers in the myth — in Congress and elsewhere — were loath to give it up.

Yet, American intelligence is not over-buying the Russian space achievements. For one thing, Russia has not yet come to the point of inviting international observers to the launchings. For another, her raw use of propaganda to obtain maximum benefits around the world indicates that her claims are at the outer limits of her accomplishments.

The Soviet Union is faced with the problem of the champion maintaining his record despite the fact that he has used all his resources, in the face of a constantly improving challenger.

Thorny Issue

By John Crosby

CANNES, France

One cannot spend five minutes in Europe without encountering the immense philosophical difference between Americans and Europeans on the subject of war. In our country, the enemy, the only enemy worth thinking about, is Communism. In Europe, the great enemy is war itself.

The European popular attitude is summed up best in the slogan now getting currency in Britain: "Better Red than dead." This slogan was promptly, and I think unwisely, dismissed by Americans as Communist propaganda. Of course, there's no doubt but that the Communists are making great use of it. (It's probably the greatest Communist propaganda coup since the Reds appropriated the word peace as their very own invention.)

Just the same, "Better Red than dead" has an immense emotional and ideological appeal to many persons who abhor Communism. There are very great numbers of this group and they are an important group of writers and thinkers and their numbers span a great many Americans who live abroad. This is not to say that there are not many — probably a great majority — who would very much rather be dead than Red and who think very much like Americans, as expressed in the Gallup poll, think.

But the difference is that both groups command respectful attention; a member of either group can — in cafes or in the letters columns of newspapers (where the subject is constantly hashed over) or in a livingroom — argue his position without losing friends or his job or his reputation. Can this be done in America? Europeans say no.

The subject, they say — and with great pride — is unarguable in America. "Americans," a witty European said to me, "will kill every last man, woman, and child on earth to defend a liberty they lost long ago. What kind of liberty have Americans? Could any one in America get up and say he thinks the extermination of the human race is the greatest crime of all? Could any American get up and say: 'What's the matter with Communism? It's a great system.' All right, you disagree. But what's the matter with that? Must you agree with every word you hear?

"In Europe when we say freedom of opinion we mean just that. But in America freedom of opinion is freedom to say what everyone else is saying. As between that and Russian freedom of opinion, we Europeans don't see much difference. If we can't express an opinion, anyhow, we'd rather be alive and shut our mouths than dead and have our mouths permanently shut."

We may disagree with that, but we must admit that it would be very difficult for an American to talk like that in any forum you can think of — newspaper, cafe, private home — without being called a Communist dupe or a Communist. Intelligent Europeans feel that the stakes in the next war are so vast that this issue should be discussed on the very highest levels. If humanity doesn't perish, civilization almost certainly will. Is this not an arguable subject?

In letters to the editor or in private conversation — though not, as far as I can see, in any editorial or official opinion — this idea is reiterated again and again. But in America, I must confess, we are not only not permitted to argue the question, whether we'd rather have the whole world be dead than Red: we don't even permit ourselves to think about it at all or to examine it at all. It is treasonable to have anything but the official opinion.

This then is the vast ideological gulf that one encounters here. Americans, many Europeans feel, have simply endorsed a position involving staggering consequences for all mankind which they have not thought about at all and which has never really been seriously debated.

Of course, there's another, happier side to this thorny issue of freedom of conscience and this the Europeans miss: for the first time in my memory (at least in peacetime) a democracy has a solidity of opinion to match a dictatorship. For the first time an American President can pursue a course without being sniped at — on this issue anyway — from the Right or the Left or the Middle.

Also, while I agree absolutely with my European friend that we are too timid, too orthodox, too reactionary on the subject of Communism and life under Communism (which is not all that bad and some day we're going to have to face up to that, too), I feel strongly that the Europeans miss entirely one great shining fact about the United States of America. There is in the American popular view on Communism and the cold war a certain intuitive grasp that goes beyond arguments and deeper than parlor liberalism. Americans on this question, as they have before on great issues such as the American Revolution, the Civil War, and the two World Wars, have an intuitive grasp of the fundamentals which brook no argument and which could never be changed by argument. So why bother?

But we must not crucify everyone who feels this greatest of issues should be thrashed out publicly because it includes some of our best friends and it includes some very great democrats.

Says my witty European friend: "I would like to see a big television debate in America: 'Is Communism a better way of life than democracy?' If you can't argue about democracy, you haven't got it."

Emotions And 'Butterflies In The Stomach'

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many of man's troubles settle in his gastrointestinal tract. Tensions create ulcers, constipation, or spastic bowel. In this respect, his digestive tract suffers or rejoices with him, depending upon his mood.

Anger can induce sufficient spasm to constrict the colon so tightly, examination with a diagnostic instrument is impossible. As a result, the wall of the intestine may turn as red as his face in response to the emotional upheaval.

The close relationship between man's feelings and his digestive tract explains the irritable bowel. Many persons are bothered only during periods of fatigue, usually following long hours of work and tension.

Those who recognize the true meaning of the discomfort improve with rest or vacation. Others struggle along with antispasmodic preparations such as Probanthine, Tral, Trasentine, atropine, or belladonna. Some will require a sedative also to sleep. These products are excellent remedies for short periods but the basic cause must be eliminated for permanent relief.

Individuals who are mildy upset most of the time pay for their fears, frustrations, and perfectionism. They never are free of slight abdominal distress, varying from tenderness to dull aching or cramplike pain. Constipation and gas are common.

These people should take stock of what they are doing and where they are going. They must avoid situations that are upsetting and emotionally painful, including social stresses, new activities, and nerve-racking commitments. The added leisure provided by giving up extracurricular activities will encourage relaxation. Mild exercise such as walking can unwind the springs, if it is done for fun and not to dash madly here and there.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on irritable colon if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TOMORROW: Arthritic children.

NAUSEA ON RUNNING

M. C. writes: What would cause a 16-year-old boy to get sick to his stomach every time he runs? Otherwise his health is perfect.
REPLY

If this symptom follows ordinary running, I would suspect an emotional disorder. On the other hand, we can expect this reaction if the boy runs to the point of sheer exhaustion. It might be traced to dehydration or to other chemical changes associated with overexertion.

ALCOHOL AND DIABETES

Fed up writes: I would like you to tell my husband about the harmful effects of wine, whisky, and beer for a victim of diabetes. He drinks before breakfast.
REPLY

Diabetics can use alcoholic beverages within moderate limits if they are not overweight and the disease is under control. The caloric content of the drinks must be fitted into the diet. But your husband's problem has all the earmarks of alcoholism, a condition that is serious enough in itself.

PAINLESS ULCER

L. M. writes: Can a person have duodenal ulcer without pain?
REPLY

Yes. The victim may complain of a sensation of nausea or of hunger; others describe the symptom as gnawing or burning. More commonly, pain occurs one to four hours after a meal.

SINUS AND SWIMMING

D. K. writes: Is it safe for a person with sinus disease to go to the beach?
REPLY

Yes, if he doesn't dive or swim under water.

TB RECURRENCES

W. L. writes: Does a woman with arrested tuberculosis have flare-ups of the disease from time to time?
REPLY

Not if she takes care of herself and follows the health rules to the letter.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Workers in the box office of Gotham's Majestic Theater never will forget the night Callahan stood patiently in line for an hour to purchase seats for a meledrama called "The Great Miracle." Directly ahead of him was a dour Scot, who eventually reached the ticket window.

"Our best orchestra seats," the treasurer told the Scot, "are six-sixty. In the balcony they run as low as two-twenty."

"I'll take two of the six-sixty seats," decided the Scot, producing a twenty-dollar bill, "and you may keep the change for being so courteous."

Callahan abruptly stepped out of line and headed for the sidewalk. The man in the box office yelled, "Hey! Don't you want to see 'The Great Miracle'?"

"Not me," answered Callahan. "I've SEEN it!"

"Approaching Las Vegas," counsels Cindy Adams, "you'll see a sign reading 'GAS'. Take it!"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Low calorie foods generally can be identified physically as thin, watery or dilute, bulky with fiber or coarseness, watery-crisp rather than greasy-crisp. Conversely, high calorie foods usually are thick, oily, greasy or slick, sticky, sweet and gooey.

Failure to follow proper dietary habits is the most striking deficiency of teen-agers—particularly girls—seen in nutritional surveys of food consumption. In one study of Iowa school children, more than half the teen-age girls followed diets that were called "grossly inadequate."

Home Ec Teacher Thinks Boys Should Join Classes

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — A career home economist wants to step up enrollment in home economics courses by recruiting the boys.

Latest official figures from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare showed 2,660,000 students in such courses in public secondary schools during the 1958-59 school year. Officials said enrollments are increasing.

But not fast enough to suit Margaret Spader, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association (GAMA). In an interview, she also criticized the failure of these classes to attract more quality students and the downgrading of classes by regarding them as largely vocational.

Family Living

Miss Spader said home economics educates youngsters for family living, and improves goods and services by teaching students to evaluate and shop wisely. Home economics classes also provide research on individual and family needs in our changing society, she added.

Because boys now participate more in homemaking activities, she'd like to see them get the same kind of thorough training available to girls. She's also counting on the boys' presence to attract more girl students into the classes.

"Parental cooperation with teachers is also needed," Miss Spader said. "Parents should insist on home projects. Students should be required to visit supermarkets, to shop within budgets."

Want Money Management

She quoted Thelma Birt, a Troy, Ohio, High School homemaking teacher, who asked former students now married to comment on curriculum for future courses. Subjects they wanted emphasized included time and money management and quick, inexpensive meal preparation.

Miss Spader said evaluation and selection of new appliances and new food products also were among advantages of studying home economics. More than 200 million home appliances operating now were not on the market 15 years ago. With many food stores stocking 6,000 or more items, shopping bewilders the indecisive.

The height of indecision was reached by an Atlanta, Ga., supermarket shopper, who asked a home economist if it was all right to ice one brand of cake with a competitor's frosting mix.

Week's Food Economies

Food shoppers will find the best values in locally grown produce for their fruit and vegetable dollar this week, says Virginia McLuckie, food economist of the Baltimore Office, University of Maryland, Department of Markets.

Summer apples, particularly the Summer Rambo variety, are high on the list of best buys. Rambos are seasonal during August and September. This is an easy apple to identify because it is both flat and green and usually large. These early apples are slightly acid, tender, and considered good cooking apples for sauce and pie. Now is the time to can or freeze applesauce or to make green apple pie.

Peaches from Maryland and nearby states are increasing in volume. Peaches are a good source of vitamin A and a fair source of vitamin C. Fresh peaches should be sorted and the ripest used first. The flavor of peaches is best when they are mature which means the background color will be creamy yellow. Within the next two weeks plan to can or freeze peaches. Some Elberta peaches are now being harvested.

Cantaloupes are also on the list of best buys. The harvest from Eastern shore country is at its peak while most of the cantaloupes are the salmon colored flesh, some white or green fleshed cantaloupes are available. Find a way to include this tempting melon in daily meals.

At the produce counter the best buys are green peppers, cabbage, sweet corn and lima beans. Peppers in addition to their fine flavor have a brilliant color to help pep up a meal. Fresh lima beans are seasonal. Now is the time to enjoy this vegetable to the fullest. An easy way to shell lima beans is to use a sharp knife and slice a thin strip from the outside edge of the pods. Then open the pods and remove the beans. Fresh succotash using fresh limas and corn is a summer treat. Sweet corn and cabbage are low in cost.

Turkeys are a good buy. The crop of turkeys is large and prices are attractive. Crab meat is in good supply and prices are in the low range for claw or regular meat to make excellent crab cakes or scalloped dishes. Watch for specials on ham and steaks for summer meals in or out of doors.

Strawberry Bavarian

½ cup milk
2 eggs, separated
1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
Pinch of Salt
1 package (10 ounce) frozen sliced strawberries
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup sugar
½ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream

Beat milk and egg yolks together until thoroughly mixed. Cook over very low heat (or over boiling water) stirring constantly until mixture will coat a metal spoon. Remove from heat. Add gelatin and stir; stir until dissolved. Stir in undrained strawberries and vanilla. Chill until ¾ of mixture has set. Beat egg whites to soft peaks. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture forms stiff peaks. Whip gelatin mixture until smooth. Fold in sour cream and egg whites. Pour into a well oiled 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with whipped cream if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Low calorie vegetables—rich in Vitamin A—include asparagus, green beans, carrots cauliflower, beets, broccoli, spinach, cabbage, celery, brussel sprouts, summer squash and tomatoes.

'Feet take a beating in summer, either from sweat or from direct exposure to shoeleather and weather. Avoid hard calluses with frequent soap-and-water scrubbings. Use a stiff brush.

Clorox gives you the only kind of cleaning power that gets out suds-proof body dirt...right in your washer!

You'll never have really clean washes till you realize this: Oily body dirt takes a special kind of cleaning power. The Clorox kind. Weaker bleaches just won't do. Detergents can't get rid of it without tiresome hand-treating. Suds-proof body dirt is too stubborn to be floated away or covered up. It must be dissolved. Adding Clorox to your suds dissolves it...right in your washer.

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

In less than three weeks, Baltimore will become the center of the maritime world when the opening gavel sounds for the XXth International Navigation Congress. As President of the Congress, it will be my pleasure to welcome delegates from every corner of the globe.

The Congress, which is sponsored by the Permanent International Association of Navigation Congresses, will concentrate on ways and means to produce safer, more efficient navigation on ocean and inland waterways. About 1,000 maritime experts in government and private industry are expected to attend the Congress, which will run from September 11 through 19. Invitations have been tendered to 105 nations. Its international flavor is emphasized by the fact that the Voice of America of the United States Information Agency will cover the meeting for millions of listeners overseas.

Baltimore will be the second American city to play host to the organization in its 76-year history. The importance of the Congress is reflected in the impressive roster of its sponsors: President Kennedy will act as High Patron; Secretary of State Dean Rusk is to make the welcoming address; and Governor Tawes has served as chairman of the organizing committee which his been hard at work for the past year. In fact, since the first Congress in 1885, thirteen kings and five presidents have served as high patrons.

The basic aim of the organization is the free interchange of information leading to better seaways and waterways. Nevertheless, the delegates will seek relaxation. The City of Baltimore and the State of Maryland will have an unique opportunity to demonstrate their traditional warmth and hospitality. Many events have been scheduled. For example, the Women's Committee, under the direction of Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, will sponsor a program for wives of the delegates to provide a feminine view of America through tours and teas in the homes of Baltimore City and visits to supermarkets and shopping centers.

For myself, I am looking forward to hosting, as President, the reception and buffet to be held at Goucher College on September 13. In effect, each and every Baltimorean and Marylander associated directly or indirectly with the Navigation Congress will be able to act as a world ambassador in his own backyard. The Port of Baltimore has a long and proud record of carrying on fair trade with all parts of the world. I am confident that it will also sustain its record of fair diplomacy during the XXth International Navigation Congress next month.

Grinders

For the young crowd who like their picnic fare high, wide, and handsome—this is it. Jaw-challenging GRINDERS stack up from favorite poor boy rolls, cut in half, lengthwise. On each bottom half are placed—12 slices of thinly sliced Cervelat, 3 slices tomato, 2 thin slices onion (broken into rings), and 2 slices sharp process cheese. Serve 'em "as is" for on-the-go-meals. For backyard fests, heat them in a hot oven (400°F.) for about 5 minutes, to relax the cheese.

German Potato Salad

6 cups hot diced potatoes
½ cup finely chopped onion
9 slices bacon, diced
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
½ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
¾ cup boiling water
1½ tablespoons prepared mustard
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine hot cooked potatoes and onion. Fry bacon until crisp; drain on paper toweling. Pour off all but 3 tablespoons of bacon drippings. Add vinegar, sugar, water and mustard to bacon drippings; stir until sugar is dissolved. Add hot mixture to potatoes and toss gently until most of the moisture is absorbed. Fold in sour cream, parsley, bacon, salt and pepper until well blended. Serve warm or cold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Double The Pleasure

When two popular favorites are plentiful and readily available, and when they combine with most pleasurable results, it's reasonable to assume there's double the eating joy in store from such a combination in one dish. The plentifuls in question—potatoes and sour cream—make as fine a duo as you're likely to find.

Try scalloped potatoes for lunch or dinner some day soon. This combination of potatoes, eggs, and sour cream is especially pleasing during this sultry season of the year. Somewhat off-beat in taste sensation, its slightly tart flavor and easy-to-eat quality make it just right for now—the kind of dish likely to tempt a jaded appetite. With it all, it's nutritious and satisfying, and fits right into both a luncheon or dinner main dish. Or it may be served alone in casserole style.

You'll find the major ingredients of this fine dish in ample supply right now. Since milk flow is still hovering around the seasonal peak, dairy products such as sour cream and others are about as abundant as they well can be.

Potatoes have likewise been in bountiful supply for some time past. At the produce counters, both the "old" and the "new" potatoes of the spring and summer crops are on display — at extremely reasonable prices.

Your combination potato and sour cream dish is a good choice on every score.

For Scalloped Potatoes, try this recommended recipe: Cook 6 medium size potatoes in boiling water until fork tender, 25-35 minutes. Drain, dry, peel, slice, and layer slices ina buttered casserole. Meanwhile, stir 2 tablespoons each chopped onion and butter together over a low heat. Add them to a mixture of 2 well beaten eggs and 1 cup sour cream seasoned with salt and pepper. Pour the sour cream mixture over the potatoes and top with ½ cup grated sharp cheese. Bake 35 minutes in a 350°F. oven.

Cranberry Fruit Salad Dressing

½ cup whole cranberry sauce
1 cup mayonnaise
¼ cup thick sour cream
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon grated horseradish

Pickled Trout For Hors d'Oeuvres

If you are lucky enough to have a fisherman in the family who brings home a string of trout, save out a few of them to serve in this delightful Spanish way. First slice 1 or 2 small onions and add the sliced onion with a fistful of minced parsley to ¼ cup Spanish olive oil, heated just to the smoking point. Quickly brown the cleaned trout in the olive oil, over moderate heat. When tender, remove, place fish with onion in large porcelain bowl and cover with ½ cup each vinegar and water, 1 bay leaf and ½ teaspoon salt. Leave in marinade for 4 or 5 days then serve as hors d' oeuvers.

Liverwurst Filling On Rye

Liverwurst gets the liveliest lift ever from a potpourri of condiments. A good summer traveler, too, this filling (for 7 sandwiches "on rye") features ⅔ cup liverwurst with tasty additions of: chopped cucumber (with skin) and pecans—3 tablespoons each; chopped dill pickle — 2 tablespoons; prepared mustard and catsup—1 tablespoon each; chopped chives—1 teaspoon; Worcestershire cauce, garlic salt, and granulated sugar — ¼ teaspoon each.

Sour Cream Slaw

1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons minced onion
Few grains cayenne
4 cups shredded cabbage

Westernport Plans Parade This Evening

Legion Carnival Open All Week

PIEDMONT — A parade will be held this evening as one of the features of the annual street carnival this week at Tichnell grounds, on Third Street, sponsored by Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion.

The parade will form at the upper end of Main Street, Westernport, and march to the carnival grounds and disband.

The Oakland City Band, Lonaconing City Band, Keyser High School Band, Blue Angels Drum Corps of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport and fire companies of the area have been invited to participate.

The kitchen at the carnival is being operated by the Women's Auxiliary. The past president's are operating a fancy work table. A different past president is in charge each night running in alphabetical order beginning with Mrs. May Adams.

Church Sponsors Benefit Luncheon

LONACONING — Free bus transportation will be provided from points in Lonaconing to St. Mary's Catholic Church hall on August 30, for persons attending the luncheon there.

McKenzie's Service Station, Jackson Street School, Central School, and East End will be points for persons to await the bus.

Helen McPartland and Miss Mary Woods are in charge of the event. Following luncheon from noon until 1 p. m. there will be an afternoon games party.

Discuss Area Legislation

Doctors Urged To Fight Social Medical Plans

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—The president of the West Virginia Medical Association urged his colleagues Wednesday night to continue the organization's fight against "socialized medicine."

Speaking at a meeting of the House of Delegates of the association on the eve of the formal opening of the group's annual convention, Dr. John W. Hash, Charleston, noted that proposals in Congress to tie medical care for the aged to social security "may be delayed for awhile."

But he urged state doctors not to relax their opposition "as long as forces exist in this country which look to Washington as one looks to a great white father for all our care."

"Getting rid of responsibilities does not give an individual more freedom," Hash insisted. "It merely gives the government more control of his life, thereby actually lessening individual freedom."

Hash endorsed West Virginia's program of medical care for the aged as the "non - compulsory way" of accepting responsibilities.

"The care of the aged is the responsibility of our total society," he said.

Gov. W. W. Barron is scheduled to address the first overall session of the 94th annual convention Thursday morning. After this will come the first general scientific session.

Speakers later in the week will include American Medical Association president Leonard W. Larson, Bismarck, S. D., and Dr. Karl Menninger, Topeka, Kans., dean of the famous Menninger School of Psychiatry.

Hash said "medicare" as it stands now includes a provision for payment of professional services. The proposed tie-in with social security does not, he said.

"The professionals should not be subjected to underwriting any social services program to an extent greater than their just share of taxation," Hash said.

"Our society frowns upon discrimination. Incentive and ambition will be destroyed if our tax burden continues to rise. Family responsibility and the responsibility of the individual to prepare for his retirement would be diminished under the social security approach."

New Commander Named For XXI Army Corps

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa.—Brigadier General Stanley R. Larsen will assume command of the XXI US Army Corps, with headquarters here, early in September.

Nominated for promotion to the rank of major general, Larsen comes from California to his new assignment. He served as commander at Fort Ord for three months and later as deputy commander of the US Training Center (Infantry) at the Fort.

At Indiantown, he succeeds Major General Ralph C. Cooper, who has been reassigned to the office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C.

Born in Honolulu, Hawaii, Larsen received an appointment to the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., in 1935. Upon graduation from West Point in 1939, he was commissioned a second lieutenant of Infantry.

He served as company officer and company commander with the 25th Division at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, prior to World War II.

During World War II, he served with the 35th Infantry Regiment of the 25 the Division and was involved in all four campaigns in which his regiment participated in the Pacific. He earned the Distinguished Service Cross and the Silver Star for gallantry in action. He became a colonel in 1944.

Since World War II he has served in various assignments and commands, and has attended the Command and General Staff College, Fort Levenworth, Kas. He took Airborne training and commanded the 325th Airborne Infantry of the 82d Division at Fort Bragg, N. C. He graduated from the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. in 1954.

He also had a tour of duty in Europe and served as assistant chief of staff for Organization of the Allied Forces Northern Europe, with headquarters at Oslo, Norway. After this he became assistant division commander of the 10th Infantry Division in Europe.

Gen. Larsen and his wife, the former Nell White, are the parents of three children: Stanley, David and Eric. The General and his family plan to reside on the post.

In his new assignment, General Larsen will head the XXI Corps which is responsible for the overall Army Reserve and Army ROTC Programs in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. Presently, there are some 220,000 Army Reservists located in the Corps area. In addition, there are 39 colleges and universities within the four-state and District of Columbia area sponsoring the Army ROTC program with close to 23,000 Army ROTC cadets under jurisdiction of the Corps.

BRIG. GEN. S. R. LARSEN

Scout Troop Goes Camping

FROSTBURG — Troop No. 42, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, returned after spending several days at Swallow Falls for a late summer camp out. The group was in charge of Daniel Folk, scoutmaster, and Larry Layman, senior patrol leader and Wayne Miller, assistant senior patrol leader.

Those attending included Stuart Richardson, Wayne Kasecamp, Robert Robeson, Edward Winfield, William Carter, Gary Donius, Gerald Garlitz, Karl Hartig, John Festerman and George Tharp.

Scouting games were played and contests held in tent pitching, water boiling, fire building and other scoutcraft.

Light Bearers Plan Banquet

ELLERSLIE — Light Bearers Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church held their meeting Friday evening at Minkes. Mrs. Mary Cook read a poem. Mrs. Erma Burkett gave a reading and the prayer.

Mrs. Anna K. Lowery presided at the business meeting. Eight members and one guest, Mrs. Madeline Ward were present. Mrs. Zuma Burkett reported on a banquet to be held September 29 at Moon's Dining Room in Cumberland.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Burkett.

Fuller Family Holds Reunion At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The third annual reunion of the Harry Sanner Fuller family was held August 19, at Braddock Park Playground. Forty of the 42 living members were present. Out-of-town members attending included J. Howard Fuller, Barberton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herbig, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herbig Jr., and children Judith and Jeffrey, all of Akron, Ohio.

The events of the afternoon included pony rides and games for the children, and a mock ball game between the Skirts and the Shirts, umpired by Mrs. Fannie Anthony.

A feature of the program was an art-composition contest. Howard Fuller, Harry Fuller III, and Janet Blank judged the contest, with Jessie Cummings and Mrs. Jesse Fuller having the winning entries. The souvenir booklet, which was entitled "I Remember—," was an outstanding attraction. Events of the past were recalled and written up in the booklet, and much reminiscing by the family resulted. A ham dinner was served to the group.

A play, in which all the children participated, featured the evening program. Movies of previous reunions were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Emery Loar.

Mrs. James Cummings was chairman for the reunion. During the business session, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blank volunteered to serve as a committee for next year's rally.

In 1900, the median age at which men married was 26 and for women it was 22.

Safety Council Expresses Early Labor Day Warning

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Labor Day weekend is more than a week and a half off, but the West Virginia Safety Council suggested Wednesday that now is the time to start thinking about how to avoid getting killed in the fun-making.

State Police have concluded that there is more highway traffic and recreational activity, such as boating and swimming, during the Labor Day weekend than at any other time in the year in West Virginia.

For this reason, Safety Council Director Charles Hopkins said, families planning trips or outings during the Sept. 1-4 period should make advance arrangements, at the same time, to avert accidents.

There were 11 traffic fatalities and one drowning in West Virginia during the 1960 Labor Day period.

"These accidental tragedies need not be repeated," Hopkins said. "We can prevent them if we adopt safe practices on the highway, in the home and at play."

Frostburg Youth Named Member Of Music Caravan

FROSTBURG — Thomas Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Richardson, 18 Bowery Street, has been selected as a member of the Presbyterian Youth Music Caravan made up of 20 members and representing the states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, New York and Ohio and one representative from India.

The group will travel through Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio until the end of August giving programs in various Presbyterian Churches.

The purpose is to share ideas on ways to make music more effective in the total program of the church. The media to be explored will be: Choral music on youth level; the use of standard instruments; the use of recorders; the study and use of hymns; the use of English handbells; the use of Negro spirituals and music for fun and fellowship.

Young Richardson has studied the accordion for eight years and is presently studying piano and church organ. He will play piano, church organ and sing in the chorus on the tour.

The music caravan is made up of 20 senior high school students, 12 girls and 8 boys and four adults. The group has a serious interest in music, people and their church. Some of them plan to go into the Ministry of Music, others look on church music as simply a means of expressing outwardly the many facets of their faith. They will work in the churches they visit with church youth, teachers and advisors of youth, choir directors and those with music responsibilities.

Senate To Vote On Promotion Of Williams

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate is scheduled to vote Thursday afternoon on whether to approve the promotion of West Virginia Adj. Gen. Gene Hal Williams to brigadier general in the Army Reserve.

Such promotions have hardly created a stir in the past but some senators who themselves hold the rank of general in the Reserve, along with lady Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, have raised a question of Williams' qualifications.

They claim he does not meet the necessary qualifications for a boost all the way from major to general. They have been attempting to make it tougher for such promotions, and the Williams case apparently has become their major arguing point.

Mrs. Smith mentioned in the Senate Wednesday that Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., also plans to vote against the Williams promotion.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., is leading the fight for confirmation of the 33-year-old Williams. It is expected that he will be confirmed.

Williams maintains he meets all the necessary federal and state qualifications for the promotion. He acknowledged frankly that he is not qualified to lead a unit into combat, but said this is not relevant because he would never be called on to do so if he were given the one-star rank.

In event the Senate refuses to approve the promotion, Williams said he will submit his resignation to Gov. W. W. Barron of West Virginia, but said this doesn't mean he would be ready to give up the post. He said he would like to stay on even though he would be outranked by 25 other West Virginia National Guard members.

As adjutant, Williams is commander of the Guard — and he said that clear designation would counteract any possible question of authority.

Interstate Roads In W. Va. To Cost $585 Millions

LAEGER, W. Va. (UPI — The latest estimate is that Interstate System highway construction in West Virginia will cost $585 million.

The authority for the estimate is State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers, who spoke before a chapter of the McDowell County Better Roads Association here.

The federal government will foot about $529 million of the cost. The government's basic share is 90 per cent, but West Virginia and some other states will get a "bonus" for agreeing to ban billboards from along the superhighways.

Sawyers said good progress is being made on construction of approximately 300 miles of Interstate highway allocated to West Virginia.

Work Is Started On New Garage

WESTERNPORT—Work on the erection of a garage and office building located on Westernport-McCoole Road has been started by the Moran GMC Truck Sales.

According to the permit issued by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, the new building will be 80 by 60 feet in size and will be equipped with steel walls. It will have concrete footers, a steel roof and will be approximately 40 feet off of the highway. Cost of construction is esitmated at $12,000.

Presbyterians Attend Outing

BARTON — The Mens Club of First Presbyterian Church held a picnic for members and their families Friday at the Dans Mountain Recreation Area.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lamberson, Mrs. Betty Lamberson and family, Ann, Susan and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and sons, Davey and Scotty. Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw and sons, Eddie and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kyle and children, Kim, Cory and Holly, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown and sons Melvin and David, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright.

Homemakers Meet Friday

WESTERNPORT — The monthly meeting of Westernport Homemakers Club will be held Friday at 4:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Joseph Guy, Walnut Street, according to Mrs. Donald Hines, president.

Following a short business meeting a covered dish supper will be held on the lawn. Each member will bring a covered dish and eating utensils.

Lions Picnic Today

WESTERNPORT — The Tri-Towns Lions Club will hold their annual picnic at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Ormal Hoover at the U.R.K. of P. camp ground at Burlington, today at 6:30 p.m., according to James McHenry, president.

Public Baptism To Be Held At Midlothian

All Day Meeting Slated Sunday

FROSTBURG — Featured this Sunday at Trinity Assembly of God Church in Midlothian will be an "All Day Meeting." The reason for this will be the annual water baptismal service at the baptismal pool in the rear of the church yard.

The Sunday School will convene at 9:45 a. m. followed with the 11 a. m. worship service. At the close of this meeting the congregation is urged to assemble in the top floor of the new wing of the church, where basket lunches each family brings will be opened and a time of food and fellowship will be held.

At 2 p. m. the group will go to the outdoor pool around which will be placed large benches for the group to be seated. The public is welcome to attend, according to Rev. James L. Tate, pastor.

Those who will be baptised upon the confession of their faith are: Mrs. Mary Beeman, Frostburg; Gary Showalter, Cumberland; Rebecca Robertson, and Carolyn Robertson, Slabtown; Thomas Yutzy, Rd 2, Frostburg; Mrs. Clara Haberlein, Eckhart; Miss Wilma Walker, Gilmore; Miss Emma Walters, Frostburg; Mrs. Betty Haberlein, Mt. Pleasant Street, Frostburg; Daniel Sisler, Frostburg; Esther Kennell, Shaft; Linda Stewart, LaVale; Blanche Stevenson, Frostburg; Beverly Richardson, Wrights Crossing, and Mrs. Beatrice Willison, Hoffman.

Home From Canada

Student Council Workshop Being Held At FSTC

FROSTBURG — The annual workshop of the Maryland Association of Student Councils is being held this week at Frostburg State Teachers College with Felix Simon, director of guidance at Parkville Senior High School, Baltimore, in charge.

Over 200 student council officers from 82 high schools throughout the state are registered, as well as 30 staff members.

Representatives of high school Student Councils are officers who will take over during the 1961-62 year. They are divided into five different work groups and will study and discuss the following: "How to Conduct a Meeting;" "Problems and Projects of a Student Council;" "Student Council Functioning;" "Resource Materials;" "Tapes from Different Authorities Which are Played, Telling of the Defferent Aspects of Student Councils;" "Tips for Student Council Presidents" and "Secretaries and Treasurers."

The daily schedule begins at 9 a. m. when the first discussion group meets until 10. The second session is from 10:15 to 11:15 a. m. and the third from 1:30 to 3 p. m. From 3 to 5 recreation, consisting of games and preparation for evening programs, takes place. Friday will mark "Achievement Night" with each of study groups being given a problem of Student Council.

The workshop will end Saturday.

Named Alternate

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va. — Robert Nelson of Grant County was named an alternate for the Bob Hartley scholarship at the close of the 1961 State 4-H Boys' Camp herd here. Mt. Savage Bishop Dies In Tennessee

Rt. Rev. Theodore Nott Barth, 63, a native of Mt. Savage, died Tuesday of cancer at his home in Memphis, Tenn.

Bishop Barth has been bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Tennessee since 1953, and was the diocese's sixth bishop since its organization in 1829.

Bishop Barth had been in declining health for a long period of time. His body lies in state at St. Mary's Cathedral where services will be conducted Thursday.

He was a son of the late George Godfrey and Mary Elizabeth (Markel) Barth.

Bishop Barth received his BA degree from the University of Virginia in 1918, and his BD degree in 1923 from Virginia Theological Seminary. In 1949 he earned his DD degree from Southwestern University.

Bishop Barth was named rector of Deer Creek Church, Darlington, Md., in 1922 and then served at All Saints Church, Reisterstown, from 1924 until 1928. The Mt. Savage native was stationed at St. Bartholomew's Church, Baltimore, from 1928 until 1940 and served at Calvary Episcopal Church, Memphis from 1940 until he was appointed bishop.

He was a delegate to the General Convention of Episcopal Churches of the United States from 1943 until 1946 and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth (Ellicott) Barth, a son, Theodore N. Barth, and a daughter Mrs. Sarah W. Tomlin.

LUKE—Joseph Nagy, 85, of here, died yesterday at Allegany County Infirmary, Cumberland, where he had been a patient two months.

Born at Hedes Megy Dekt, Hungary, he came to the United States 43 years ago.

Survivors include a cousin, Mrs. Mary Vivod, of here.

Mr. Nagy was employed as a gardener at Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. He retired in 1957.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport.

A requiem Mass will be celebrated Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

MRS. LAWRENCE GRIFFIN

Mrs. Orando Griffin, 53, of 509 Valley Street, died last night in Sacred Heart Hospital where she had been a patient since June 28.

A native of Cumberland, she was a daughter of the late Arthur and May (Long) Stevens. Mrs. Griffin was a member of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Her husband, Lawrence Griffin, was killed in a train accident in 1955 at Locust Grove.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. Charles Snyder, Burkesville, Va.; Robert Greaver, Canton, Ohio, and Dennis Griffin, at home; three brothers, James and Leonard Stevens, this city, and Earl Stevens, Braddock Road; four sisters, Mrs. Arthur Stratton, this city; Mrs. Ernest Pueschel and Miss Gladys Stevens, both of Braddock Road, and Mrs. Frank Willingham, Silver Spring, and a granddaughter.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Street Employes Strike Illegal

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) — Moundsville city manager J. Frank Wiseman said Wednesday he had been informed by the state attorney general's office that a strike of 26 employes of city street and sanitation department was illegal.

Wiseman said Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson advised him that employes automatically forfeit their jobs when they strike any governmental agency. Wiseman said the men walked off the job when he refused to pay the entire cost of their clothing. The city now pays a $30-a-year clothing allowance.

Union Elections Are Ordered At Plants

BALTIMORE (AP) — The regional office of the National Labor Relations Board said Wednesday that union representation elections have been ordered for Aug. 31 in three plants of the Colonial Hardwood Flooring Co.

The union elections will be held in two Colonial plants in Hagerstown, and one in Waynesboro, Pa. The three plants employ about 250 persons.

John A. Penello, fifth region director for the NLRB, ordered the election as the result of a petition submitted by Local 992 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

The election will include all production and maintenance workers, including truck drivers and plant clerks, but will not include office workers, guards or supervisors.

Colonial Hardwood employes do not now have a union bargaining agent.

The NLRB office here said balloting at Plant One in Hagerstown will be conducted from 4 to 5 p. m.; balloting at Plant Three in Hagerstown will be from 3 to 3:30 p. m., and workers at Plant Two in Waynesboro will vote from 4 to 4:45 p. m. on the designated day.

Municipal News Cover Shows Narrows View

A view of The Narrows, historic Gateway to the West, is printed on the cover of the current issue of the Maryland Municipal News.

The issue notes that the 14th annual convention of the Maryland Municipal League will be held in Cumberland October 26-28.

The convention is being held earlier than usual, the League said, so delegates can view the spectacular fall foliage and colors in the forests of Western Maryland.

Beall, Conlon

said fire losses average about 30 per cent of the premium cost, or about $150,000 to $200,000 a year.

In addition to fire coverage, Taylor said, the state gets an inspection of each property each year and recommendations for safety measures.

Agents Take Turns

Taylor said the insurance business is allocated by State Treasurer Hooper S. Miles. He said if an agent asks to participate he is put on a list and receives some of the business when his turn comes up in accordance with his insurance activity and experience.

Other legislators participating, and the amount of insurance they are writing, include:

Sen. Bernard I. Gonder, D-Garrett, $893,000 worth; Del. Thomas R. O'Farrell, D-Carroll, $216,000; Del. Preston L. Hale, D-Carroll, $100,000; and Del. Thomas F. Conlon, D-Allegany, $61,000.

Lansdale G. Clagett of Upper Marlboro, a member of the State Roads Commission is listed as writing $433,000 worth.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 45 Most Union regiments which went into action at Bull Run later had bands. Confederate forces had them, too, and on both sides were brigade and divisional commanders who maintained personal troupes of musical entertainers.

"Jeb" Stuart's favorite banjoist, Sam Sweeney, rode with him everywhere. Stuart also kept fiddlers handy.

No other war ever was accompanied by so much harmony—musically speaking. Music more expansive than drum roll and bugle call was deemed so necessary to morale that bandsmen were attracted with higher pay than infantrymen, cavalrymen or artillerymen were offered.

Bandsmen enjoyed more safety, too: both Johnny Reb and Billy Yank were disposed to spare a man on the opposing side who knew his business with trumpets, flute, cymbal, drum. A Confederate veteran recalled an incident in the siege of Atlanta—when the war had reached the bitterest stage:

The brass band of Maj. Arthur Shoaff's Georgia Sharpshooters had an expert cornetist. Each evening after supper, the musician came to the front lines and played for Confederates in the entrenchments. When firing was heavy, he failed to appear.

Across the lines, Federal pickets would shout, "Hey, Johnny Reb, we want that cornet player:"

"He would play but he's afraid you'll spoil his horn," was the response.

"We'll hold fire."

"Alright, Yanks."

The cornetist would then mount the works and play. The concert over, the firing would resume.

Some of the numerous war songs written in the North and South were played on both sides; one of these, surprisingly, was "Dixie." The latter was not the accepted Southern anthem until after the war. A rival in popularity in the South in 1861 was an adaption of the French militant anthem, "La Marseillaise" [see left].

Budgets Approved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of School Finance Wednesday approved budgets for four county school systems including the largest in the state—$18,487,503 for Kanawha County. The others are Clay $833,491, Morgan $610,404 and Gilmer $549,128. Grant and Hancock are the only counties which have not yet submitted their budgets for approval.

Cow Breeding Report Given

The Maryland Artificial Breeding Cooperative Inc. reports that during June 102 cows were bred in Allegany County.

Harry E. Miller, technician, performed the services. The 10 county dairymen with the highest number of breedings are:

Potomac State College, eight; C. A. Liller, six; C. W. Brinker, S. H. Brode, Harry H. Delbrook, A. E. and D. W. Light, C. W. and Elizabeth H. Miller and Shumaker Brothers, five each; Donald V. Brooks and William H. Winter, three each.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 Allegany County bred a total of 1,397 cows.

Frederick and Washington counties were among the three counties in the state breeding the highest number of cows for the fiscal year.

The two counties along with Harford bred a total of 31,441 cows.

Statewide, the cooperative had a gain of 2,906 cows, making a total of 68,838 cows bred over the preceding fiscal year.

Donates $20,000

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Glass Bottle Blowers union contributed $20,000 Wednesday to help families of members who were victims of the Charleston area flash floods last month. Union officials said local unions here at Parkersburg, Huntington, Fairmont and Morgantown contributed about $11,000 of the amount. The rest came from elsewhere around the country.

Suit Filed Here

A property damage suit stemming from a two-car accident July 6 this year on Bedford Street has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Catherine K. Moore, 115 Harrison Street, filed the suit against Walter Charles Simpson of 917 Grand Avenue.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, William Beeney, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white taffeta, with a scalloped neckline and cap sleeves, with which she wore elbow-length gloves. Her waist-length veil was draped from a matching taffeta headdress. Completing her costume, she carried white carnations on a white Bible.

Her maid of honor wore a pink organdy and taffeta dress with matching hat and veil, and the bridesmaids were in green and yellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ice were graduated from Marietta High School, class of 1960, and will be second-year students at Southland Bible Institute, Pikesville, Kentucky, when classes resume next month.

A reception was held in the church basement. Orange and white gladiolus centered the serving table, which was arranged with a three tier wedding cake and bowl of punch, which were served by Mrs. William Beeney, Mrs. James Mullenix, Mrs. David Binhamn, sisters of the bride and Mrs. William Yoho.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Charles Trappe, Mrs. Virgil Ice, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rinker and son, Rodger, Cumberland; Miss Mary Elizabeth Ice and Miss Cathy Sue Ice, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Low Bidders On Big Road Jobs Listed

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission Wednesday announced the apparent low bidders on four projects totaling $6.5 million.

The biggest job, a federal aid project, calls for surfacing one mile of the Capital Beltway from River Road to Seven Locks Road in Montgomery County. It includes relocation of River Road, reconstruction of Burdette Road and construction of an interchange between the beltway, River Road and Cabin John Parkway.

The apparent low bid on this project was a joint offer of $3,281,-111 by the Case Construction Corp. of Mt. Airy and T. Edgie Russell General Contractor Inc. of Frederick. There were four other bidders on the project, which carried an SRC estimate of $3,-386,973.

The Lycoming Construction Co. of Williamsport, Pa. was lowest of four bidders on a contract to extend the Jones Falls Expressway for 1.6 miles from Falls Road to Valley Road in Baltimore County.

The Pennsylvania firm bid $1,-541,847, compared to an SRC estimate of $1,666,394, on the second phase of the State's portion of an interstate project which will give motorists a non-stop facility from the Baltimore Beltway to the heart of the city.

Target date for opening the expressway is next fall.

On another Baltimore County project, Harry T. Campbell Sons Corp. of Towson was low bidder at $177,777 for widening Maryland 45 (York Road) from Seminary Avenue to Ridgely Road, a distance of less than one mile. There were two other offers.

The fourth project, surfacing Maryland 190 in Montgomery County for 2.3 miles from the District line to Winston Drive, attracted five bidders. The Wright Construction Co. of Odenton was low with an offer of $1,497,868.

Dwelling Permits Issued By County

Two dwelling permits have been issued by James G. Stevenson, clerk of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Wesley A. McGraw, Potomac Park, plans to build a brick veneer home which will have a concrete block foundation, composition roof and partial cellar.

Delbert S. Cowgill, Wiley Ford, plans to construct a brick dwelling with a concrete block foundation, composition roof and basement along Brice Hollow Road.

Moon Eclipse To Be Visible Friday Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Sky watchers will see an almost total eclipse of the moon Friday night—weather permitting.

More than 99 per cent of the moon's disk will pass through the earth's shadow, the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium said Wednesday.

Astronomers at the planetarium said the eclipse should be visible from all parts of the United States, except the northwestern tip of Alaska, starting at 8:35 p.m. EST.

Freeway Unit Will Meet At Clarksburg

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia - Pennsylvania Freeway Association will meet here Friday to draft a so-called plan of future action concerning a North-South superhighway.

The highway would cut through West Virginia from the Morgantown area to the Beckley vicinity. Principal speaker will be Julius W. Singleton, Morgantown, speaker of the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Association president Charles A. Montgomery, Clarksburg, said it is imperitive that construction be speeded up if West Virginia is to be in a position to tie in with the Pennsylvania portion of the route, already being built.

Five Injured In Accident In Mineral County

Two young men were hospitalized and three others slightly injured Tuesday when the car in which they were traveling overturned on U. S. Route 50 in Mineral County near the Grant County line.

Paul E. Kuhn, 21, of Emoryville, is reported in "satisfactory" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland. He sustained lacerations and abrasions.

Lonnie J. Kuhn, 18, of Mt. Storm, who suffered a possible fractured skull and severe facial lacerations, was taken to the Oakland hospital and later transferred to the West Virginia Medical Center, Morgantown, to undergo plastic surgery, attaches said.

Treated at the hospital and released were Ronald G. Kuhn, 19, of Mt. Storm, driver of the convertible car, Hobart E. Hipp, 16, and DeWitt E. Idleman, 15, of Mt. Storm.

State Police of Grant County said the accident near the Hilltop Restaurant at Hartmansville was apparently caused when the vehicle went into a curve in the road at too great a speed and overturned several times.

The car reportedly went off the highway to the berm, went out of control, careened to the opposite side and overturned.

Pittsburgh Wins Game In 9th, 7-6

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates spotted Milwaukee a three-run lead fashioned on Frank Thomas's grand-slam homer and then reached back into their 1960 book for a comeback touch and a 7-6 victory on Dick Stuart's ninth inning single.

Stuart, who drove in three runs, singled to right to score pinch runner Dick Schofield. The score was tied at 6-all when the Pirates went to bat for the last time.

Walt Moryn, batting for winner Elroy Face, singled and Schofield ran for him. The runner moved up on Bill Virdon's sacrifice and Bob Skinner, who had a homer in the eighth inning that enabled the Pirates to tie the count, was purposely walked by losing pitcher Don Nottebart. Then Stuart came through with his climactic blow that pleased the home crowd of 15,117.

Giants Belt Reds, 14 To 0

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants scored 12 runs during a wild ninth inning rally in which they tied a major league record by hitting five home runs to crush the Cincinnati Reds, 14-0, Wednesday night behind Juan Marichal's three-hit pitching.

The 12 runs set a major league record for runs scored in a ninth inning, surpassing the previous mark of 11. The five homers equalled a record previously shared by the 1939 Giants and the 1949 Philadelphia Phillies.

Five Bettors Have Bel Air Double

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—The combination of 10 and 2 proved lucky Wednesday for five $2 daily double ticket holders at Bel Air Race Track. The combination returned $5,237.60 for $2.

The five tickets were sold on Uncle Sid in the first race and Kid Rover, winner of the second. Both of the winners paid more than $100 straight in the mutuels.

Within a half hour after the second race, two of the ticket holders, who asked that they not be identified had cashed their stubs, after filling out the U. S. Internal Revenue forms, they requested payment by check. The track complied.

Westernport Whips Colts

Beats Klondyke 4-2 In Twilight Series

Righthander Ollie Smith twirled a five-hitter and struck out seven as he pitched Westernport to a 4-2 triumph over the Klondyke Colts yesterday in the second game of their championship playoffs in the Twilight Baseball League.

The victory gave Westernport a 2-0 edge in the best-of-five series for the playoff title. The winners defated the Colts 17-7 on Monday and the two teams will clash in the third game of the series on Friday at 5:30 p.m. at Midland.

Joe Niland smacked a solo home run in the third for Westernport and Dick Wilson doubled home a pair of tallies in the fourth to give the winners the margin of victory.

With Westernport trailing 2-1 in the fourth, Smith opened the frame with a single and after the next batter reached first on an error, Wilson doubled along the right field line to plate both runs. Westernport added an insurance tally in the sixth.

Special Meeting For Rec Managers

A special meeting for all managers of teams in the Rec Softball League has been called by Eugene Mason, city rec director, and Bill Payton, chairman of the league, for tonight at 6 p.m. at City Hall.

The meeting will deal with questions arising from playoff games being postponed by rain, Mason said, principally the contest between Wiley Ford and Bennett's Transfer which was interrupted in the fourth inning on Tuesday with the former leading 4-1.

Both playoff contests yesterday also were rained out.

Odds 13-10 Maris Won't Beat Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Although Roger Maris of the New York Yankees is running ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 home-run pace, the man-to-man betting in New York is 13-10 that Maris does not beat the record in 154 games against $5 bet by a Maris admirer. But if a Ruth reverer wishes to bet that Maris does not beat the record, he must pay up $7 against the bookie's $5 that Maris does.

The man-to-man price against Mickey Mantle beating the record in 154 is 2-1.

Double Pays $690

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — George W. Albright's Free Case, a 68-1 shot, won the second race at Shenandoah Downs Wednesday night, completing a record $690.60 daily double.

It was the highest combination payoff in the night track's three-year history. The $139.60 paid by Free Case to win was the second highest straight payoff.

Oklahoma State has not beaten Oklahoma at football in 15 tries since 1946. State won, 47-0, in 1945.

The title game between Lions and Rotary in the Frostburg Little League was postponed and will be played today at 6 p.m.

Smith Injured By Wall Collision

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The aches and pains Bobby Gene Smith complained of after two "wall crashes" and a dive for a fly ball were explained Wednesday when X-ray examination revealed the Philadelphia Phillies,' outfielder was suffering a broken rib and a pulled muscle.

Temple's Homer Defeats Mossi

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Johnny Temple hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning to give the Cleveland Indians a 4-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night. It was Temple's third homer of the season and came after Vic Power beat out a bunt for a hit.

Barry Latman was credited with his 10th victory against three defeats. He was removed in the seventh inning for a pinch-hitter and Frank Funk finished the game for the Indians, blanking the Tigers in the last two frames.

Rocky Colavito hit his 34th homer in the fourth inning with the bases empty. In the seventh the Tigers added another run when Norm Cash walked, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Chico Fernandez' single.

Geiger, Jensen Homer For Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Gary Geiger and Jackie Jensen blasted late-inning homers Wednesday and propelled the Boston Red Sox to a 9-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

Geiger blasted a two-run homer, his 17th of the season, in the seventh inning, breaking a 3-3 tie. His 385-foot drive came on a full count, fast ball delivery off loser Marty Kutyna (6-6).

Jensen wrapped up the game an inning later with his 10th homer, a line drive into the screen atop the left field wall, with two mates aboard.

Kutyna was the victim of this one too.

The big hits provided Bill Monbouquette his 9th victory of the season — first since July 5 — against 12 losses. He scattered eight hits in going the distance.

Two of the safeties were homers—solo, back to back jobs by Bob Johnson and Gene Woodling in the fourth inning.

Roberta Albers Defeats Judy Eller In Amateur Golf

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) Roberta Albers, 14-year-old golfing wizard from Temple Terrace, near Tampa, Fla., won her third round match in the Women's National Amateur golf tournament Wednesday when she trounced Curtis Cupper Judy Eller, Old Hickory, Tenn., 5 and 3.

But 17-year-old Mary Lowell, the upset kid from Hayward, Calif., and British Amateur champion Elizabeth Price, Farnham, England, were knocked out of the running.

Miss Lowell, who eliminated defending champion JoAnne Gunderson Tuesday, was the victim of a steel-nerved round by national intercollegiate champion Judy Hoetmer, Seattle, and was soundly beaten, 5 and 4.

Phyllis Preuss, Gregory, Mich., came from far off the pace to beat Mrs. Price, 1-up.

Fisher, Snyder Cop Upset Win In Doubles Tourney

Douglas, Crawford Lose To Unknowns

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — In the first upset of the 81st USLTA National Doubles Tennis Championships, comparative unknowns Ron Fisher and Dave Snyder ousted seventh-seeded Jon Douglas and Chris Crawford, 7-9, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, 10-8, Wednesday.

Fisher, 21, of Houston, Tex., and Snyder, 26, University of Arizona tennis coach from Tucson, turned the trick amid a steady drizzle that forced suspension of play at one point.

The rain also caused postponement of all the women's matches and many of the men's at water-soaked Longwood Cricket Club.

Play was delayed for 15 minutes in the upset with former Stanford football quarterback Douglas and 22-year-old Berkeley Calif., resident Crawford leading, two sets to none.

Only three second-round men's matches were played as the rain grew heavier throughout the day. None of the top seeds were in action.

Miguel Olvera and Edwardo Zuelta of Ecuador romped through a straight sets win over local favorites Paul Sullivan of Belmont, Mass., and Ned Weld of Weston, Mass., 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and Whit Reed of Alameda, Calif., the eighth-ranked tandem, fired their way into the third round with a toying 7-5, 6-4, 11-13, 6-4 triumph over Hubert Hauck of Portland, Maine, and Arthur Hills of Winchester, Mass.

The top-seeded father and son, team was eliminated in morning action, former winners Frank A. Froehling Jr., and Frank A. Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., turning the trick. Losers in the 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, match were Harry R. Hoffmann and Harry Jr., of Philadelphia, who won in 1957, 1958 and last year.

In the lone women's match, Mrs. Merceina Parker of St. Louis and Mrs. Mary Richards of Newton, Mass., defeated Kay Hubbell of Conway, N.H., and Mary Sherar of Yakima, Wash., 1-6, 7-5, 6-1, to gain the quarterfinals.

Higgins Denies He'll Quit Bosox

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston Red Sox manager Mike Higgins Wednesday denied a published report that he will quit at the end of this season.

The Boston American this morning printed a report of his impending resignation, saying Higgins would probably accept a "semi-retired position as scout, adviser on trades and trouble shooter for owner Tom Yawkey."

Higgins reacted to the story by saying it was "someone's invention."

Shuffle Loop To Meet Today

The Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League will hold a meeting today at 8:30 p. m. at the Purple Heart Club on Greene Street.

All teams that were members of the circuit last year and seek to re-enter again this season are expected to be represented at tonight's meeting.

New teams seeking berths in the league also are invited to attend the session.

SA Eliminates Potomac Park, 6-3

Salvation Army broke a 3-3 tie with three runs in the fourth inning and went on to eliminate Potomac Park from the Church Softball League's double elimination tournament yesterday at Triple Lakes field. The score was 6-3.

Ball Rawnsley held the losers to six hits as Salvation Army advanced to the semi-final round against First Baptist on Monday at 6 p.m. at Triple Lakes. The winner will meet undefeated Cresaptown for the title.

Salvation Army	120 300	6—6	2	2
Potomac Park	300 000	0—3	6	0

Lane Says Job With Athletics Was "Rat Race"

Had No Authority Under Owner Finley

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Frank Lane Thursday called his short career as general manager of the Kansas City Athletics a rat race and said it developed he had no authority.

Club owner Charles O. Finley fired Lane Wednesday, charging him with spreading harmful rumors about the faltering, 10th place American League baseball team.

Lane denied Finley's accusation and disclosed a long-simmering, under-surface feud between the two.

His chief charge in his salvo of accusations against his former boss was that Finley has been considering moving the club to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Rumors to this effect broke a week ago. Finley denied them.

"I know what I'm talking about when I say this move has been in Finley's mind for some time," Lane said. "Now that he knows it can't be done, he is saying he never contemplated it."

One of Finley's charges was that Lane had been responsible for the firing of Manager Joe Gordon.

"I did not fire Gordon and Finley knows it," Lane continued. "In fact, Gordon and I got along very well. I have made the promise to Gordon that if I ever get another job Gordon will be the first man I hire."

He said that after Hank Bauer was appointed to Gordon's spot "Finley wanted me on several occasions to fire him." But Lane said he felt that outfielder Bauer had been doing a better job than could be hoped for in a man with no previous managerial experience.

Curry Retains National Title In Net Tourney

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Hugh Curry, of Orlando, Fla., defending national boy's champion in the 15 and under division, retained his title by defeating Bob Gieltz of Bethesda, Md. here Wednesday, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

Earlier, Curry defeated Dick Dell of Bethesda, 7-5, 7-5, to gain a spot in the finals of the Eastern Shore Tennis tournament here. Goeltz fought his way to the finals by defeating Ray Buck-Lew of Baltimore 6-1, 6-3.

Defending champion Jim Busick of Cambridge retained his crown in the junior division (boys 18 and under), defeating Russell Tontz of Baltimore 6-2, 9-7. Tontz battled back from a 5-2 deficit in the second set and at one time tied the score 5-all. He failed to sutain his rally, however, and finally went down 9-7.

Jack Stevenson of Salisbury took the boys 13 and under division, downing Phil Irish of Bethesda 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

Novikov Captures Pentathlon Title With 5,217 Points

MOSCOW (UPI)—Igor Novikov, 32 year-old teacher from Yerevan, won the world pentathlon championship for the fourth time Wednesday and became the first world champion to score over five thousand points in this event.

Novikov's 5,217 points in the five-day gruelling contest was a personal best.

Runners-up Ivan Deryugin of the U.S.S.R. and Andras Balczo of Hungary also exceeded the 5,000 points mark with 5,092 and 5,070 points, respectively, as Russia took the team title.

Alan Jackson, Bob Beck and Arnold Sowell., the U.S. entries, placed 9th, 10th and 15th, respectively, in the individual overall standings.

Overall team standings: U.S.S.R. 15,220 points; 2. Hungary, 13,358; 3. United States, 13,255; 4. Finland, 13,176; 5. Sweden, 12,755; 6. Japan, 12,365.

Women's Golf Tour Resumes

Spokane Open Begins Today

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) —The Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour resumes here Thursday after a 10-day layoff when more than 25 of the nation's top women golfers vie for some $7,500 in prize money in the Spokane Open.

The lady golfers have been idle since Louise Suggs fired a 295 to capture the Kansas City Open more than a week ago but begin their Far West tour here on the 6,077-yard, par-70 Esmeralda golf course.

Miss Suggs was not expected to be on hand for the tourney, automatically installing Mickey Wright, San Diego, Calif., the favorite to cop $1,200 first prize.

Betsy Rawls, LPGA president, and Mary Lena Faulk figure to give the long-hitting Californian the most competition while young Shirley Englehorn will be the crowd's favorite in the four-day, 72-hole meet.

Miss Englehorn, from Caldwell, Idaho, is sponsored on the professional circuit by Spokane's Athletic Round Table — the sponsoring body for this the second Spokane Open.

Liston-Johansson Fight Up In Air

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The proposed Sonny Liston-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight bout for Canada in December was up in the air Thursday.

While promoter Bill Fugazy of New York appeared optimistic about bringing the two top contenders together in Toronto or Montreal, the chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission wasn't in any such mood.

The chairman, Jim Crowley, pointed out that Liston is under indefinite suspension by the Pennsylvania commission.

Crowley said that Pennsylvania is a member of the National Boxing Association and so are Toronto and Montreal and as such he expected them to honor the suspension.

TO TELEVISE TENNIS

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV announced Tuesday that it will nationally televise the semifinal and final rounds of the 81st National Singles Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., on Sept. 9-10. The tournament will be presented on both tape and live, starting both days at 5:30 p.m. EDT and continuing to 7 p.m. Only the men's semifinals will be televised on Saturday but both the men's and women's finals will be covered on Sunday.

Bel Air Double Pays $5,237 For $2

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—The combination of Uncle Sid in the first race and Kid Rover, winner of the second, paid a $5,237.60-for-$2 daily double at Bel Air race track Wednesday.

Uncle Sid paid $111 straight in taking the opener, and Kid Rover returned $161.40 in the second race.

Game Postponed, Reset For Today

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies - Chicago Cubs game scheduled for Connie Mack Stadium Wednesday night was postponed because of rain.

The game was rescheduled for Thursday night, an off-day for each club. It marks the final appearance of the year in Philadelphia for the Cubs.

Mexico Hurler Wins No-Hitter

Tops Germany 4-0 At Williamsport

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—Rafael Montemayor, 12-year-old fastballer for Monterrey, Mex., tossed a no-hit, no-run game Wednesday in defeating Pirmasens, Germany, 4-0, in the quarter-finals of the 15th annual Little League World Series.

A two-run homer by Bill Shutt powered El Campo, Tex., to a 4-2 extra inning victory over Terre Haute, Ind., in the first game of the quarter-final competition.

Montemayor, a 5-foot, 8-inch, 165-pound righthander, permitted only three Pirmasens players to reach base, all on walks. He struck out 12 in relying mostly on a fast ball and slow curve.

The no-hitter was the fifth in Little League World Series history. The last one was fashioned by Joey Mormello of Levittown, Pa., in the championship game last year.

Monterrey will face El Campo and El Cajon, Calif., will meet Hilo, Hawaii Thursday in the semi-finals.

Bolt To Miss $50,000 American Golf Classic

30-Day Suspension Meted Out; Top Pros Vie At Akron Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A crack field of professionals and amateurs was set to shoot for the big pot of gold in the $50,000 American Golf Classic Thursday, but Tommy Bolt was pushed to the side-lines with a new suspension.

The stormy Bolt was handed a 30-day retroactive suspension by the Professional Golfers Association Appeals Committee after a 90-minute hearing Wednesday. Bolt said he regarded the decision as fair. Complaining of a bad back, he headed for home in Crystal Beach, Fla.

The 43-year-old golfer was reprimanded for an incident that occurred off the links. It was at the PGA tournament in Chicago on July 30. Bolt was accused of using "bad language" in the presence of club members in the locker room at Olympia Fields.

The PGA gave Bolt an indefinite suspension three weeks ago.

Despite the absence of the colorful Bolt, the field is top notch. Heading the golfers shooting over the tough par 35-35—70 Firestone Country Club course—7,165 yards if it is played full length — are Gary Player, Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders. Those three are the leading money-winners on the pro tour. Gene Littler, the National Open champ, and PGA king Jerry Barber also are entered in the 72-hole test, along with popular Sam Snead.

The entire field will play Thursday and Friday. The 90 low scorers and ties after 36 holes will fire in the third round Saturday, and the low 60 and ties in the final 18 Sunday.

State Agency Announces Waterfowl Seasons, Limits, Shooting Hours

Both Redhead And Canvasback Ducks Remain Protected

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Department of Game and Inland Fish Wednesday announced seasons, limits and shooting hours for the taking of migratory waterfowl for 1961-62.

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the conservation agency, said the action was taken in cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and in conformity with state and federal laws.

Vaughn said redhead ducks and canvasbacks remain in such a precarious condition that they are still on the fully protected list. The director said this action was prompted by the drought which resulted in what was described as the worst breeding ground conditions in 30 years.

The regulations:

Ducks and Coots: The open season will be from Nov. 11 to Dec. 30 with shooting from sunrise to sunset, Eastern Standard Time, except on opening day when it will be from noon to sunset. The daily bag limit for ducks is two with a possession limit of four. For coots, the bag and possession limits are six.

The regulation also provides that the daily bag and possession limits may not include more than two wood ducks and one hooded merganser.

In addition to the bag limits on other ducks, the daily bag limit on American and red-breasted mergansers is five with a possession limit of ten.

Geese and Brant: The open season will run from Nov. 10 to Jan. 8 with shooting from sunrise to sunset. The daily bag limit for geese (except snow geese) is two with a possession limit of four. Brant hunters will have bag and possession limits of 10.

Vaughn said all persons hunting wild waterfowl must have a $3 federal duck stamp in addition to the regular hunting license. He said these stamps can be purchased at most post offices. Hunters under 16 are not required to have the duck stamp.

The director said the use of live decoys, bait, sinkbox, rifles or handguns, crossbow and recording devices is illegal but use of the bow and arrow is permitted.

A boat may be used as a blind as long as it is not under power and is anchored or tied in a licensed blind site for the current hunting season, Vaughn said.

Tackle Sidelined With Muscle Strain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Arthur of Baltimore, junior tackle on the University of Pennsylvania football squad, will be sidelined from 4 to 5 weeks, the university announced Wednesday.

Officials said Arthur, 225-pounder considered an outstanding prospect, will require a minor operation to correct a strain.

Gambrills Defeated In Amateur Tourney

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — John Pavlik of Cleveland tossed a one-hitter in blanking Gambrills, Md., 6-0 Wednesday in the first round of the National Amateur Baseball Federation Junior Tournament.

In other first round games Youngstown beat Philadelphia 4-2 in 10 innings and Cincinnati took Dayton 7-4.

1959 Ford Wagon

An exceptionally clean station wagon that reflects the good care given it by its one owner. The inside and upholstery looks like new because this station wagon was not used for delivery or to haul heavy objects. Original light green exterior finish. Fords powerful yet economical 6 cylinder engine teamed with Fordomatic transmission, makes this 4-door station wagon a pleasure to drive. Heater, defroster, radio, turn signals, and small accessories plus safety door locks that children cannot open. This is an outstanding station wagon and so is the price of

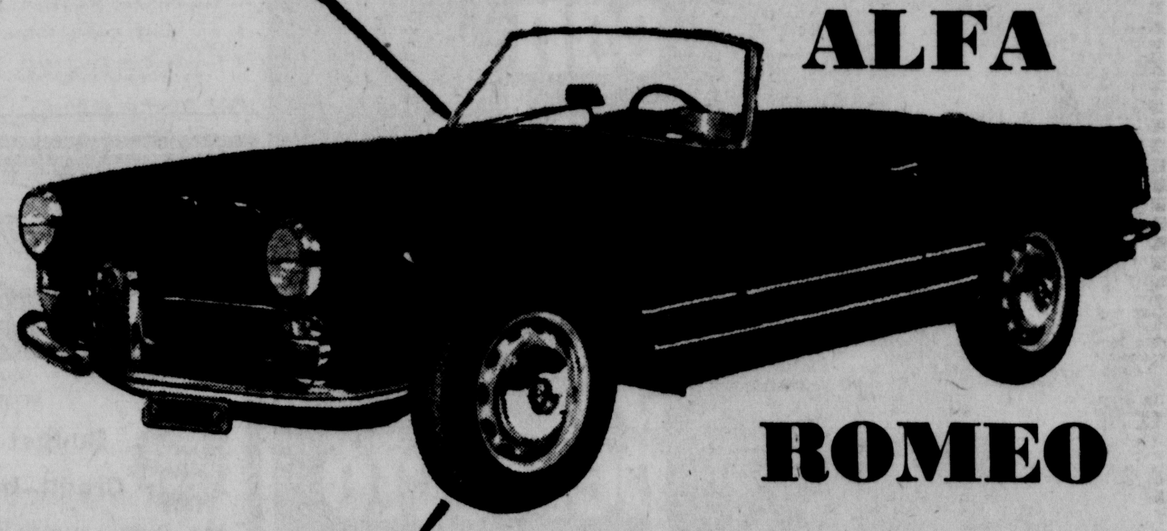
of the Famous Italian Sports Car,

ALFA ROMEO



ALFA The body created by Bertone, is one of the most agreeable applications of the laws of aerodynamics. It is a masterpiece of elegance, classical but modern, renowned the world over.

The powerful engine, small dimensions and narrow steering radius give the Romeo remarkable managerial ability on mountain roads. Due to the fully synchronized gear box, it is possible to down gear back into first and push to maximum power on the sharpest curves. On straight roads, whether the surface is dry or wet, and on wide curves the managerial ability is really surprising. At the end of a curve, the wheel comes back rapidly.

The brakes are highly efficient and secure, with world famed instantaneous action which allows the car to come to a stop even at high speed due to both dimensions and excellent cooling. The braking action does not fade even after the most intensive use.

The heart of the excellent performance of the Giulietta Sprint is the engine, rated at 80 HP (SAE 92) at 6300 r.p.m. The double barrel vertical Solex 35 APAI-G carburetor is fitted with an accelerating pump and with a hydraulic amortizer on the automatically controlled regulator. This provides regular carburetion. Most remarkable: this engine is perfectly silent.

True sports car, designed for speed, the Alfa Romeo nevertheless offers high comfort and space. The interior is perfectly suited to the low, racy profile of the car. Driver as well as passengers will appreciate the individual seats with adjustable back, the wide round windshield, all contributing to perfect visibility in all directions. The flat bench behind the seats can be either used as a luggage compartment or be fitted with upholstered cushions, thus providing space for two additional seats. Excellent heating is provided through three openings under the windshield for de-icing, de-fogging and comfort.

The famous ALFA ROMEO sports car is now available in Cumberland and Frostburg at Potomac Motors. Three outstanding models . . . . . with prices starting at $3150. And our factory-trained sports car service specialist will be able to keep it in first-class competitive condition.

Market Declines Sharply As Auto Walkout Feared

NEW YORK (UPI) — Declines outnumbered advances by nearly two-to-one on the stock market Wednesday, as mounting fears of an auto strike drove prices sharply lower.

Volume declined for the fifth consecutive session on the sell-off however, totaling 3,550,000 shares against 3,640,000 in the prior session.

A total of 1,264 issues crossed the tape — 13 less than the day before and six less than a week ago. Of these 363 advanced, 41 to new highs, and 682 declined, 15 to new lows.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index finished at 67.98 for a loss of 0.46 while Dow-Jones 30 industrials fell 5.30 to 720.46 with 10 issues within the indicator losing a poin' or more.

These were American Telephone, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Foods, General Motors, Johns-Manville, Swift & Co., Texaco, United Aircraft and U.S. Steel. Owens-Illinois Glass and Union Carbide added a point each and Procter & Gamble 1⅛.

D-J rails dipped 0.19 to 144.73 with B&O down 1⅞, Illinois Central off 2¾ and Southern Railway up 1¾. Utilities closed at 119.93 off 0.18 with Cleveland Electric down a point.

Four Stores Open Today At LaVale Plaza

Ribbon Cutting Ceremonies Slated

Ribbon cutting ceremonies are scheduled at 10 a.m. by two of the four stores which will open today in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center.

Full ceremonies are planned by the W. T. Grant Store and the new McCrory store in the center.

The other two units which open today, Nobil's and the H-P Stores, plan to hold formal opening ceremonies on August 31, when the shopping center is scheduled to go into full operations.

To Cut Ribbons

The area's new McCrory's store will open today at 10 a.m. with ribbon cutting ceremonies.

The new self-serve store is the newest link in a nationwide chain of 681 stores and will have 20,000 square feet of floor space, about 13,700 feet of it in sales area.

The LaVale store will be a variety department store offering a full line of home furnishings, including television sets, automobile accessories, women's and men's wearing apparel departments, and a snack bar.

Gene M. Early, a native of Texas, is the manager of the store, which will have about 40 employes when it is in full operation.

Mr. Early was transferred from the firm's Stillwater, Okla., store to manage the new store in LaVale. He has been with McCrory's for about 10 years.

He and his wife and their three children, Gene Jr., 6; Kathryn Ann, 3, and Janet Lynn, 1, are making their home on Winchester Road.

McCrory's has operated a 5 and 10-cent store on Baltimore Street for many years.

Grants To Open

Ribbon cutting ceremonies are planned at 10 a. m. at the new W. T. Grant Company store in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center.

Among the Grant officials here for the opening will be William Lockett, Chicago, regional merchandising manager, and J. T. Reynonds, district manager.

The store will have 2,865 feet of counter space in its LaVale unit.

Manager of the store will be Carl A. Wood. About 90 employes will be on hand for the grand opening.

Second In Area

Nobil's, which has operated a shoe store at 135 Baltimore Street for many years, will open a new store in the LaVale Plaza center today at 10 a. m. and will continue its grand opening through Saturday.

Leonard C. Cody, 933 Weires Avenue, LaVale, who has been manager of the Baltimore Street store, will be in charge of the LaVale store and will have Gary Screen as his assistant.

The firm's Baltimore Street store will be managed by Jack Edwards, who has been assistant manager.

Nobil's will offer some 20,000 pairs of shoes for the family in its LaVale store, which is located in a 30-by-120-foot unit in the center.

Plans Opening

The H-P Stores will open its unit in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center today at 10 a. m. but will hold its formal grand opening on August 31 with many other units in the center.

Joseph Tresino, who has managed the company's Piedmont store for several years, will be the manager of the store. The staff will include two assistant managers and about 12 sales girls.

The store will offer a full line of clothing and shoes in the LaVale unit, which has about 7,000 square feet of floor space.

The company also operates units at Keyser, Piedmont, Romney, Moorefield, Petersburg and Kingwood, W. Va.; Oakland and Hancock, Md., and Meyersdale, Pa., and 14 other communities in the tri-state area.

THEIR STORES OPEN TODAY — These four men will manage four stores which will open this morning at 10 o'clock in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center. Two of the stores will hold ribbon cutting ceremonies in connection with their grand openings and all are expected to participate in the ceremonies planned August 31, when other units begin operations.

Cresaptown Couple Take Dairy Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hardman of Cresaptown were among a group of Maryland dairymen who have returned from a tour of Wisconsin and Illinois.

They visited purebred dairy farms, commercial farms, the University of Wisconsin, a farm machinery manufacturing plant, artificial breeding service and a milk processing plant.

The group showed interest in the methods used by Wisconsin dairymen in feeding green or soft corn.

Sears Again Refuses Auto Insurance Probe

BALTIMORE (AP) — State insurance officials have declined for the second time to hold public hearings on policy-cancellation procedures of certain automobile insurance companies.

Douglas Sears, the state insurance commissioner, Wednesday refused a request from the Maryland Plaintiffs' Bar Association for a hearing on what the association termed "improper" and "arbitrary" cancellations which force some motorists into assigned risk programs.

Sears previously had rejected a similar request made by Hyman A. Pressman, Baltimore attorney.

Sears said his department has no authority to prescribe rules which a company may adopt concerning the risks it will keep insured.

The commissioner also said the bar association had not cited any specific case of alleged violation by any particular company. He said in order to hold the hearings requested he would have to notify the company complained against.

GRADUATES FRIDAY—Miss Bonnie Lee Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher, 216 Arch Street, will graduate tomorrow as an X-ray technician from Johns Hopkins School of Radiology in Baltimore. Miss Fisher is a 1959 graduate of St. Mary's High School. She has accepted a position on the staff at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Forestry Experts Will Inventory Md. Timber Crop

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Federal and state forestry experts are taking an inventory of Maryland's valuable timber crop.

The Department of Forests and Parks reported Wednesday that Maryland foresters are working with the U. S. Forest Service on the first such survey since 1950.

The state forestry agency said the survey will determine Maryland's tree growth in the ten-year period and serve as a guide for management and use of the state's forest resources.

The department said Maryland's timber falls in four classes—seedling, sapling, pole and saw timber. The loblolly pines predominate along the Eastern Shore while in Western Maryland the hardwoods and scattered white pine and hemlocks make up most of the timber crop.

Gas Tax Refund Requires Claim

Owners, tenants or operators of farms in Allegany County who buy gasoline for use on the farm are being reminded that claims for a refund of federal tax on the gas must be filed no later than September 30.

Forms 2240 used in filing the claim are available at the office of Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent. He said the amount refundable for each gallon used is three cents for gasoline purchased before October 1, 1959 and after June 30, 1961, and four cents for gasoline purchased from October 1, 1959 through June 30 this year.

Mr. Steger pointed out that the form is to be filed with the U.S. District Director of Internal Revenue. Additional information may be obtained at Mr. Steger's office at the Court House.

To Attend CD Meet

Volunteer fire companies linked with the Cumberland Fire Department's Civil Defense program will hold a CD meeting on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Bowling Green fire hall.

The meeting will be in charge of Allan Deffinbaugh, assistant coordinator for this area. Alvey Poole, assistant chief of the Cumberland Fire Department is coordinator.

All volunteer companies are asked to send a representative to the meeting at which time plans will be discussed for the national CD alert in October and future drills.

Moose To Make Bid For 1962 Convention

Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will make a strong bid for the 1962 convention when the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia lodges hold their state meeting in Salisbury Friday through Sunday.

Heading the Cumberland delegation will be Frank J. Davis, past state president.

Other delegates will be Russell R. Minnicks, governor; Arthur F. Gellner, secretary; Herman V. Lewis, prelate; George Thomas, treasurer, and Edward Roberts, trustee. All will be accompanied by their wives.

The Cumberland Lodge is slated to receive a trophy at the convention for winning third place in the Maryland Moose Bowling Tournament last March.

Beall, Conlon To Help Write Md. Insurance

18 Legislators Receive Policies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Some 18 Maryland legislators are among insurance agents writing policies on state-owned buildings.

The insurance written by the lawmakers has a total policy value of $11.9 million, according to figures released Wednesday by the deputy State treasurer, J. Hugh Taylor.

Taylor said the state pays about $545 for a three-year policy on each $100,000. Of this $545, the agent gets about $100 in commissions.

The 18 legislators, then, receive about $11,900 in commissions from the state for each three - year period.

House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson, D-Prince Georges, accounts for nearly half the total amount written by legislators. Wilkinson's Hyattsville firm is agent for $5.6 million worth of insurance on state buildings, or about $5,600 in commissions for three-year period.

D'Alesandro Firm Included

Among federal officials participating in Maryland's insurance cover are U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall, and Thomas D'Alesandro former Baltimore mayor and now a member of the Federal Renegotiations Board.

Sen. Beall's Frostburg firm is writing $1,253,000 worth, and D'Alesandro's Baltimore agency is handling $3,814,000 worth.

All told, some 563 agents write more than $241 million in insurance policies on state property at a cost of about $1.3 million every three years. Nearly all the coverage is against fire.

Taylor said Maryland officials feel the state gets the best coverage by placing insurance through private commercial firms rather than through self-insurance. He

FOE Stag Picnic Planned Sunday

The annual stag picnic of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the SS. Peter and Paul picnic grounds along Mason Road.

Members and prospective members are invited to attend, according to Herman L. Myers, secretary, who said invitations have been sent to some 20 neighboring aeries.

Man Given $200 Fine In Liquor Case

Zihlman Tavern Owner Charged

A Zihlman tavern operator was fined $200 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court after he was found guilty of two liquor law violations.

The man, Raymond Anderson, was found guilty of the two charges by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Anderson was charged with possession alcoholic beverages for the purpose of consumption and permitting the consumption of alcoholic beverages after 1 a.m.

The violations occurred on August 19 and Anderson was arrested on warrants secured by Roy Willison, an inspector for the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

Simon F. Reilly represented Anderson, and State's Attorney James S. Getty prosecuted for the state.

Mr. Getty said Anderson has a license to sell only beer, but had several bottles of liquor on the premises for consumption.

Area Men Face Sentencing In Federal Court

United States District Court will convene Monday in Wheeling, W. Va., at which time several persons are to be sentenced and a former bank executive, Reed Garvin, 54, of Glen Dale, Marshall County, is to enter a plea on a charge of falsifying bank records to the tune of $100,000.

Garvin, former executive vice president of the bank of McMechen, was arrested July 11, 1960 on the bank charge. He has been free under $10,000 bond and the hearing had been delayed because of his ill health.

Seven other persons indicted in Elkins are to be sentenced, as they have already entered guilty pleas. Among them are Herbert Waybright of Mineral County and Virgil A. Elza of Randolph County, charged with moonshining; and Max G. Parkinson of Hagerstown on a charge of extortion.

City Tax Bill Preparation To Begin Today

230 Corporations To Get Statements

The preparation of Cumberland tax bills for the 1961-62 fiscal year will begin today, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner.

Some 13,000 tax bills are scheduled to be delivered to City Hall today, and workers in the City Collector's and Finance offices will begin immediately on the task of preparing the statements which are scheduled to be mailed by September 23.

Printed on buff stock, the bills will call for a tax rate of $1.54, including $1.2498 for operating expenses of the city and 29.02 cents for debt service.

Will Make Changes

The City Collector's office will place the names, addresses and assessments on the bills, and Finance Office workers will calculate the amount of taxes due.

Mrs. Roeder said the office will, as usual, be able to take care of any changes of address, so statements will be delivered promptly.

City taxes may be paid interest free until midnight on Monday, October 23.

Interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month, dating back to the signing of the levy Monday, will be charged beginning October 24.

To Bill Corporations

Some 230 bills for corporation taxes will go out today, Mrs. Roeder said.

Another 120 corporations will be billed throughout the year as assessments are certified by the State Tax Commission.

The prompt action on the corporation tax bills is a service to corporations, many of which are anxious to close their accounts.

It is also of great advantage to the City of Cumberland, since prompt payment can tide the city over, without the expense of borrowing for operating expenses, until the other tax funds begin to come in late in September.

State's Attorney Cites Officers For Work On Case

State's Attorney James S. Getty has written letters to heads of two law enforcement agencies in the county commending their men for outstanding work in the murder trial which ended Tuesday.

In a letter to Lt. W. E. O'Hara, Mr. Getty cited the "outstanding and thorough investigation" in the case by Sgt. William F. Baker, Tfc. Bruce E. Diehl, Tfc. Willis E. Diehl and Trooper Richard J. Graham.

Mr. Getty also wrote Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and commended the work by Deputy Edgar M. Lewis in the case. The state's attorney said Deputy Lewis produced several vital witnesses and conducted much of the investigation on his own time.

Mr. Getty said the officers in the case displayed the highest degree of cooperation between investigator and prosecutor.

Long Hill Job Progresses

This aerial photograph shows some of the progress which is being made by the Cumberland Contracting Company on the relocation of U. S. Route 40 in the Long Hill section. The work is being done for the State Roads Commission under a $941,430.15 contract which begins at a point near the east approach of the Cumberland Thruway and extends 1.4 miles toward Wolf's Mill. The dual highway will be north of the present road, as grading work in the picture shows. A bridge on top of Long Hill is included in the contract, which is one of four which are under way on Route 40 in Allegany County.

THEOS A. ANGELUS

Named Charter Senior Member Of Rocket Unit

Highest Grade Of Membership

Theos A. Angelus, Sunset View, senior research mathematician in the rocket research department of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, is one of five Hercules Powder Company employes who have been appointed charter senior members of the American Rocket Society.

The selections were made by a special committee appointed by the society's board of directors.

The four other Herculites named were Dr. Loren E. Morey, Dr. Lyman G. Bonner and Dr. Einar West, all formerly of ABL, and Fred M. Hakenjos, director of operations, Chemical Propulsion Division.

An initial group of 721 senior members were named by the ARS special committee from a total membership of about 18,500.

Senior members are professional persons with at least 10 years' experience in science or engineering in or related to rocketry and astronautics who have by above average performance in at least four of those years, attained distinction in their fields.

The senior member grade is the highest grade of membership for which application may be made.

Mr. Angelus, a native of Alma, Mich., and a graduate of Michigan State University with a B.S. degree in mathematics, joined ABL on December 28, 1954 as a research assistant.

He is a member of the technical working group on solid propellant instability of combustion established by the Department of Defense, is past president of the Algonquin Players, and is a committeeman in Boy Scout work.

Mr. Angelus has published a number of papers in the classified and open press, and at ABL has worked in the field of ballistics research and experimental techniques.

Woman Falls From Car

A Newark, N. J. woman was hospitalized yesterday morning in Bedford, Pa., after being injured when she fell from a moving car at the Bedford interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Eleanor Slawinski. She received a fractured jaw and multiple abrasions of the body.

State Police at Everett said Mrs. Slawinski was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Edward R. Slawinski. Police said Mr. Slawinski applied his brakes sharply to avoid hitting a slow-moving vehicle and Mrs. Slawinski was thrown from the car when the door flew open. Mrs. Slawinski was asleep at the time of the accident, police said.

Swim Revue Monday At Celanese Pool

A swim revue by students of Raymond "Ike" Law, 302 Cumberland Street, local swimming instructor, will be held on Monday at 7 p.m. at the Celanese pool.

Mr. Law said about 75 persons including four- and five-year-old youngsters, will participate in the 43d annual revue, open to the public at no charge.

The revue usually attracts a large number of spectators. Mr. Law said there will be a diving exhibition as well as a swimming exhibition.

All participants, he said, are to be on hand at 6:30 p.m.

Two Men Hurt In Accident Near Bedford

Cars Hit Headon On Route 220

Two Bedford, Pa., motorists were injured late yesterday afternoon in a two-car headon collision on U.S. Route 220 about a mile south of that community, according to police, who said nearly $3,000 in property damage was caused.

Pennsylvania State Police said Cessna was driving a sedan south on Route 220 at an apparent high rate of speed and rounded a curve on the wrong side of the road.

The car plowed headon into a taxi being driven north on Route 220 by Gordon. They said Cessna will be charged with reckless driving.

The accident at 4:05 p.m. (EST) occurred near the Bedford Elks Club. The two men were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Gordon, who is employed by the Armored Carrier Corporation of Pittsburgh, was reported to have been driving the taxi while on vacation.

About $1,500 damages were caused to the Cessna car and about $1,400 damages to the taxicab, police said.

ABL, Navy Investigating Fire, Blast

A fire and explosion which caused about $100,000 property damage Tuesday night at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory is being investigated by ABL officials and the Navy.

Officials reported no persons were hurt in the explosion at 9:41 p.m. while an experimental rocket propellant was being mixed at the facility operated by Hercules Powder Company for the Navy.

A 35 by 17-foot building housing the operation was destroyed by the blast and fire. No one was inside the building in which equipment was being operated by remote control from another building. The experimental operation was being monitored by television, ABL spokesmen explained.

The 600 - square - foot structure was located in an isolated section of the ABL reservation, away from other buildings and behind a high mound of protective earth.

ABL officials said the operation of the Rocket Center, W. Va., facility, engaged in research and development of solid propellant rockets, has not been affected by the incident.

The explosion rattled windows in homes here and in nearby Short Gap, W. Va., causing considerable excitement because of the explosion at the ABL plant on May 22, three months ago to the day, in which nine persons were killed.

Drainage Problem Can Be Solved

County Roads Commissioner Harry T. Skelly said yesterday that Andrew N. McLuckie, Baltimore Pike, has notified him that he plans to move a pile of rocks near the outlet of a cross drain where a drainage problem has developed on Pleasant Valley Road.

Mr. McLuckie said the rock pile, standing for at least 20 years, was not the cause of the problem. He had been notified to do something about it.

Mr. Skelly said that a new fill on U. S. 40 has caused erosion. Debris washes along the east side of the road, fills in a ditch and damages the hard surface of the road. Both men agreed that a larger drain pipe is needed under Pleasant Valley Road. Mr. Skelly said seeding of the new fill should correct the erosion problem.

U.S. Tanks Confront Reds

Soviets Send New Note On Berlin Issue

Message Details Unavailable; U.S. Blasts New Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets have sent a new note dealing with the question of access to the Communist-surrounded city of West Berlin, a Western diplomat said Wednesday night.

This word was given to newsmen at the windup of a 2½-hour session by a Western Big Four ambassadorial group considering the German issue.

There was no immediate word on the content of the note.

Earlier, the U.S. government had issued a statement denouncing the new Berlin restrictions as another Communist move to confine 17 million East Germans and East Berliners "behind barbed wire and concrete curtains."

Barricading Followup

U.S. strategists tended to regard the new restrictions as a followup on the Communists' Aug. 13 barricading of the East Berlin border, rather than as an impairment of vital Western rights such as access by the West to West Berlin.

No details were immediately available on the reported new note from Moscow.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said one of the points in Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that needs clarification is what Khrushchev means when he talks about "guarantees of access" to West Berlin.

What is clearly vital to the Western position in the Communist-surrounding city, in American opinion, is access to that city from the West. The Reds have not so far tampered with that lifeline during the current crisis.

Secrecy Maintained

This left uncertain what response the Western powers might decide on. Strict secrecy was maintained on the Washington ambassadorial discussions.

State Department press officer Lincoln White did acknowledge that one possibility under study is whether the Western diplomats in West Berlin would use the entry point to East Berlin designated by the East Germans.

White declined to say whether the Western governments would file any formal protest beyond the complaint issued by the Western commandants in Berlin terming the Red restrictions illegal, calloused and a flagrant disregard of human rights.

Interim Tax Plan Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Action on President Kennedy's interim tax revision program has been put off until the 1962 session, the House Ways and Means Committee reported Wednesday.

The program was designed to give tax credits to businessmen who invest in plant modernization, and to make up this revenue loss elsewhere.

It was to have preceded a general overhaul of the income tax structure which the administration suggested for the 1962 session.

The committee action raised the question of whether the interim program might get lost in next year's projected general overhaul.

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said his group plans to report a version of the interim tax program to the House by February.

However, the senior Republican member, Rep. Noah Mason of Illinois, indicated the tax-writing committee could be expected to consider not just this program but the whole income tax program for possible revision.

Demo Leaders To Push School Aid Package

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders agreed Wednesday to push for passage of a $2.6 billion school aid package in a last-ditch attempt to save a skeleton of President Kennedy's education program.

Speaker Sam Rayburn and House school aid chieftains launched the fight at a meeting a few hours after Kennedy gave the move his blessing. The legislation contains several features designed to win over opponents.

The President has been seeking such a formula since the House Rules Committee scuttled his public school aid plan and three related bills by an 8 to 7 vote July 18.

Rep. James J. Delaney, D-N. Y. who cast the deciding vote in the rules committee, attended Wednesday's meeting. He was understood to be more friendly to the new plan, drafted by Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

But Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., of the House Education Committee said Delaney made no promise to switch his vote. He said Delaney wanted to study the legislation when it is introduced Thursday.

Powell said the new package would authorize:

—$325 million in aid for public school construction for one year. Kennedy requested $2.3 billion for construction and teachers salaries over three years.

—$1.9 billion for loans and grants for college classroom construction and scholarships for talented but needy students. This actually was larger than the $1.6 Kennedy originally sought.

—$200 million to continue for another year federal aid to "impacted" schools crowded with children of servicemen and government workers. The President asked a three-year extension.

—$90 million to extend for one more year the National Defense Education Act's student loan program. Kennedy wanted the loan plan made permanent and the entire act extended at a cost of two or three times $90 million.

Dog Lovers Rally To Bark Defense

DROXFORD, England (AP) — Outraged dog lovers rallied to the defense of Mrs. Olwyn Harbottle's eight high-spirited miniature poodles and a Kerry Blue terrier.

The local council of this quiet Hampshire village—which wants to keep it quiet—says the dogs must be de-barked because they bark too much and annoy the neighbors.

That would mean an operation to sever the dogs' vocal chords. And that got the dog-lovers snapping mad.

Officials of dogs' best friends organizations came out strongly against debarking.

"This is a very wicked thing," said Bernard Workman of the Canine Defense League. "If it comes to a legal struggle we will get Mrs. Harbottle a lawyer and back her to the hilt."

UAW Accuses GM, Threatens To Strike Ford

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union ordered psychological warfare on General Motors, Ford and Chrysler Wednesday in the union's drive to win a new, pattern-setting contract before current wage agreements run out in just eight days.

The UAW, in effect, threatened Ford with a strike unless it betters the economic package which Ford, GM and Chrysler offered simultaneously Tuesday.

The union termed the offers "woefully inadequate."

General Motors was accused before the National Labor Relations Board by the union with failing to bargain in good faith. The charge was based on GM's third refusal to provide the union with the formula on which GM bases prices and figures profits. The company said it was none of the union's business.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther personally took over bargaining with American Motors Corp., which offered the union a profit-sharing package July 28, which Reuther described as "a meaningful approach." He proposed to begin immediate, intensified, round-the-clock negotiations to effect a quick settlement.

Negroes Stage 'Hoax-In' At Baltimore Restaurant

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Three Negroes staged an apparent elaborate "hoax-in" at a well-known downtown Baltimore restaurant—and were served along with the white customers.

The men, one robed like a maharaja and the others in formal diplomatic attire, stopped at Miller Brothers restaurant Tuesday afternoon.

Theodore Cook, the headwaiter, said a spokesman for the group told him the robed man was the finance minister of the new African nation of Gabon, and that the party had come from conferences at the State Department in Washington.

Cook said in view of past snubs of African diplomats in Maryland and "Gov. (J. Millard) Tawes' request that restaurateurs be particularly careful and courteous to foreign dignitaries, I seated them."

The three men stayed less than half an hour and ate what the head waiter described as a token meal. They left in a limousine, after a Negro photographer took several pictures. Cook said while the men were eating, he saw the photographer sitting in the car with the driver.

The spokesman for the group identified the "finance minister" as Sorfa Adiwba. In Washington, the Gabon Embassy said their finance minister is Francois Meye, and that he is presently in Gabon.

The limousine bore Maryland plates, not diplomatic plates. The car was identified Wednesday by the Department of Motor Vehicles as belonging to Arlington Sylvester Phillips, a funeral director. Phillips said the limousine is rented out frequently, and that his secretary handled the rental Tuesday and he knew nothing about it.

Britain Assails Red Bloc Abuse Of West In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain accused the Soviet bloc Wednesday of heaping common abuse on Western powers in the U.N. General Assembly in order to obstruct successful negotiations between France and Tunisia over Bizerte.

The British delegate, Colin T. Crowe, spoke in the third day of the assembly's debates on Tunisia's demand that French forces be evacuated from the Mediterranean naval base at Bizerte and from posts in the Sahara.

Crowe was sandwiched between two Soviet bloc spokesmen, the Ukraine delegate who repeated Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov's attack on Western bases Monday, and the Czechoslovak delegate who delivered a series of denunciations of the United States.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson on Tuesday protested Morozov's assault as shameless in view of Soviet troops still stationed in Eastern European countries. He said "the Soviet record of cynical suppression of freedom is in sharp contrast to the self-righteousness of its rhetoric."

Crowe told the assembly that Morozov's statement, taken up in turn by Soviet bloc country spokesmen, was a vivid illustration that some members of the United Nations do not sincerely wish to see a successful negotiation between the two parties.

Crowe also took issue with some language of the 32-power Asian-African resolution. It would have the assembly call for France's full compliance with a Security Council order for pulling its troops back to July 19 prebattle posts. It would also call for France to negotiate evacuation of all its forces from the Bizerte base and elsewhere in Tunisia.

"France does not contes' the principle of ultimate evacuation," Crowe said. He urged the assembly to act in such a way that the climate for negotiation could carry out that aim, but he took exception to phrases that pinpointed all the blame on France.

Britain, France Plan Channel Link Talks

LONDON (AP) — Britain and France Wednesday night announced agreement to discuss the building of a bridge or tunnel across the English Channel — 22 miles wide between the ports of Calais and Dover.

The project, talked about since the 18th century, would cost around $600 million, according to authoritative estimates.

The Ministry of Supply said officials of the two countries will discuss the possibility of building a fixed installation across the channel. Informants explained this could mean only a tunnel or bridge.

Powerful British, French and American interests for years have been canvassing support for the project.

Senate Votes Job Training Bill Approval

Kennedy's 4-Year Program Passed By 60 To 31 Margin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate by a vote of 60 to 31 Wednesday approved President Kennedy's four-year $655 million program to train more than 100,000 unemployed workers in new skills.

The measure, aimed at chronic unemployment such as is caused by automation narrowly survived a Republican-led attempt to reduce the new program to a two-year $255 million trial effort.

The Senate rejected 44 to 43 a proposal by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., to approve only the first two years of the program. Republicans forced a second roll call in an effort to reverse the outcome. This move was tabled 47 to 40.

Program For Young People

Kennedy asked Congress to approve the program late in May. As approved, the bill incorporates a program to provide job skills for young people—especially those who drop out of school. The President wanted this, but suggested it be included in his youth opportunity program.

Prouty's contention that Congress should "know whether it is going to work" before enacting a long-term program provided the major controversy in Senate debate.

However, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., floor manager for the bill cautioned that the bill "proposes no Utopia" and would not solve all unemployment problems.

The bill would give the secretary of labor authority to survey the nation's work force and determine what skills will be needed. The secretary, working through local employment offices, also could select training applicants to attend federally-supported training courses.

Allowance Provided

Persons taking training courses could be paid allowances equal to the unemployment insurance benefits paid in the state.

By a 53 to 39 vote the Senate approved a Clark substitute for a second Prouty amendment designed to withhold training allowances from trainees in the 16 through 21 age group. As amended, the bill would permit 5 percent of the training allowances to go to the youthful trainees.

After the second year of the program states would be required to match the federal outlay on a 50-50 basis.

Father Appeals To Fugitive Son

LAKE DELTON, Wis. (AP) — A father's advice to his fugitive son echoed from the loudspeaker of an airplane circling ahead of a grim posse Wednesday as it closed in on a wooded area where the last member of a desperate trio may lie wounded.

"Don't get yourself shot, son," blared the message from Raymond Welter of Franklin Park, Ill., to his son, William, 23, "I don't want any more bloodshed. The police have promised not to shoot if you surrender."

Two of the three men sought relentlessly since Sauk County Deputy James Jantz was slain and Lake Delton Police Chief Robert Kohl critically wounded by a blast of gunfire early Monday already are in custody.

Richard Nickel, 28, wounded at a roadblock and flung from the trio's speeding car in the initial stages of the chase, is under guard at a Mauston hospital. Lawrence Nutley, 26, was cornered by two of the posse and captured when he tried to wrest a gun from one.

Pension Tax Credit Bill Clears House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a bill Wednesday designed to equalize tax advantages of retired persons without Social Security and those of old age insurance beneficiaries.

The bill was sent to the Senate by voice vote. It brings up to date a 1954 law establishing a tax credit for persons receiving private retirement income to balance off the tax-free treatment of Social Security and other federal government retirement payments.

Matching recent increases in Social Security benefits, the bill increases from $1,200 to $1,524 the maximum amount of income that can qualify as tax-free retirement income.

Most Gamblers Ignore Tax Law, Senators Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Picturing the 10-year-old gambling stamp act as something of a failure, Mortimer M. Caplin, Internal Revenue Service commissioner, told Senate investigators Wednesday most professional gamblers ignore that tax law.

And with limited manpower and not enough authority under the law, Caplin said, he is unable to crack down properly. So far, he said, it has cost more to enforce the gambling tax than the government has been able to collect.

Caplin estimated that the government is being cheated out of the taxes on $25 billion in unreported income each year from all sources and that at least part of this is by gamblers. The IRS chief did not elaborate, but he later told newsmen the tax loss amounted to $4.9 billion annually.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate Investigations subcommittee estimated that professional gamblers may be evading as much tax liability as $5 billion a year.

As for the gambling tax and stamp act, McClellan said, "It seems a kind of mockery on our part to keep a law like this on the books and not enforce it."

Caplin told the subcommittee the Treasury Department and his agency are considering proposals for tightening up the law. But he and his IRS aides shied away from recommending proposals, for or against, to legalize telephone wiretapping in their investigations.

"That is an extremely sensitive question," said H. Alan Long, director of the IRS intelligence division, which enforces the law.

McClellan's subcommittee, in the second day of a new inquiry, questioned Caplin and aides on how hoodlums cheat on taxes and prey on race tracks. The hearing is aimed at helping Congress to decide whether any new laws are needed to combat racketeers.

Ranger Ejected, Doesn't Travel Distance Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The first American "space platform" was fired into orbit and it in turn launched a second satellite Wednesday, but failed to send it deep into space as planned.

Despite the partial failure, scientists were heartened by some valuable data they were receiving from the experiment, whose revolutionary techniques may some day guide man to the moon and beyond.

Whirling around the globe every 91 minutes were the 1,400-pound Agena space platform and the complex 675-pound piggyback payload named Ranger I. They were very close together in space, in orbits ranging from 105 to 312 miles above the earth.

It was at first thought they had failed to separate and were locked together in their spins around the globe. However, analysis of radio data showed the pair of space travelers apparently did kick apart.

The mystery was why Ranger did not fly into a gigantic, cigar-shaped orbit covering a million miles each round trip.

Engine Shutdown Indicated

Once it settled into orbit, the Agena was intended to fire its big engine for 1½ minutes to accelerate the speed from 17,400 to about 23,800 miles an hour. Then Ranger was to break away on its high-flying course.

Best estimate is that the Agena engine ignited only briefly, then shut down inexplicable. When Ranger received the ignition cut-off signal it apparently separated automatically—but its speed had not been increased by the suspected brief ignition and it continued on almost an identical orbit path as Agena, slightly in front.

Officials of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which developed Ranger, said the heart of the complicated spacecraft—a unique attitude stabilization system that seeks the sun — was working perfectly under unexpected conditions.

"If the launching had been normal," one of the project men reported, "the spacecraft would be high above the earth and the attitude stabilization device would be able at all times to lock on to the sun and keep the vehicle on the proper course.

In Darkness Half The Time

"But in the near-earth orbit attained," he explained, "the craft is in sunlight half the time and in darkness the other half. During the sunlight portion of the orbit, our radio information tells us that the system is locking onto the sun perfectly.

"In the dark portion, the system tries desperately to find the sun which is impossible to locate. The nitrogen jets which take their commands from the system are puffing away trying to orient the vehicle toward the sun. Once it returns to sunlight, they zero in on the sun once again."

This was the first flight test of this system, which may be the basis for helping guide future unmanned and manned packages to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Some other instruments also were working. But those designed to gather information about radiation and other conditions in far space were nearly useless because of the near earth orbit.

Troops Move To Positions Along Border

Allies Show Force As Crisis In Berlin Reaches New Pitch

BERLIN (AP) — Western forces squared off Wednesday with a show of tanks and troops facing fenced-in East Berlin in a quick reaction to new Communist restrictions on entry into their sector.

U.S., British and French commanders rushed tanks and soldiers with bayonets to the barricades dividing Berlin after the East German government reduced entry points from 12 to seven—six for Germans and one for foreign personnel.

Denouncing the Communist action as illegal effrontery and a "brutal and callous" oppression of the German population, the commandants said they were assuring the "security and integrity" of West Berlin.

U.S. Patton tanks, a machine gun squad and jeeps moved to the Friedrichstrasse Gate, the crossing point that the East Germans said foreigners, including Allied military and diplomatic personnel, must use.

Guns Point At Red Offices

U.S. tank guns pointed directly at the former Air Ministry of Nazi Reichminister Hermann Goering, now the offices of many East German officials.

The British sent a company of about 120 infantrymen with mortars and antitank guns to the Brandenburg Gate, the walled-off former symbol of German unity.

French armored personnel carriers, jeeps and radio cars patrolled the French sector.

Both the British and Americans took up positions well within a 328-foot-wide strip on the west side of the border which the Communists had proposed as a no-man's land to keep East and West Berliners from fraternizing over the fence.

Reds Show Agitation

The Allied action caused an agitated movement of light artillery pieces and several squadrons of armored cars of the East German people's police on the East side of the border. Communist frontier guards appeared disturbed.

But there were no incidents. Allied officers kept a tight rein on their disciplined troops, and Communist police and militia maintained an equally alert but correct attitude.

It seemed evident, however, that the 10-day-old Berlin crisis had mounted to a new pitch.

Two Soviet officers who came through the designated gate for foreigners were targets of a crowd of 500 West Berliners shouting, "Ivan go home."

Ex-Con Quizzed In Murder Case

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—An ex-convict described by the district attorney as a prime suspect was jailed Wednesday for further questioning in the strangling of Louise Temple, a brunette divorcee who sold real estate.

Mrs. Temple had shown the man, Charles Trudeau, 50, of Syracuse, a fancy ranch-type home in the suburbs just before she vanished Friday.

Her body, clad in a pink dress, was found Tuesday night stuffed in the trunk of her sedan, which was parked in a hospital lot.

Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan said Trudeau, who has a record dating to 1928, had slight scratches on his hand and a mark on his face. Flesh particles found under Mrs. Temple's fingernails were to be analyzde.

The heavy-set Trudeau, balding and a pipe clenched in his teeth, was taken to jail as a parole violator.

Navy To Add 2,000 Civilian Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Wednesday it is adding about 2,000 civilian employes at installations of its Bureau of Weapons.

This is part of a 10,000-man civilian buildup at various defense activities.

The announcement said the 2,000 figure is "an initial increase," adding that as more firm schedules for carrying out the military program are developed "substantial adjustments will be made."

Big Battle Over Filibuster Curbs Looms In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) —Senate leaders are getting set for what is expected to be the last big battle of this session—a proposal to change the rule dealing with filibusters.

The Senate Rules Committee has cleared for floor action, sometime in the indefinite future, a proposal under which three-fifths of the senators voting could end a debate.

The present rule, under which senators have been able to talk legislation to death in the past, requires a two-thirds majority of the senators present and voting to shut off debate.

That means 67 votes are needed to choke off a filibuster if all 100 senators are present. Under the proposed three-fifths rule only 60 votes would be needed if all 100 members were present.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, told newsmen Tuesday the rules change issue will be the last piece of business taken up before adjournment, whenever that is.

There has been some talk of trying to adjourn around the middle of September.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., attacked the rules change proposal as an effort to gag and muzzle senators from the South and less populous states.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., told the Senate he would offer a substitute which would enable even fewer senators to end a debate. Keating favors cutting the number needed down to a bare majority of 51.

Fanatic Sought In Goya Theft

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard—baffled by theft of the $392,000 Goya portrait of Wellington—turned their inquiry Wednesday night to Britain's art cranks. It was noted that one of history's most sensational art thefts—that of the Mona Lisa from the Louvre—was done by a fanatic.

Detectives said they were convinced that either a sensation-seeker or a fanatic took the world-famous painting of the Iron Duke from its easel Monday night and whisked it through the gallery's tight security screen.

But these were only theories. The fact: Nearly two days after the theft, Britain's top detective agency did not know who took the 19th-century masterpiece or what happened to it.

The British meanwhile bewailed the loss of the portrait, which is considered a national treasure. It was not insured.

Investigators theorized that the thief hid in the gallery after closing Monday, then sneaked out and grabbed the painting and returned to his hiding place. Then, when the gallery filled with visitors Tuesday morning, he walked out with it.

The painting is on a 25½-by-20½ inch hard panel that cannot be rolled up, but is small enough to go into an oversize briefcase or under a topcoat.

But on the remote chance that the thief hid the painting in the gallery, investigators pried up the floorboards of the classic-style structure on Trafalgar Square.

Some even crawled down a narrow air vent, but found nothing. Guards posted at airfields and ports amid speculation the theft was part of a pattern of recent big-time art thefts from the Riviera to Pittsburgh, Pa., also reported no success.

Pressman Asks Compact Delay

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Baltimore attorney asked Maryland's congressional delegation Wednesday to withhold any action on the Potomac River Compact which would "interfere with the (Maryland) watermen getting their final day in court."

Atty. Hyman Pressman made the request in letters sent to Maryland's two senators and the state's seven members of the House.

Pressman said the watermen had asked him to convey "their feeling of outrage against Gov. Tawes for his having jumped the gun in calling the Maryland congressional delegation to a conference to arrange for the introduction of legislation for the ratification of the compact."

News reports earlier this week, Pressman said, indicated Tawes and Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan hoped to have a bill introduced in Congress before the last deadline for a continued legal challenge of the compact.

"My clients feel very strongly that the governor's action is not only presumptuous but is an affront to the judiciary," the letters said. "We had expected the governor to let the case run its legal course to a final conclusion before making any move toward congressional action."

Tawes Testifies At Baltimore "Block" Probe

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Gov. J. Millard Tawes arrived here promptly at 6 o'clock Wednesday night to testify at a special grand jury investigating activities in Baltimore's night club district.

Earlier, State Sen. George W. Della, D-Balto. 6th, spent 30 minutes before the jury discussing possible corrective legislation.

He said any new laws needed to correct abuses uncovered in the probe would have to wait the 90-day session of the legislature in 1963.

"It is logical that all such legislation would effect only Baltimore city. The Court of Appeals has already ruled only bills affecting the entire state, together with financial statutes and extreme emergency bills, can be considered at the short, 30-day session held in even years," Della, state Senate president, said.

State's Atty. Saul A. Harris said abuses uncovered related to the bail bond business, female night club sitters, "and the like."

Harris said he hoped the grand jury would take some action by the weekend. His assistants have been reviewing for the past two weeks evidence given by more than 100 witnesses. The current session of the jury retires early next month.

11 Killed In Crash Of Yugoslav Trains

BELGRADE (UPI) — At least 11 persons were killed Wednesday when a crack passenger train collided with a freight train outside the Breska station between Belgrade and Novi-Sad.

Still incomplete reports said at least 50 persons were injured, and 17 were in "critical state," according to the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug.

Reds Have Right To Close Border, Nehru Declares

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said Wednesday the Russians have a perfect legal right, granted to them in 1949 by the Western Allies, to close the East Berlin border.

Nehru gave his interpretation of the current Berlin crisis to the Indian Parliament.

He said a Big Four foreign ministers' agreement on June 20, 1949, "diluted" the protocol of Sept. 12, 1944, which set up joint occupation of Berlin.

Joint occupation was ended under the 1949 agreement and gave all parties, including the Soviets, the right to control traffic in their respective sectors, according to Nehru.

Butler Brands Equality Drive As "Meddling"

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's senior senator, John Marshall Butler, Wednesday described the federal government's attempt to end discrimination along U. S. 40 as "meddling."

"A man engaged in private business in which there is no public money has a right to conduct that business as he sees fit," Butler a Republican said.

African diplomats, since the first of the year, have been refused service in many restaurants along U. S. 40 between here and the Delaware Memorial Bridge, some 24 miles to the northwest.

Earlier this week, White House and State Department officials said a campaign would begin after Labor Day in an effort to end all discrimination along the heavily-traveled highway.

The officials refused to reveal the particulars of the programs but said it would be carried out together with Maryland officials and would be aimed at the grass roots.

"I definitely do not think it's a good idea," Sen. Butler said of the proposed campaign. "It's not the business of the federal government."

Pedro San Juan, assistant chief of protocol at the State Department, had said the incidents involving the diplomats have been extremely harmful to the nation's foreign relations.

"The country may receive a bad image in a number of ways," Butler said, "but that doesn't mean the citizen should lose his rights.

"I think that if a businessman's outlook is such that he wants to exclude these people, he has the perfect right to do so," the senator said.

American Coal Will Be Shipped To W. Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House Wednesday announced a move to help depressed American coal mines by giving them orders to supply U. S. military needs for coal and coke in West Germany.

The Defense Department in the past has purchased coal and coke from foreign producers, and generally from sources in West Germany.

Meyer Feldman, special assistant to President Kennedy, said 440,000 tons of anthracite coal and coke will be purchased next month from American producers.

He estimated the fuel will cost about $10.8 million delivered in West Germany and said the same amount could have been purchased abroad for just over $8 million.

The White House announcement said "it is likely that most of the coal and coke requirements will be filled by mines and firms located in labor surplus areas of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Alabama, Arkansas and Oklahoma."

Next year the Defense Department plans to purchase even more coal from American sources. This year's purchases will be on a reduced level because of the needed coal and coke for the year already has been ordered abroad.

Feldman said that perhaps the most important reason underlying the policy change is the continuing deficit in the U. S. balance of international payments. By placing orders here, the Pentagon will reduce the flow of dollars abroad and lessen the deficit, running so far this year at an annual rate of about $1.5 billion.

Feldman said a desire to help depressed American coal mines is "almost equally important."

Second Bay Bridge Study Continuing

BALTIMORE (AP)—The chief engineer of the State Roads Commission said Wednesday no conclusions have been reached in a study on the possibility of building a second bridge across Chesapeake Bay.

The engineer, David Fisher, said the study is still underway and no conclusions have been reached.

Fisher made his comments after Sen. Fred C. Malkus Jr., D-Dorchester, asked the SRC for a report on the study, called for in a Senate resolution passed at the 1961 General Assembly.

Fisher said he had not yet seen Malkus' letter.

Malkus said the present bridge facilities are "inadequate." He cited a traffic jam at the span last Sunday.

At the same time, Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein suggested to the roads commission that more toll booths might ease congestion on the bridge.

Castro Speech Slated

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Does your list of emergency numbers include the phone number of your local poison control center?

If not—look it up today. Add it to the page in your phone book where you post the telephone numbers of the fire and police departments.

The Public Health Service (PHS) reports that such centers now are spread throughout the nation. They operate in all states except Vermont and Montana, according to the PHS.

The idea for poison control centers started in 1953 in Chicago.

The centers maintain records of ingredients of trade-name products plus antidotes. This information is available to physicians by telephone day or night.

Parents who call the centers are given first-aid instructions and are advised to call their doctor.

The local centers regularly tune in the National Clearinghouse for poison control centers—obtaining information on new products. The information is supplied by manufacturers of products containing hazardous substances.

More than 200 major producers of drugs and household products regularly inform the clearinghouse of the ingredients their products contain and the antidotes to be used in case of accidental ingestion.

The National Clearinghouse, directed by the PHS division of accident prevention is headed by Assistant Surgeon General A. L. Chapman.

"Because many parents do not recognize the poisonous qualities of many common products, they sometimes delay too long before calling a physician," Dr. Chapman said.

"Many serious consequences of poisoning could be prevented if parents called physicians promptly without waiting for symptoms to appear."

The PHS reports that the Hazardous Substances Labeling Act, when in full operation, should facilitate the work of the poison control centers.

The new law, enacted by Congress last year and administered by the Food and Drug Administration, requires that safety information be given on labels of household chemical products, including the identity of hazardous ingredients, antidotes for toxic substances.

The law further requires that the labels contain warnings and precautions needed for safe use.

Lawrence Russell Ice Jr. Weds Patricia Ann Flowers

Miss Patricia Ann Flowers, daughter of Mrs. Henry Jacoby, Marietta, Ohio, and the late Ernest G. Flowers, became the bride of Lawrence Russell Ice Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. Russell Ice, formerly of Cumberland, August 6. The double ring ceremony was solemnized in Grace Gospel Church, Marietta, Ohio, with the father of the bridegroom officiating.

Miss Alyce Jo Flowers was her sister's maid of honor; while Miss Sue Pape and Miss Nancy Kendall were bridesmaids. Margaret Mullenix, a niece of the bride, was flower girl and William Beeney Jr., a nephew, ring bearer. William Ice was his brother's best man; James Flowers, Thomas Tucker and Rodger Rinker, Cumberland, cousin of the bridegroom, ushers. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Clyde Leasure Jr.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and candles with palms were used in the decorations. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Society Plans Project

The WSCS of Murley's Branch Church formulated plans to make apple butter again this fall. Orders may be placed with any member. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning.

The group listened to recordings of "Come Thou Almighty King," "Holy, Holy, Holy," and sang "Onward Christian Soldiers." Mrs. Helen Wilson conducted devotions, "A Council of Churches." The hostess read the Scripture. All took part in the lesson on "World Council of Churches."

Mrs. Richard Yonker conducted the business session. Routine reports were given. It was announced that the September meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Margaret Blubaugh, with devotions by Mrs. Browning. Following a benediction, a social hour was held. Ten members and one guest attended.

Bride-Elect Is Entertained

Mrs. A. E. Beaulieu Jr. was hostess for a personal and linen shower in honor of her niece, Miss Mary Barbara Joyce, fiancee of James L. Monahan of Baltimore. It was held at her home, Columbia Avenue, Saturday, using a pink and white color scheme.

The marriage of Miss Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cessna, 508 Woodside Avenue, to Mr. Monahan, son of Mrs. Evelyn Monahan, Baltimore, will be performed September 2 in St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church, Baltimore.

Appropriate games featured the entertainment.

Guests were Mrs. Venita Beaulieu, Mrs. Jean Auld, Miss Margaret Beaulieu, Baltimore; Mrs. Jean Ingram, Mrs. Agnes Meagher, Mrs. Hazel Boyle, Mrs. Regina Cofield, Mrs. A. D. Hunter, Mrs. B. G. Aemmer, Mrs. Ralph Gehauf, Mrs. John McLean, Miss Pamela McLean, Miss Jenifer McLean, Miss Deborah McLean, Mrs. Harry Rizer and Mrs. Cessna.

Committee Named

Mrs. Clair Flora conducted the meeting of the Women's CTP Monday evening at the Legion post, and appointed Mrs. Pauline Shaffer chairman for the September meeting. Serving with her will be Mrs. Chloe Reynolds and Mrs. Margaret Baker.

The invocation was offered by Mrs. Catherine Wilson. Mrs. Baker reported Mrs. Mary Schultz ill in Sacred Heart Hospital; Mrs. Myrtle Youngblood, in Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Hattie Carnell, ill at home. Mrs. Myrtle Brode was in charge of the social hour and Mrs. Anna Morin served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Chester Brant.

AAUW Board Outlines Program, Plans For Year

Plans for the year were discussed at a meeting of Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women board Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard L. Tolson, president, Braddock Road.

The general plan includes starting two new study groups, one concerning problems of the consumer and the other on investments. Like all AAUW study groups, these will be open to nonmembers as well as members. Mrs. Milton Bernstein will make preliminary plans for the study of investments; and Mrs. Aden Everstine, consumer problems. This will concern government services on behalf of consumers, legislation protecting consumers, and a private concern, American Standards Association, which has set up an advisory committee on ultimate consumer goods. Representatives of national AAUW are among those serving on this committee. The Great Books group will continue, under the direction of Mrs. Milton Granet.

An art show is planned for March, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Winer, art chairman. A United Nations tour will be conducted for high school students in November under the direction of Miss Lillian Boughton, higher education chairman. Mrs. William VanNewkirk will have charge of the College Night and develop plans for it in the spring.

It was decided to accept the invitation of the house and garden committe of Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch to place an entry in the flower show September 19 at Frostburg.

Meeting programs for the year were outlined by Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, vice president and program chairman. The theme is "Patterns for Education in Keeping with AAUW Purpose." The first will be an all day meeting and picnic September 9 at the summer home of Mrs. Tolson, Deep Creek Lake. The October meeting will be jointly with the other two branches in the Western Maryland Inter-Branch Council, details to be announced. Education Week will be observed in November with two events, one a tea, honoring teachers and prospective members. The chairman for this is Mrs. James Lutton. It will be at the home of Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, Schley Street. The other will be a dinner at the Cumberland Country Club, with a program concerning the new Allegany Community College.

The December meeting will be on the 13th at the home of Mrs. William Frailey, The Dingle. The program will be planned by the arts group. In February the program will be on guidance services, under the direction of Miss Betty Flake, chairman of the elementary and secondary education committee. International relations will be the topic for the March meeting.

April 14 will be an all-day meeting and will be a mass media workshop, planned by Miss Gerardine Pritchard, chairman of the mass media committee. It will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, with lunch in the middle of the day. May 12 will be a luncheon meeting at the Cumberland Country Club. The program will be on modern dance and drama in education, under the direction of Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard. June will be a garden party at the home of Mrs. Milton Beneman, Luteman Road. Miss Nan Livingstone, hospitality chairman, will arrange the socials.

Cresap Homemakers will meet at 7 tonight at the home of Mrs. Edward Lewis, Winchester Road.

A ham supper will be served at the Bedford Road fire hall Saturday from 5 until 6.

The 4-H Trail will meet at 1:30 tomorrow in Grove II, Constitution Park, to plan the program, elect a nominating committee and select projects.

Fort Hill class of 1937 will meet at 7:30 tomorrow evening in room 115 to plan its 25th reunion.

Bridge Winners Announced

With a score of 132½, Miss Rose Jackson and Miss Louise Zihlman, playing North-South, topped the field in the Potomac Valley Bridge Club master point game Tuesday evening. The game was at the Woman's Civic Club house, with nine tables in play and an average score of 108. Mrs. Barnet Leibowitz and A. J. Feigus scored 128½; Mrs. Harvey Aronson, Mrs. John Laughlin, 116½; S. Russ Minter and John R. Wilkinson, 113.

East-West winners were L. G. Trimmier, Robert Stafford, 120½; Mrs. Roy Drumm, Hugo Keller, 112; Mrs. James Hugglestone, Mrs. Trimmier, 111½; Mrs. A. J. Feigus and Edgar J. Dawson, 111.

The Western Maryland Bridge Club game will be tonight at 8 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Programs Outlined

Program books for the sorority year were distributed by Mrs. Dwight Hovis at the meeting of Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Panner, Hawthorne Heights, Keyser. Programs dealing with "Beauty of Home, Self and Life," will be given by members.

Mrs. Thomas Ansel presided and announced the first activity will be the annual "rushing". Ideas for "money-makers" were discussed by Mrs. Lewis Lemon. Mrs. Kenneth Chambers outlined social activities. The next meeting will be September 11.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Panner.

Hymn Sing To Be Held Sunday

Plans for a hymn sing and a study class were formulated at a meeting of the Woman's Society of World Service of Calvary EUB Church, held at the home of Mrs. Grace Bardy, Bedford Road, following a picnic.

The hymn sing will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in Calvary Church, Mary Street, with other churches participating in the program. Mrs. Lottie Richards has charge of the program and Eugene Myers will direct the music.

The study class will be held at First EUB Church in conjunction with Calvary, Bethel and First. It will be September 17.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Aurora Roby and the group sang, "Day Is Dying in the West," and "For God So Loved the World." Other members present were Mrs. Lena Scarlett, Mrs. Blanch Erichsen, Mrs. Helen Whitacre and Miss Mabel England. Guests were Christine Erichsen, Herbert Erichsen and Wayne Brady.

Discuss Bazaar

Plans to begin making articles for the church bazaar, November 2, were formulated at the picnic-meeting of the Dorcas Bible Class of Emmanuel Methodist Church, held at Constitution Park.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Louise McClay. Others present were Mrs. Cecelia Kreiger, Mrs. Bessie Keller, Mrs. Dora Richards, Mrs. Annie Zimmerly, Mrs. Florence Crites, Mrs. Ada Parker and Rev. Harold McClay.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Chandler, Westfield, N. J., have returned home after having visited Mrs. John W. Jackson, Lonaconing, and Mrs. Chandler's sister, Mrs. J. Goodloe Jackson, this city.

Clifton Jeffries Heads Local Kennel Club

Clifton D. Jeffries of Frostburg, was elected president of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club for 1961-62. Other officers are Earl Smith, Lonaconing, vice president; Mrs. Harold Meek, Vale Summit, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Smith, Lonaconing secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Harvey Ware, Cumberland; Gerald Arthur, Cumberland and Dr. Charles B. Hoelzel, Bowling Green.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held at the Gunter Hotel, Frostburg, August 31 at 8 p. m. Committee appointments will be made at that time.

Plans are being formulated for a "Fun Match" to be held October 22. It was pointed out that such a match affords an opportunity for local owners of purebred dogs to try showing them, for many "excellent specimens have been found among family pets." The club urges all owners of purebred dogs to bring them to the match. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Jeffries, OV 9-9888, or Mrs. Smith, HO 3-2754.

Fall obedience training classes are to begin soon. Anyone interested in joining the class is asked to contact any member of the club, Mr. Jeffries or Mrs. Smith.

Plans also are being discussed for the ninth annual All Breed Show, to be held by the club May 20. The date and judges have been approved by the American Kennel Club. This year obedience trials will be an added feature. It also was decided that if those people who have attended previous obedience classes sponsored by the club are interested in a brush-up course, it will be offered.

Thirty persons attended the annual picnic of the club, held at Mr. Jeffries' cottage on the Casselman River.

Northrop Nominated For Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Wednesday nominated Sen. Edward S. Northrop, majority leader in the Maryland Senate, as a U. S. district judge.

Congress has voted two new judgeships for the court in Baltimore, where members of the State Bar say the caseload ranks second or third highest among all similar federal courts in the nation.

If Northrop's nomination to the life-time post is confirmed by the Senate, court officials said he will become the first Democrat since Civil War days to ascend the federal bench in Maryland.

There has been no indication when the second judge will be named. The U. S. District Court for Maryland now is headed by Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen. Northrop would join judge Thomsen and Judge R. Dorsey Watkins as a regular member of the bench.

In addition, Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, although well past 80 years of age and in "qualified retirement," also serves on the federal bench at Baltimore.

Northrop, 50-year-old lawyer of Chevy Chase, has been a state senator since 1955, and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and majority floor leader since 1959. He practices law in Rockville and Washington.

His name was not on the list endorsed by the Maryland State Bar Association, but was submitted to the Department of Justice by some of his Washington-area lawyer friends.

The annual salary of a U. S. district judge is $22,500.

Fight Foiled

THONON, France (UPI)— Ex-King Farouk of Egypt got into a heated dispute with a bus driver, a group of tourists, and their guide Tuesday after his car brushed against the guide. Farouk drove grandly on, according to the tourists, and the driver gave chase, catching up with Farouk as he was about to cross the border into Switzerland. He gave Farouk a piece of his mind. Police arrived in time to prevent a fight.

Heavy Rains Drench State

By The Associated Press

Heavy rain drenched sections of Maryland Wednesday, and the Weather Bureau said additional soakings can be expected into Friday.

By mid-afternoon Wednesday, 1¼ inch of rain had fallen at Baltimore where the official measurement was taken at the Weather Bureau station at Friendship International Airport.

The downfall began during the early morning hours, and continued throughout the day.

In Harford County at Benton, nearly three-quarters of an inch of rain had fallen before the afternoon showers added to the total.

Some sections of Southern Maryland reported more than half an inch of rainfall during the same period.

The weathermen blamed the rain on a strong flow of moist air swept aloft by moist southerly winds high above the Eastern Seaboard.

No significant change in the weather pattern was in sight for the next 24 hours, the Weather Bureau said Wednesday. However, the bureau's five-day forecast held out hope for clearing weather for the weekend.

Temperatures for the next five days are expected to be about normal for this time of the year.

Maryland Briefs

CHILLUM, Md. (AP) — Police reported Wednesday the theft of 30 revolvers and 28 boxes of ammunition from a hardware store here. The weapons were valued at $724 and the ammunition at $123, police said.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Injuries suffered in a fall from an overpass to a roadway below caused the death of Patrick McLaughlin, 20, of Baltimore. McLaughlin suffered head injuries in the fall 10 days ago, and died Monday night in a hospital here.

SALISBURY (AP) — Two counterfeit $20 bills, apparently passed in taverns here, have been turned over to Salisbury police.

Police Chief William J. Chatham said the latest of the phony bills was turned in by a beer distributor, who found it among receipts he collected on Tuesday.

Police received the first of the two bills Monday from a Salisbury bank, where it had been deposited among weekend collections from a tavern.

The police chief said the bills bore markings similar to counterfeit $20 bills recovered by federal agents last week in Virginia.

"We have one inclement weather plan—raincoats."

The wet weather gear was donned by all the guardsmen here and at Camp Pickett to the south, where the division's artillery and armored units are conducting exercises and firing drills.

The division is scheduled to complete its summer training Saturday.

State's Traffic Toll 67 Below Last Year

By The Associated Press

Two more deaths as the result of highway accidents have raised Maryland's 1961 motoring fatality toll to 265, a total 67 below the figure at the same time a year ago.

A 16-year-old Bethesda youth, William Henry Baltz, was killed Tuesday night when the car in which he was riding alone skidded off Rosebank Road in St. Marys County and hit a tree. The wreckage was not discovered until Wednesday morning.

Earlier Tuesday, 78-year-old Nils Gustafson of Edgewood died in a Baltimore hospital of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car Aug. 8.

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—Maryland traffic accidents followed a familiar 1961 pattern during July—less deaths and more injuries.

State Police reported Wednesday that 30 persons died and 2,397 were injured during July, compared with 36 deaths and 2,322 personal injuries during July 1960.

For the first seven months of the year the number of fatalities (230) declined 25 per cent, while the injuries (14,141) increased by two per cent.

NASA Seeks Site For Moon Shot Lab

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) planned Tuesday to locate its $60 million moon shot headquarters in a state that offers a year-round mild climate.

NASA, in listing its essential requirements for the manned space flight laboratory, listed as mandatory a mild climate permitting year-round, ice-free water transportation and out - of - door work most of the year.

These criteria indicated that NASA will pick a site in the South, Southwest or West Coast and has ruled out bids by such Northern states as Massachusetts and Ohio.

Site selection teams this week started looking at possible locations in Florida, Louisiana, and Texas.

Other essential criteria listed by NASA included:

— Capability to transport by barge, large, cumbersome space vehicles to and from water shipping.

—Availability of a first - class all-weather commercial jet service airport and a defense department air base in the vicinity capable of handling high - performance military planes.

— An existing, well-established industrial complex to support a research and development activity of high scientific and technical content and capable of fabricating pilot models of large spacecraft.

— A well - established supply of construction contractors and building trades and craftsmen to permit rapid construction of facilities without premium labor costs.

—Nearness to a culturally attractive community and close proximity to a college and university specializing in the basic sciences and space related graduate and post-graduate education and research.

At least 1,000 acres and enough room to expand.

Desirable, but not essential prerequisites included:

— Compatibility of the laboratory with regional plans and a community capable of absorbing the increased population.

—Reasonably adequate facilities for the temporary use of up to 1,500 people in the same general area as the permanent site.

Ghana Gets Loan

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI)—Communist China has agreed to make Ghana a $19.6 million 10-year loan without interest and with no strings attached, the government announced Tuesday. A spokesman said the loan was part of a 20-year trade agreement under which Communist China also will supply technical assistance to Ghana.

More Scientific Thinking Urged By Psychologist

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — A federally financed program to improve high school science teaching is failing to guide teachers to the most meaningful kind of instruction for youngsters who will not become scientists.

That is the conclusion of a University of Colorado psychologist, Dr. Howard Gruber, based on a study of fellows in the National Science Foundation' Academic Year Institutes during 1958-59.

What the student should be getting and isn't, he said, is an understanding of the scientific process as a means of inquiry and a way of thought.

Gruber's report, covering 314 fellows in nine of the 15 universities in which the institutes were held, found that at the end of their academic year only 25 per cent of the teachers could be rated as "strong" in their concern for such teaching.

He expressed particular concern that the more experienced the teacher the more he appeared likely to rely on teaching science only as established facts and doctrines.

The psychologist said his study was directed to "one central preoccupation, the hope that science may someday be taught in such a way that a very broad section of the educated public will understand the scientific process in its most exciting and most characteristic aspect, as a way of intellectual life.

"The crystallized products of science are easy enough for the layman to see . . . Beyond this, the educated public certainly has some sense of the sweep of established scientific ideas and the power of abstract theories to influence practical inventions. This is a very great achievement of public education . . .

"Nevertheless, the goal of teaching scientific ways of thinking through the teaching of science still seems most intangible, difficult to define, and difficult to invest with practical pedagogical form. And yet it is this aspect of science, science as a way of thought and inquiry, that is most likely to be of value in the long run, especially to the educated but non-scientist public."

Gruber noted some differences between programs at various universities for the students, all of whom were experienced high school teachers.

The three institutes whose students rated highest on his "teaching scientific thought" scale required the lowest number of hours of regular course work per week. He said it apperred the most valuable program is one that treats its fellows "in a mature way, allowing time for discussion of ideas and opportunity for individual selection of courses, and avoiding overdoses of scholastic busy-work."

Successful Ex-Topkick Forms Exclusive Club

LONDON (AP)—A wartime sergeant who started from scratch and made more than a million pounds—$2,800,000—said today he has formed a club of successful ex-topkicks.

He is Walter Flack who got out of Britain's famous 8th Army at the end of World War II. With a small army gratuity, he entered the real estate business and cleaned up.

"This club is my answer to people who keep recalling that I was a sergeant—as if that meant I was some kind of bonehead who could only sign X as my signature," he said.

"I know of several company directors in this country prominent lawyers and sporting celebrities who will be eligible to join. There are probably hundreds of others we don't know about."

Small, Wooden Boats Hold Big Place In Navy

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Small wooden vessels, without guns and no longer than a good-sized cabin cruiser, have taken an important place in today's Navy.

Because of their size and the fact that their wooden hulls are non-magnetic, these 57-foot boats are able to do a better job in keeping harbors free of mines than their larger, metal-hulled brothers.

These boats carry the official designation of mine sweeping boats (MSB) and carry a crew of six. The commanding office is an enlisted man of the rank of Chief Petty Officer, First Class Petty Officer or Second Class Petty Officer.

Although small in size, the MSB's have a built-in range of almost 2,000 miles. Their equipment is the same standard minesweeping gear used by even the largest ocean minesweepers.

A fully loaded MSB displaces 44 tons.

The MSB was designed by the Navy in 1953.

The job of a skipper or crewman aboard a MSB is dangerous because of the close-in area in which they operate and the ever-present threat of striking a mine.

Before a petty officer is given his command his great responsibility to the giant warships of the fleet is drilled into him. He is taught that it is his responsibility to make the waters near shore safe for aircraft carriers, nuclear submarines and guided missile ships of the fleet.

"It's very rewarding duty," says Chief Boatswains' mate Wesley A. Schultz, a veteran of 19 years in the Navy, who has been assigned to the Pacific Fleet Mine Force since 1950.

"When you are out to sea you are the boss. But most of all you have a feeling of accomplishment. You know what to do at any given time. Being skipper of my boat, the MSB-47, is duty far superior to any prior duty."

Business Tabs

NEW YORK (UPI)— Certified Industries, Inc., Tuesday announced the acquisition of Northern Lightweight Aggregate, Inc., of Cohoes, N.Y., in a share-for-share exchange of stock valued in excess of $1 million.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Monsanto Chemical Co. said that its inorganic chemicals division will build a plant at Augusta, Ga. to produce raw materials for the detergent, fertilizer and metal treating industries.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Officials of General Dynamics-Convair announced that the firm will do research on the feasibility of using a magnetohydrodynamic (MHD) engine to propel vehicles through deep space. The National Space Agency awarded a $98,264 contract to the firm for the year-long research program, officials said.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Merger of the City National Bank & Trust Co. and the Continental Illinois National Bank to form the nation's ninth largest bank was announced by the Chicago institutions. Spokesmen said the merger would take effect Sept. 1. The new bank, with combined assets of more than $3.2 billion, will operate under Continental's name, spokesmen said.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The President Tyler, a new 23,000-ton freighter of the American President Lines, entered the line's transpacific service Monday. The $16 million sea racer type vessel was built at Bethlehem shipyard here. Along with her sister ship, the President Lincoln, the Tyler is among the fastest and largest modern freighters on the high seas.

ELGIN, Ill. (UPI)—Elgin National Watch Co. Tuesday said it has received $547,984 in government missile contracts. The contracts call for the production of safety and arming devices used in the Sidewinder, Sparrow and Hawk missiles.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—National Theatres & Television, Inc. Tuesday announced plans for 29 new theatres—20 of which will be drive-ins—to be built over the next three years. Cost of the theatres was put at $18.5 million.

Wall Street Views

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Speculation fever again is rising these days on Wall Street right along with stock prices, now at dizzy heights compared with a year ago.

But so far, the fast-dollar impulse hasn't reached anything near the proportions that worried Stock Exchange officials and government overseers of securities trading last spring.

On the whole, trading volume in recent weeks has been light, prompting one observer to remark that the general public did not participate to any great extent in the upsurge that began a month ago.

"Sometimes, speculative activity in low-priced shares is contagious, just like the measles," said Eldon A. Grimm, a vice president of Walston & Co., brokers.

Grimm traced a recent flurry of interest in "cheap" stocks to heavy dealings in Studebaker-Packard shares that in a few days drove up the per share price from $8 to $12, a 50 per cent increase.

Buyers then flocked to American Motors, selling under $20 at the time, the analyst said, then to Hupp Corp. (selling at under $10) "even though Hupp hasn't manufactured automobiles since the days of Babe Ruth."

In case you don't remember, Hupp used to make the Hupmobile car.

The contagion spread to Hercules Motors, an engine-maker that has lost money in late years and whose securities are depressed in price.

"Meanwhile, the Big Three motor shares, Ford, Chrysler and General Motors, remained relatively dormant, as they await the outcome of the present labor negotiations," Grimm noted.

Big Three shares, all carrying a much steeper price tag obviously had much less attraction to the in-and-out boys.

CUTTING UP AT 78—At an age when most women look for a rocking chair, this 78-year-old climbs out on a limb. She refused to give her name when a photographer found her pruning in Evansville, Ind., but said she had planted the tree herself years ago.

Production Increases

DETROIT (UPI) — The Automobile Manufacturers Association said Tuesday car production in the U.S. last week totaled 17,019 units compared with 21,124 autos assembled the previous week. Truck and bus production last week totaled 12,792 units, up more than 5,500 from the 7,038 trucks and buses built the previous week.

Composes New Work

MOSCOW (UPI) — Composer Aram Khatchaturian has completed two new works, the official news agency Tass said Tuesday. One titled "Ballad About the Homeland", is for bass and symphony orchestra and the other is a piano sonata. The ballad, Katchaturian was quoted as saying, is an anthem expressing pride in his native Armenia.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Grow Younger A S-t-r-e-t-c-h At A Time

Can a mature woman recapture the limber, lithe grace of her youth?

She certainly can, with proper exercise. And what's more, she can fully expect to enjoy the process.

That's because the necessary retraining of her muscles requires no more than stretching, reaching, and loosening of tautness until an enlivening resilience returns. With it comes a wonderful new feeling of well-being, and this begins almost at once. Just try this exercise tonight and see what promise it has for you.

1. Stand erect with your feet together and your arms at your sides. Fling both arms vigorously forward and upward overhead. At the same time, swing one leg straight back from the hip. As you lower your arms with the same powerful swing, swing the leg forward. Keep your elbows and knees straight but not stiff and work up a good momentum for five swings with one leg, then the other.

Now this is just a start, of course. Results don't set in until this exercise becomes a daily habit and you can do ten swings apiece with each leg without stopping. And when you've added a second exercise that goes like this:

2. Crouch down with your knees well bent and together. Curl your trunk forward until your head touches your knees. To balance, touch your hands to the floor. Straighten your legs very gradually, keeping your trunk curled. When your knees are straight, begin to uncurl your trunk, starting at the base of your spine and ending with your shoulders and neck. Then, slowly stretch your arms toward the ceiling. Hold for a count of ten and relax. Three times for this exercise at first, but you can soon increase the number to ten.

Opening Ceremonies Set At Junior College

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes heads the list of dignitaries invited to attend an opening convocation Sept. 17 at the new Anne Arundel Community College.

Tawes, school superintendent Thomas G. Pullen Jr., the county's legislative delegation, the county commissioners and many others have been invited to participate in the opening ceremonies.

College officials said Wednesday that the new junior college has already enrolled 188 students, 106 of them on a full-time basis, and has applications pending from 70 more prospective students.

Classes are scheduled to open Sept. 18.

Two Killed In Riot

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Police fired on partisans of the Najjida party leader Adnan Al-Hakim Wednesday, killing two and wounding three. The demonstrators showed up at the Omar Mosque, where Premier Saeb Salam was at services marking the birthday of the prophet Mohammed. When the demonstrators refused to disperse, police opened fire. Later on crowds set fire to two street cars and attacked a fire brigade.

Psychologists have found a way of judging personality from hand grasps. They have discovered that the way a person grasps a knob, dial or handle can reveal aggression, or the tendency to direct action against people, and deference, or the tendency toward conformity and submission.

Korean Working With Soil Conservation Unit In Romney Section

Sung Ho Lee, a native of Korea, who is employed by the Bureau of Forestry, Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry, in his country, arrived in Romney August 20, where he will work with the Soil Conservation Service until September 2.

He has been in the United States since January on a fellowship given by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

In his work in Korea, he is engaged in nursery operations with regard to the special use of tree species for upper watershed conservation projects and special forest by-products production.

While stationed in Romney, he will work in the field with Soil Conservation technicians and will endeavor to obtain a knowledge of techniques and procedures used in all phases of soil and water conservation.

Ho Lee is a graduate of Seoul National University, Seoul, Korea.

Upon leaving Romney, he will go to Franklin to work, and then will work at Moorefield and Martinsburg. He will return to Romney for another week before his schedule in the Mountain State is completed.

He will report to the Washington Office of the FAO late in September and will return to Korea October 4.

During his time in the United States, Lee has worked in Colorado, Michigan, Mississippi, Georgia and Kentucky.

Workman Crushed

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—A 17 - year - old apprentice was crushed to death in the nose wheel housing of a Qantas airliner Wednesday. He was working on the mechanism when the huge jet plane nose settled down on him.

Capital punishment has been in use as long as the history of mankind.

Three Out-Of-State Men Will Face Court Action Here

Sheriff's deputies will go to Manchester, N. H., and Columbus, Ohio in the near future to return three men for court action here.

Authorities in New Hampshire have notified State's Attorney James S. Getty that extradition proceedings against two men who robbed the Allegany Liquor Store, 206 Frederick Street last March of $157 have been processed.

The men, Edmund Leo Vallee and Leonard W. Burnor, were taken into custody in New Hampshire after local authorities received information from two young women who were with the two men at the time.

The two girls will also be brought here as material witnesses in the case.

The third man to be returned here is Albert Samuel Wright, against whom a retainer was placed at the Ohio state penitentiary where he is serving a sentence. The prisoner is to be released September 7.

Wright is one of three men who were arrested here two years ago and tried in Circuit Court on the rare charge of being "rogues and vagabonds."

The case was appealed and Wright was out on bond when he became involved with an infraction of the law in Ohio.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris had sentenced him to two years each on the "rogues and vagabond" charge and also two years for attempted breaking and entering the Montgomery Ward Store here. The sentences will run consecutively and Wright will be taken before the court here for the purpose of having him ordered to the state penitentiary.

Troops For Congo

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—About 1,200 U.N. troops from India, Pakistan and Ceylon are due here next Thursday en route to duty in the Congo, it was officially announced.

Sales Planned For Delinquent Taxes

William B. Orndorff, county tax collector, has conducted tax sales in 11 cases of delinquent taxes and seven more are scheduled soon.

Orndorff said that two of the tax sales affected dwellings and the balance were sales of unimproved acreage or vacant lots. The taxes on these properties had not been paid during the 1959 or 1960 tax years.

The tax collector said he is in the process of arranging tax sales of all properties where the owner has been delinquent for either of the two years mentioned. Notice is given to the delinquent taxpayers whereby they are allowed 60 days to settle the accounts before the properties are advertised for public sale.

Orndorff also announced that August 31 is the last day for county taxpayers to obtain the three per cent discoun on their current taxes. During September there is neither a discount or interest provisio: but starting October 1 the county charges one per cent interest on unpaid taxes.

Peanuts ripen below the ground.

MILTON E. ABRAHAM

New Engineer Is Added To Amcelle Staff

The appointment of Milton E. Abraham to the position of senior development engineer was announced yesterday by Hudson Nix, industrial relations manager of the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company. Abraham will head the Yarn Finishes Development Group.

He comes from Cresskill, N. J., where he was manager of research and development for Reheis Company, a cosmetic and pharmaceutical firm. He has also held positions as process engineer and development engineer with Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Company and Takamine Laboratories, a division of Miles Laboratories.

Abraham graduated from City College with a B.S. degree in chemical engineering. He also attended Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, where he attained a master of science degree in chemical engineering and completed the course work for his Ph.D.

He has been active in various civic and technical organizations. Abraham served in the Navy during World War II as a petty officer third class. His wife and two children will move to this area when suitable housing is located.

Minister Has New Hobby In Sculpturing

Rev. J. Harold Mowen, a native of Frostburg, has adopted a hobby which he is pursuing in hope of obtaining "beneficial and spiritual" results.

Father Mowen, pastor of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church in Gettysburg, has taken up sculpturing at Gettysburg College and his first major project is a bronze cover for the church's baptismal font.

Father Mowen is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, and is a former missionary in North Dakota. He has preached several times at Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Cumberland and many times at his native St. John's in Frostburg.

He is a cousin of George A. Ruhl, Mrs. Clifford Goodfellow and Mrs. Raymond Mills of Cumberland.

Father Mowen has been attending Gettysburg College two afternoons a week for the past four years and has made so much progress that he has now completed the model for the font cover which will be cast in bronze when completed.

The four figures on the font are approximately 10 inches high and 15 inches in diameter. They represent "Nicodemus Talking with Our Lord," " "Our Lord embracing children," "Baptism of Our Lord at the hands of John, the Baptist" and the ancient symbols of Christ (the Chi Rho and Alpha and Omega).

Playlot Selects King And Queen

FROSTBURG — Cathy Delaney was chosen queen and James Whetstone, king in the recent election held at the Braddock Playground. Miss Delaney and Mr. Whetstone will be crowned August 30 in a ceremony at the playlot. Crownbearers are Miss Patty Delaney and Michael Brady.

Following the crowning a program entitled, "Holiday U.S.A." will be presented by the children of the park.

Reparations Study

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — A six-man Japanese delegation is here this week to study Burmese reparation claims. Burma has received $200 million in Japanese reparations for World War II losses and seeks an additional $200 million.

Injunction Stands

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals refused Tuesday to vacate an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction which temporarily halted a strike by four maritime unions against shipping lines last July.

The 80-day "cooling off" period enforced by the injunction will end on Sept. 21.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Put down the red carpet and start ringing the bells,—Alice Faye, former comedy queen of the 20th Century-Fox Co., returns to the scene of her stardom to play the mother of Pat Boone and Pamela Tiffin in "State Fair." I can't say I'm surprised at Alice returning to her career, she looks as lovely today as she did when she was making "In Old Chicago," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Rose of Washington Square" and so many others.

Alice has been so happy being Mrs. Phil Harris and the mother of two lovely daughters, she has turned down offer after offer until Charles Brackett, the producer, talked her into doing the remake of the loved Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. What's more she gets Jose Ferrer as her director.

You can bet there will be big celebrating at 20th welcoming Alice home.

Radio is crowding TV for attention and big names for the new season. Bing Crosby has just signed for his 32nd year as a radio star having started his singing show in 1930. As usual, Bing's shows are being written by his old pal Bill Morrow, and he'll have Rosemary Clooney as his co-star on many programs.

Also, many of the commentators who are on TV are being invited to return to radio. I have had several offers but as of now I've said "no." My work, especially my column, does not give me enough time but I'll admit it's a temptation. I love radio and it is having such an upsurge with its keen analysis of news and its fine musical programs.

If Glenn C. House, Jr., attached to the USS Hornet aircraft carrier will communicate with Rock Hudson, he'll hear some very good news. Rock was walking near LaRue's, when he found a check for $104.50 from the U.S. Navy, made out to Glenn House.

Having been in the Navy himself, Rock says he knows what the loss of that pay must mean to the sailor. "I know," Rock said, "If I sent it back to the Navy, Glenn would have to wait till it goes through a lot of red tape, so I turned it over to Jack Diamond, head of the U-I publicity department."

If Glenn will get in touch with U-I, and identify himself, he will get the check immediately.

Human beings have intellectual processes which cannot, in the light of man's present knowledge, be duplicated by any computing device. Among the uniquely human capabilities mentioned by Cornell University scientists are the ability to recognize other people's emotions, ability to dwell upon past and future situations and the experience of beauty and love.

TV EASY WORK—Enid Markey, shown today and as she appeared in silent films, returns to Hollywood after 43 years on the New York stage to star in a TV series. She says the work is easy compared to the rough and tumble early days in Hollywood.

TWIST

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Martin Brandt had been marked for death by the Nazi party until he fled to the United States in 1941. Since then he has played many roles in which he is running from the Nazis.

Things were reversed in Columbia's "Judgment at Nuremberg." In that picture he played a Nazi war criminal who is sentenced to life imprisonment by Spencer Tracy.

Over the world, about 40,000 persons are killed by snake bites every year.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are in our early thirties. When we married we decided we didn't want any children. Neither of us has changed his mind. In fact, the more we see of the spoiled, demanding kids of our friends, the happier we are with our decision.

Invariably, the most neurotic, worn-out mothers are the ones who take me aside and say, "You ought to have two or three little ones." I've often been tempted to tell them that I think they are envious of the orderly, uncomplicated life we lead and I wish they would mind their own business.

Do you feel that every married couple should have children, Ann? To be perfectly frank, we think kids are a pain in the neck.

—HIM AND ME

DEAR HIM AND ME: It takes maturity and unselfishness to be good parents. A couple who considers children "a pain in the neck" could contribute very little to the emotional health of a child. People who feel as you do should not bring children into the world. It's unfair to the kids.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 21-year-old daughter is pretty, and she has an excellent position with a good firm. She has never given us a moment's trouble.

Four months ago she started to go with a man who is in charge of a roaming magazine crew. He had no permanent address and seemed too old and too slick for her. When she began to get phone calls at odd hours (urgent pleas for money) and telegrams asking for "a little financial help" we tried to get her to see that this man wasn't for her.

Well, we've failed. She told us last week that she's going to marry him. He is quitting the crew but has no other job in sight. She plans to keep working and she wants us to repaint her bedroom and buy new furniture so they can live with us. We are heartbroken over this. —M & D

DEAR M & D: Your daughter is of legal age and there's nothing you can do but let her make her own bed. But it doesn't have to be in your home.

Tell the girl if she wants to marry this man she's on her own. It might scare some sense into her head.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Before my husband and I met he was engaged to another girl. He bought her a beautiful diamond ring worth $600. When she left town she took the ring with her. He still owes $300 on the ring.

I work and we split everything fifty-fifty. All the bills are paid from our joint paychecks and we've never had any fights over money. He never mentioned this little $300 debt before we married and I am really put out about it.

Do you think that instead of letting him take a vacation in December I should insist that he work overtime for 18 days and pay that debt off himself? We had planned a little trip together, but I wouldn't mind staying home.

—GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: Marriage is a partnership and that means you both share in the profits and the losses. Consider this a "loss" and pay it off together. He'll think you're a living doll.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How TO BE WELL-LIKED," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

INVITATION FOR BIDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF DETENTION ROOMS AT THE ALLEGANY COUNTY INFIRMARY, FURNACE STREET EXTENDED, CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 22nd day of September, 1961, at 10:30 a. m., E.D.S.T., by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for work to be done and materials to be used in the construction of Detention Rooms at the Allegany County Infirmary, Furnace Street Extended, Cumberland, Maryland, in accordance with certain Plans and Specifications, dated August 15, 1961, prepared under the supervision of the County Commissioners of Allegany County.

Said Specifications will be available on and after August 22, 1961, at the office of the undersigned Clerk, in the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, to whom requests for additional information should be made. Plans and Specifications may be obtained for bidding purposes from the undersigned Clerk by depositing $15.00 for each set. Full amount of the deposit will be refunded upon return of the Drawings and Specifications unmarred and in good condition within five days of the closing date of the bidding.

Sub-contractors and Material Men may obtain complete sets of documents by depositing $15.00 plus the cost of printing and binding. No partial sets will be issued. The deposit of $15.00 will be returned provided the documents are returned in good condition within five days after closing date of bids.

Plans and Specifications are also obtainable at the office of the Architect, Coble and Burger, Architects, 223 Antietam Street, Hagerstown, Maryland.

Plans and Specifications will also be on file at:

F. W. Dodge, Plan Room, Baltimore, Maryland; Baltimore Building Conference, Baltimore, Maryland.

A lump sum proposal is requested which will include all General Construction, Plumbing, Heating, and Electrical work.

Proposals, to be entitled to consideration, must be made in accordance with the following instructions:

Proposals shall be made upon the forms of proposal provided each Bidder; numbers shall be stated both in writing and in figures, and the completed form shall be without interlineation, alteration or erasure. Bids must be signed in writing by the bidder, or an authorized agent of the bidder. If the bidder is a corporation, the bid shall be signed by a properly authorized officer of the Corporation and the Corporation seal attached. Proposals shall not contain any recapitulation of work to be done. No oral proposals of modification will be considered.

Proposals shall be addressed to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, and shall be delivered enclosed in a sealed envelope marked proposal and bearing the title of the work and the name of the Bidder.

Any bulletins issued during the time of bidding are to be covered in the proposal and in closing contract they will become a part thereof.

Either a certified check or a Bidder's Surety Company Bond in the amount of (5%) five percent of the base bid, payable without recourse to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, shall be filed with each bid. Said check or bid bond will be returned to the Bidders immediately upon signing of the contract, in any case not over thirty (30) days after the opening of the bids.

The Bidder whose proposal is accepted by the County Commissioners shall jointly execute with the County Commissioners "The Standard Form of Agreement Between Contractor and Owner for Construction of Buildings" issued by the American Institute of Architects. The successful Bidder shall furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Men's Bond in the full amount of the contract price, said Bonds to be issued by a bonding company licensed to do business in the State of Maryland and to be approved by the County Commissioners of Allegany County.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the opening date.

Evidence of Workmen's Compensation and Public Liability Insurance must be furnished, and the Contractor must comply with all Federal, State and Local regulations.

Labor rates must be figured at prevailing hourly wage rates in the vicinity at the date of the contract and the Contractor, in addition, must comply with the provisions of Section 80 (b) (c) of the Code of Public Local Laws of Allegany County (Everstine's 1955 Edition).

The County Commissioners of Allegany County hereby reserve the right to reject any or all bids or to accept any.

Opening lead: Four of ♥

East displayed great ingenuity in defending against today's three no trump contract, and his timely performance resulted in a four trick defeat.

After South's response of one spade North chose to make a jump rebid in diamonds. Our own preference with the North hand would have been for a jump rebid of two no trump. The hand contains the required 19-20 points in high cards and a six card suit should be no bar to such a rebid. The holding in hearts should be a distinct inducement to North to have his hand led up to. With North as declarer no amount of ingenuity on the part of the defense would have prevented the scoring of game.

South was disinclined to pass his partner's jump rebid. With faith and a touch of hope he tried three no trump.

West opened the four of hearts. East took dummy's king with the ace and cashed the queen. One glance at the imposing dummy made it evident that defeating this contract was no easy task. However, after some thought, East saw a way which offered some hope.

It was apparent that West had the ten of hearts since declarer would have ducked the first trick if he had held that card. Therefore, the problem was to get West in but it had to be done before dummy's diamond suit was established. That South held the spade ace seemed certain, since otherwise he could hardly have enough points for a response.

There was, however, a chance that South did not hold the king of clubs, in which case the contact could be defeated. East therefore played the queen of clubs and sounded declarer's death knell. In a desperate effort declarer tried the diamond finesse and went down to a crushing defeat.

Five Die In Fire

SYDNEY MINES, N.S. (UPI)—Five persons were killed early Tuesday in a fire that destroyed a two-story home in this Cape Breton mining town.

The dead were identified as Gus MacNeil, 78; Mrs. Mary Campbell, 64; and three children, Betty, 18; Tony, 13; and Wanda, 2. The children were wards of the Children's Aid Society and were being cared for by Mrs. Campbell. MacNeil was a boarder in the Campbell home.

The accident death rate in the United States is about 57 for every 100,000 persons a year.

Air Reserve Has Openings In Squadron

The Air Force Reserve has vacancies in the 9212th Recovery Squadron, based at Hagerstown Municipal Airport, according to Col. William B. Curry, commanding officer.

Former Air Force servicemen are particularly needed, the colonel said, although the vacancies are open to personnel of any branch of service who can meet the enlistment criteria.

Training sessions are held one weekend each month, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday. Capt. Willard W. Morley of Frostburg, the squadron education officer, said members of the unit are required to provide their own transportation to and from training session, but that this should be no problem since there are a good many members residing in the Cumberland area.

The most pressing need, Capt. Morley said, is for firefighters and medical personnel, as well as in the squadron's crash and rescue service.

Further information can be secured by calling Capt. Morley at OV 9-5471, or Technical Sgt. Lewis Murphy at the Hagerstown Airport, RE 3-4911, between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Sacred Heart Pre-Admission Service Fast

Sacred Heart Hospital has instituted a pre-admission service for residents of the area, according to Sister Mary Richard, administrator.

The service makes entering the hospital more convenient and eliminates patients, or relatives, being delayed upon entering the institution.

A special telephone headset has been secured for one of the hospital's clerks. As soon as a physician phones for a reservation, the clerk in turn telephones the patient.

The specially designed head piece permits the admitting clerk to type the necessary data required for admission and at the same time answer questions the patient might have relative to entering the hospital.

Thus when the patient arrives, he must only sign the admission papers, receive his plastic identification band and is immediately escorted to his room.

Sister Mary Richard said one of the biggest advantages of the system is that the patient's relatives are able to go directly to the room with the patient instead of being delayed by giving the patient's history.

Break In Water Line Repaired

Water service to Ridgeley was cut off Tuesday night as a result of a serious break in the main line to that community, officials of the City Water Department said.

Residences and places of business were without water from Tuesday evening to about 10:30 a. m. yesterday when repairs were completed.

The break occurred near the George Washington Crossing Bridge, and was first reported last weekend. The exact location of the break could not be immediately determined, but when it was located emergency crews worked "round the clock" until repairs were made.

Youths Sentenced In Theft

Two local youths were sentenced yesterday by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in the theft of approximately $1,300 from Barton's Dairy in June this year.

Gary Leon Canfield, 16, was placed in the custody and care of officials at the Maryland Training School for Boys, and David William Shank, 18, was sentenced to the Maryland Reformatory for Males for a period not to exceed two years.

Judge Harris passed sentence after having received a pre-sentencing report from James Lewis, state probation officer.

The court said that the reports indicate both youths do not have good backgrounds and the younger of the two was sent to the training school to receive the care and custody which he had not received at home. Judge Harris commented. Arrangements have been made for the youths to make restitution. They spent most of the money.

LaVale Civic Organization Now Has 650 Members

Cameron Otto, membership chairman, informed the board of directors of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association Monday that the organization has a total of 650 residents and businesses belonging.

Mrs. Bess Buchanan, board chairman, read a letter from the Cumberland Post Office Department requesting that LaVale residents place numbers on their homes to facilitate mail delivery.

Builders and individuals opening new streets in the community are urged to meet with street sign Chairman Dudley Browne, so that street names will not be duplicated.

This committee is anxious to place street signs as soon as new streets are opened. New residents are asked to contribute to the street sign fund for the placement and maintenance of signs.

John Rowan, Allan Macy, Mrs. Verna Huck and Arthur Vickers were appointed by Mrs. Buchanan to a committee to study the publication of a monthly newspaper for LaVale.

Lloyd Smith appeared before the Board to request cooperation in developing recreational facilities for LaVale. Action was taken to meet with the Lions Park Committee. Smith represented a group of parents who are interested in the immediate development of a ball field.

Others attending the meeting were Robert Macbeth, Cromwell Zembower, Albert Tosh, Ivan Hall, Lloyd Buchanan and Mrs. Florence Whitworth.

Germany has 641 youth hotels.

The Illegality Of 'Prestige'

Russia has no legal right to attempt to change the status of Berlin. The Kremlin doesn't pretend to have any. The Communist demand for a change in Berlin's status is, as Khrushchev said recently, a question of "prestige." And he offered a hint as to what he meant by "prestige" when he implied that Russia is so powerful that the Allies will not resist her in this matter.

There is a long-continued Berlin crisis, and Moscow created it unaided. The Allied protests observe that present developments constitute the most flagrant violation of international agreements on Berlin since the Berlin blockade of 1948-49.

When that blockade ended, Russia signed still another agreement, pledging herself to facilitate freedom of movement both within Berlin and between Berlin and all parts of Germany.

But Russia and her East German puppets have cut the elevated and subway service in Berlin, torn up streets, erected road blocks, and strung barbed wire. None of this exactly facilities freedom of movement.

The four-power agreements on Germany and Berlin also forbid the formation and use of military and para-military units in the city. So Berlin is out of bounds to West German troops. But the extraordinary and illegal measures described above are being illegally enforced by East German military and paramilitary units.

In further violation of their pledge to facilitate freedom of movement in Berlin, the Communists have prevented tens of thousands of East Berliners from keeping their jobs in West Berlin. This is not only illegal; it denies to the workers their elementary right to choose where they will work.

All these measures, in addition to being illegal, flout the wishes of the people of East and West Berlin alike. The reason for them, of course, is that the Communists are embarrassed by the flight of their subjects to the West. But they constitute a reckless attempt to settle the problem by force and threats of force.

'Don't Do Anything To Get Him Excited'

White House Informal, Lively And Bustling Under President Kenendy

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note)—While Drew Pearson is in Russia to cover the current crisis, his associate, Jack Anderson, is covering the Washington front.)

WASHINGTON — The stately White House, a place of precept and protocol under Dwight D. Eisenhower, has changed dramatically during the seven months since John F. Kennedy moved in.

Ike conducted affairs of state not only by the book but by the clock. All papers were processed through channels, were never passed up to the President without the proper endorsements.

Briefings were punctual and punctilious. Even Cabinet meetings were rehearsed and timed in advance. The speaker's rostrum was fitted with a three-minutes-to-go light and a time's-up signal.

Kennedy has junked most of Ike's formality. He prefers to work with small, informal groups kicking ideas around. Restless as a hungry cat, he also prowls around the White House and holds spontaneous, unscheduled conferences in the corridors.

Nobody knows when the President will poke his shock-head into an office. If the aide is out, Kennedy may riffle through the paperwork on the desk—a habit he developed in his Senate office, not so much to pry as to keep tabs on his output.

Once he wandered into the White House's back offices where the secretaries (many of them holdovers from as far back as the Roosevelt regime) had never seen a President at close quarters.

One of them, Lucille Tutt, looked up from her typewriter to see JFK framed in the doorway.

"Oh! Good morning, Mr. President," she gasped, although the time was 6 p. m. Now her colleagues always greet her with an elaborate "Good morning," no matter what time of day it is.

Powers Takes A Bow

Another time, a reporter for this column was chatting with Dave Powers, official greeter, whose Irish humor has made him the new court jester. Suddenly the President thrust his head through the open door and called "Dave!"

Powers bounded to his feet, tripped over an ash tray, and ended up doing a deep, involuntary salaam. Without even meaning to be funny, he got a Presidential belly-chuckle.

Kennedy has surrounded himself with brainy young men, most of them Ivy Leaguers of the pipe-and-sweater look. Like their chief, most are intense, yet appear to be casual. They work long, irregular hours, usually in their shirt sleeves.

They seldom are too busy, however, for a little sophisticated horseplay. They particularly enjoy ribbing Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, better known around the White House as "Pudgy Pierre" or just plain "Pudgy." The President gave him the nickname, borrowing it from a favorite adjective used by the press to describe him.

After Kennedy strained his back and Salinger was inundated with press calls for medical information, mischievous aides also began calling him "Dr. Salinger." Sometimes they would disguise their voices on the telephone and ask him for medical advice. The President went along with the joke and sent him a book for his birthday: "The Family Medical Encyclopedia."

Lanky, likable Mike Feldman, who was abandoned as a child to an orphanage but now has a suite of offices in the White House, came in for some kidding for his work on the President's message to Congress on the highway program.

"This must be a crash program," Feldman wrote earnestly. But Ted Sorensen, the No. 1 aide, suggested dryly that it might be poor politics for the President to advocate a "crash" program for highways.

White House Verse

The President, whose own sense of humor is dry as a martini, likes to join in the backstage banter. But his humor shows up more often in the quick postscripts he scribbles on personal letters.

To ease the tension, some aides exchange comic notes and verses. Most prolific is the bland, brilliant Sorensen who can dash off doggerel like an amateur Hammerstein.

In a poetic tribute to his deputy, he ribbed Feldman recently about his illegible handwriting. Wrote Sorensen:

"Whose works are illegible—or does this say illegal?

Who has the sense of a hare and the strength of an eagle?

Or does this say an absence of hair and the stench of a beagle?

Anyway—it's the deputy.

"Who works on food drains—or does this say feed grains?

Who is our backbone, our head, and a mass of brains?

Or does this say our backache, a headache, and a mess of pains?

Back came Feldman with a parody, written to a tune from "H. M. S. Pinafore":

"Ted Sorensen was first in his class at school,

Yet declined lega' offers; he was no fool.

Instead he learned to play the piano with ease;

He studied all his chords and scales until they were a breeze.

And now that Harry Truman has retired (with his spouse),

We needed a pianist to cheer up the White House.

So it was simple as it could be:

Ted became special counsel to John F. Kennedy."

Such is life inside the White House during these days of crisis, as the whole world walks the razor edge of Berlin. It is an extraordinary mixture of devotion, humanity, and the spices of wry, dry wit, but as wholesome a mixture as ever went into one of grandmother's cakes.

Allies Have Lost Ground In Berlin Crisis

By David Lawrence

IN EUROPE — The Lyndon Johnson visit to West Germany and Berlin is over, and the cheers and the shouting have subsided. It was a good idea for him to make the trip. It gave timely encouragement to the West Berlin populace, which had grown panicky. But the sad, unvarnished truth is that the Western Alliance stands in a dazed, if not frustrated, condition as it becomes clear that the Soviets have in reality seized and virtually annexed a piece of Berlin and apparently have gotten away with their aggression.

The facts are plain to see. Four powers allied together in the last war made an agreement to act as trustees for a conquered territory. No single trustee had the power to disregard the will of the others or to continue to occupy any territory or govern any of its inhabitants without the express consent of the other allies.

The Soviet Union now has violated its trusteeship. The people of West Berlin were dumbfounded when the three Western powers of the wartime alliance sent a note to Moscow that merely called attention to the violation without seeming to be willing to do anything about it. That's why the morale of West Berlin's population sank and Vice President Johnson hurried over to the area to cheer them up and to participate in the welcoming of 1,500 additional American troops who came to strengthen the garrison in West Berlin.

But such a small military contingent and the demonstrations of the crowd for the distinguished Ameircan visitors have little, if any significance so far as the Communists are concerned. This is because, for all practical purposes, the Western allies have already acquiesced in the cutting off of East Berlin, and there is really nothing to negotiate now except the ratification of the Soviet action in annexing the whole East German area through the device of a separate peace treaty.

Most of the voices that come from the Western governments, formally and informally, call vaguely for "negotiation." But there seems to be no iron hand behind the words, and the peoples of Europe really don't expect any militancy from the Western governments now. If the principle involved is of no value, if the Soviets can annex a piece of territory and police it as if it were their own, shutting off access to West Berlin as they please, and the Allies continue only to send diplomatic notes of protest, then indeed the Berlin crisis is over. For the Russians will be glad to talk for months or years about their concepts of legal rights and postwar agreements.

The psychological impact of what has just happened struck the West Germans quickly, but the true significance of the latest aggression by the Soviets has not yet permeated elsewhere in Western Europe.

For all practical purposes, the crucial moment has passed — the expected agreement now is likely to elicit some paper guarantees of the right of allied access subject to Soviet whims and variable interpretations. But the world will know that the Soviets have not only perpetuated their occupation but have set up a puppet government in East Germany to harass West Germany and the Western Allies.

Actually, despite everything President Kennedy has done — the stepping-up of the United States military program, the dispatch of 1,500 more troops to West Berlin, the organizing of our military effort in NATO — the Communist dictatorship in the Kremlin is still doubtful whether the West means business.

Within the last few days, the Moscow government has started in tary effort in NATOetaoinrpete its own way a probing operation. Newsmen in various Western capitals have been approached. Members of different governments have been interrogated privately by Soviet diplomats at luncheons or dinners. There has been a concerted effort to find out how resolute the Western Alliance really is.

The skepticism about the Western attitude has resulted from the repeated statements in the American and British press that "negotiations," in effect, may include concessions and compromises. If this be true, it is only natural for the Moscow government to continue to press hard toward its goal, and to assume that even tactics of harassment on the corridor between west Berlin and West Germany will not be resisted and that a protracted palaver will be acquiesced in by the West.

What should the west have done? It could have insisted on free access to West Berlin by the East German people and the right of West Berlin residents to go to East Germany at any time, under military protection if necessary. The West instead is in the position today of having recognized the right of the Soviet government to imprison the East German people and to block the free movement of the East Germans within their own country.

These Days

Uncorrectable Errors

Politicians play their little games but some of them become costly irretrievable errors. Also some are not understandable. For instance the establishment of the American Sector of West Berlin inside of East Germany — 110 miles inside of East Germany without a corridor is beyond understanding.

If there was to be a divided Berlin, each sector should have had a corridor. By agreement, Berlin was divided into American, British, French and Russian sectors. The Western countries united and the people of West Berlin elected a government of their own, headed by Mayor Willy Brandt.

Soviet Russia declined to join in this rationalization of Berlin, establishing East Germany as a separate area, controlled by Soviet Russia. This was a violation of all agreements, but Soviet Russia has maintained that there are two Germanys and that there will remain two Germanys and that Berlin is actually within the Soviet Zone, in East Germany. Therefore the Western powers, who may be there legally, are there irrationally.

Khrushchev makes this point now. He holds that after 16 years, a settlement must be reached that makes sense from the Russian standpoint. President Kennedy has challenged the Russian point of view in the most practical manner possible, by sending troops into Berlin and by sending Vice-President Johnson there. It was a direct challenge to Russia and Khrushchev let it pass.

The initial error was undoubtedly made by President Truman, Prime Ministers Churchill and Attlee, by the American and British chiefs-of-staff who accepted the Russian formula which was unsound when adopted and is unsound now. Even a movie house has a fire exit.

This kind of historical error was not only made as regards Berlin but also as regards China. I have been reading Robert Morris' remarkable book, "No Wonder We Are Losing," in which he gives the details of his services as a counsel for Congressional committees. In this book, he establishes beyond question the activities of Russian agents and spies within the State Department and the White House.

He describes carefully what we now call, to avoid libel, "Russian-oriented" persons who played an enormous role in the development of American policy toward Red China. Morris describes what he knows from first hand experience.

The mistakes made in our relations with China cannot be corrected and they are proving to be very costly to us. But the personalities who made the mistakes, who associated with Russian-oriented personalities, who influenced Presidents and Secretaries of State are, many of them, still around, working in the State Department and elsewhere in the government. They made mistakes and to err is human; therefore it is held that the entire country not the individuals should suffer.

A final example of error and carelessness is to be found in Cuba, in the support and opposition to Batista; in the support and opposition to Castro; in the boycott of Cuban goods but the shipment of American goods to Cuba from both Tampa and Canada. And, of course, the greatest blunder was the amateurish commando-type invasion of Cuba which ended in a fiasco.

Who has been tried for the fiasco? Who has been held responsible for the confused Cuban policy? Actually nobody has been. The doctrine remains that to err is human and that all a human being need say is that he regrets his error, whereupon he is permitted to err some more.

This country will have to wake up and take a sterner attitude toward experts who make mistakes. There are some who still do not believe that Harry Dexter White was a malicious official, a Russian agent, despite all the evidence to that effect gathered by the FBI. There are still some who believe that Alger Hiss is innocent. What is their proof? Is it not enough to establish a man's innocence that Joe McCarthy held that he was guilty? If it is possible to prove guilt by association, why not establish innocence by looking at the accuser?

No nation can afford the luxury of that sort of logic—surely not in a battle with Soviet Russia.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

SPACE FLIGHT — Russia's leader displayed to the world an unusual degree of confidence in the reliability of the Russian rocket system. He announced his major speech in reply to President Kennedy's mobilization address before the Titov flight, knowing he would deliver it after Major Titov had returned to earth.

Further, the Russians announced Titov's take-off within hours, and while he was still orbiting the earth. Titov had still to land in order to make the flight a success.

If Titov had failed, Khrushchev would have been in a bad spot. He probably would have brazened it out and made his speech anyway. However, it would not have had the impact it did have, coming on the heels of another Soviet space triumph, with its military and propaganda overtones.

This display of confidence is one of the factors which most impress U. S. government leaders. Another is that Khrushchev has effectively destroyed the myth that somehow Yuri Gagarin did not make his flight and the whole thing was a Soviet-inspired hoax.

It must be said that no one in the U. S. government ever swallowed that one, but believers in the myth — in Congress and elsewhere — were loath to give it up.

Yet, American intelligence is not over-buying the Russian space achievements. For one thing, Russia has not yet come to the point of inviting international observers to the launchings. For another, her raw use of propaganda to obtain maximum benefits around the world indicates that her claims are at the outer limits of her accomplishments.

The Soviet Union is faced with the problem of the champion maintaining his record despite the fact that he has used all his resources, in the face of a constantly improving challenger.

Thorny Issue

By John Crosby

CANNES, France

One cannot spend five minutes in Europe without encountering the immense philosophical difference between Americans and Europeans on the subject of war. In our country, the enemy, the only enemy worth thinking about, is Communism. In Europe, the great enemy is war itself.

The European popular attitude is summed up best in the slogan now getting currency in Britain: "Better Red than dead." This slogan was promptly, and I think unwisely, dismissed by Americans as Communist propaganda. Of course, there's no doubt but that the Communists are making great use of it. (It's probably the greatest Communist propaganda coup since the Reds appropriated the word peace as their very own invention.)

Just the same, "Better Red than dead" has an immense emotional and ideological appeal to many persons who abhor Communism. There are very great numbers of this group and they are an important group of writers and thinkers and their numbers span a great many Americans who live abroad. This is not to say that there are not many — probably a great majority — who would very much rather be dead than Red and who think very much like Americans, as expressed in the Gallup poll, think.

But the difference is that both groups command respectful attention; a member of either group can — in cafes or in the letters columns of newspapers (where the subject is constantly hashed over) or in a livingroom — argue his position without losing friends or his job or his reputation. Can this be done in America? Europeans say no.

The subject, they say — and with great pride — is unarguable in America. "Americans," a witty European said to me, "will kill every last man, woman, and child on earth to defend a liberty they lost long ago. What kind of liberty have Americans? Could any one in America get up and say he thinks the extermination of the human race is the greatest crime of all? Could any American get up and say: 'What's the matter with Communism? It's a great system.' All right, you disagree. But what's the matter with that? Must you agree with every word you hear?

"In Europe when we say freedom of opinion we mean just that. But in America freedom of opinion is freedom to say what everyone else is saying. As between that and Russian freedom of opinion, we Europeans don't see much difference. If we can't express an opinion, anyhow, we'd rather be alive and shut our mouths than dead and have our mouths permanently shut."

We may disagree with that, but we must admit that it would be very difficult for an American to talk like that in any forum you can think of — newspaper, cafe, private home — without being called a Communist dupe or a Communist. Intelligent Europeans feel that the stakes in the next war are so vast that this issue should be discussed on the very highest levels. If humanity doesn't perish, civilization almost certainly will. Is this not an arguable subject?

In letters to the editor or in private conversation — though not, as far as I can see, in any editorial or official opinion — this idea is reiterated again and again. But in America, I must confess, we are not only not permitted to argue the question, whether we'd rather have the whole world be dead than Red: we don't even permit ourselves to think about it at all or to examine it at all. It is treasonable to have anything but the official opinion.

This then is the vast ideological gulf that one encounters here. Americans, many Europeans feel, have simply endorsed a position involving staggering consequences for all mankind which they have not thought about at all and which has never really been seriously debated.

Of course, there's another, happier side to this thorny issue of freedom of conscience and this the Europeans miss: for the first time in my memory (at least in peacetime) a democracy has a solidity of opinion to match a dictatorship. For the first time an American President can pursue a course without being sniped at — on this issue anyway — from the Right or the Left or the Middle.

Also, while I agree absolutely with my European friend that we are too timid, too orthodox, too reactionary on the subject of Communism and life under Communism (which is not all that bad and some day we're going to have to face up to that, too), I feel strongly that the Europeans miss entirely one great shining fact about the United States of America. There is in the American popular view on Communism and the cold war a certain intuitive grasp that goes beyond arguments and deeper than parlor liberalism. Americans on this question, as they have before on great issues such as the American Revolution, the Civil War, and the two World Wars, have an intuitive grasp of the fundamentals which brook no argument and which could never be changed by argument. So why bother?

But we must not crucify everyone who feels this greatest of issues should be thrashed out publicly because it includes some of our best friends and it includes some very great democrats.

Says my witty European friend: "I would like to see a big television debate in America: 'Is Communism a better way of life than democracy?' If you can't argue about democracy, you haven't got it."

Emotions And 'Butterflies In The Stomach'

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many of man's troubles settle in his gastrointestinal tract. Tensions create ulcers, constipation, or spastic bowel. In this respect, his digestive tract suffers or rejoices with him, depending upon his mood.

Anger can induce sufficient spasm to constrict the colon so tightly, examination with a diagnostic instrument is impossible. As a result, the wall of the intestine may turn as red as his face in response to the emotional upheaval.

The close relationship between man's feelings and his digestive tract explains the irritable bowel. Many persons are bothered only during periods of fatigue, usually following long hours of work and tension.

Those who recognize the true meaning of the discomfort improve with rest or vacation. Others struggle along with antispasmodic preparations such as Probanthine, Tral, Trasentine, atropine, or belladonna. Some will require a sedative also to sleep. These products are excellent remedies for short periods but the basic cause must be eliminated for permanent relief.

Individuals who are mildy upset most of the time pay for their fears, frustrations, and perfectionism. They never are free of slight abdominal distress, varying from tenderness to dull aching or cramplike pain. Constipation and gas are common.

These people should take stock of what they are doing and where they are going. They must avoid situations that are upsetting and emotionally painful, including social stresses, new activities, and nerve-racking commitments. The added leisure provided by giving up extracurricular activities will encourage relaxation. Mild exercise such as walking can unwind the springs, if it is done for fun and not to dash madly here and there.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on irritable colon if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NAUSEA ON RUNNING

M. C. writes: What would cause a 16-year-old boy to get sick to his stomach every time he runs? Otherwise his health is perfect.
REPLY

If this symptom follows ordinary running, I would suspect an emotional disorder. On the other hand, we can expect this reaction if the boy runs to the point of sheer exhaustion. It might be traced to dehydration or to other chemical changes associated with overexertion.

ALCOHOL AND DIABETES

Fed up writes: I would like you to tell my husband about the harmful effects of wine, whisky, and beer for a victim of diabetes. He drinks before breakfast.
REPLY

Diabetics can use alcoholic beverages within moderate limits if they are not overweight and the disease is under control. The caloric content of the drinks must be fitted into the diet. But your husband's problem has all the earmarks of alcoholism, a condition that is serious enough in itself.

PAINLESS ULCER

L. M. writes: Can a person have duodenal ulcer without pain?
REPLY

Yes. The victim may complain of a sensation of nausea or of hunger; others describe the symptom as gnawing or burning. More commonly, pain occurs one to four hours after a meal.

SINUS AND SWIMMING

D. K. writes: Is it safe for a person with sinus disease to go to the beach?
REPLY

Yes, if he doesn't dive or swim under water.

TB RECURRENCES

W. L. writes: Does a woman with arrested tuberculosis have flare-ups of the disease from time to time?
REPLY

Not if she takes care of herself and follows the health rules to the letter.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Workers in the box office of Gotham's Majestic Theater never will forget the night Callahan stood patiently in line for an hour to purchase seats for a meledrama called "The Great Miracle." Directly ahead of him was a dour Scot, who eventually reached the ticket window.

"Our best orchestra seats," the treasurer told the Scot, "are six-sixty. In the balcony they run as low as two-twenty."

"I'll take two of the six-sixty seats," decided the Scot, producing a twenty-dollar bill, "and you may keep the change for being so courteous."

Callahan abruptly stepped out of line and headed for the sidewalk. The man in the box office yelled, "Hey! Don't you want to see 'The Great Miracle'?"

"Not me," answered Callahan. "I've SEEN it!"

"Approaching Las Vegas," counsels Cindy Adams, "you'll see a sign reading 'GAS'. Take it!"

Failure to follow proper dietary habits is the most striking deficiency of teen-agers—particularly girls—seen in nutritional surveys of food consumption. In one study of Iowa school children, more than half the teen-age girls followed diets that were called "grossly inadequate."

Home Ec Teacher Thinks Boys Should Join Classes

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — A career home economist wants to step up enrollment in home economics courses by recruiting the boys.

Latest official figures from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare showed 2,660,000 students in such courses in public secondary schools during the 1958-59 school year. Officials said enrollments are increasing.

But not fast enough to suit Margaret Spader, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association (GAMA). In an interview, she also criticized the failure of these classes to attract more quality students and the downgrading of classes by regarding them as largely vocational.

Family Living

Miss Spader said home economics educates youngsters for family living, and improves goods and services by teaching students to evaluate and shop wisely. Home economics classes also provide research on individual and family needs in our changing society, she added.

Because boys now participate more in homemaking activities, she'd like to see them get the same kind of thorough training available to girls. She's also counting on the boys' presence to attract more girl students into the classes.

"Parental cooperation with teachers is also needed," Miss Spader said. "Parents should insist on home projects. Students should be required to visit supermarkets, to shop within budgets."

Want Money Management

She quoted Thelma Birt, a Troy, Ohio, High School homemaking teacher, who asked former students now married to comment on curriculum for future courses. Subjects they wanted emphasized included time and money management and quick, inexpensive meal preparation.

Miss Spader said evaluation and selection of new appliances and new food products also were among advantages of studying home economics. More than 200 million home appliances operating now were not on the market 15 years ago. With many food stores stocking 6,000 or more items, shopping bewilders the indecisive.

The height of indecision was reached by an Atlanta, Ga., supermarket shopper, who asked a home economist if it was all right to ice one brand of cake with a competitor's frosting mix.

Week's Food Economies

Food shoppers will find the best values in locally grown produce for their fruit and vegetable dollar this week, says Virginia McLuckie, food economist of the Baltimore Office, University of Maryland, Department of Markets.

Summer apples, particularly the Summer Rambo variety, are high on the list of best buys. Rambos are seasonal during August and September. This is an easy apple to identify because it is both flat and green and usually large. These early apples are slightly acid, tender, and considered good cooking apples for sauce and pie. Now is the time to can or freeze applesauce or to make green apple pie.

Peaches from Maryland and nearby states are increasing in volume. Peaches are a good source of vitamin A and a fair source of vitamin C. Fresh peaches should be sorted and the ripest used first. The flavor of peaches is best when they are mature which means the background color will be creamy yellow. Within the next two weeks plan to can or freeze peaches. Some Elberta peaches are now being harvested.

Cantaloupes are also on the list of best buys. The harvest from Eastern shore country is at its peak while most of the cantaloupes are the salmon colored flesh, some white or green fleshed cantaloupes are available. Find a way to include this tempting melon in daily meals.

At the produce counter the best buys are green peppers, cabbage, sweet corn and lima beans. Peppers in addition to their fine flavor have a brilliant color to help pep up a meal. Fresh lima beans are seasonal. Now is the time to enjoy this vegetable to the fullest. An easy way to shell lima beans is to use a sharp knife and slice a thin strip from the outside edge of the pods. Then open the pods and remove the beans. Fresh succotash using fresh limas and corn is a summer treat. Sweet corn and cabbage are low in cost.

Turkeys are a good buy. The crop of turkeys is large and prices are attractive. Crab meat is in good supply and prices are in the low range for claw or regular meat to make excellent crab cakes or scalloped dishes. Watch for specials on ham and steaks for summer meals in or out of doors.

Strawberry Bavarian

½ cup milk
2 eggs, separated
1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
Pinch of Salt
1 package (10 ounce) frozen sliced strawberries
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup sugar
½ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream

Beat milk and egg yolks together until thoroughly mixed. Cook over very low heat (or over boiling water) stirring constantly until mixture will coat a metal spoon. Remove from heat. Add gelatin and stir; stir until dissolved. Stir in undrained strawberries and vanilla. Chill until ¾ of mixture has set. Beat egg whites to soft peaks. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture forms stiff peaks. Whip gelatin mixture until smooth. Fold in sour cream and egg whites. Pour into a well oiled 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with whipped cream if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Low calorie vegetables—rich in Vitamin A—include asparagus, green beans, carrots cauliflower, beets, broccoli, spinach, cabbage, celery, brussel sprouts, summer squash and tomatoes.

Feet take a beating in summer, either from sweat or from direct exposure to shoeleather and weather. Avoid hard calluses with frequent soap-and-water scrubbings. Use a stiff brush.

Clorox gives you the only kind of cleaning power that gets out suds-proof body dirt...right in your washer!

You'll never have really clean washes till you realize this: Oily body dirt takes a special kind of cleaning power. The Clorox kind. Weaker bleaches just won't do. Detergents can't get rid of it without tiresome hand-treating. Suds-proof body dirt is too stubborn to be floated away or covered up. It must be dissolved. Adding Clorox to your suds dissolves it...right in your washer.

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

In less than three weeks, Baltimore will become the center of the maritime world when the opening gavel sounds for the XXth International Navigation Congress. As President of the Congress, it will be my pleasure to welcome delegates from every corner of the globe.

The Congress, which is sponsored by the Permanent International Association of Navigation Congresses, will concentrate on ways and means to produce safer, more efficient navigation on ocean and inland waterways. About 1,000 maritime experts in government and private industry are expected to attend the Congress, which will run from September 11 through 19. Invitations have been tendered to 105 nations. Its international flavor is emphasized by the fact that the Voice of America of the United States Information Agency will cover the meeting for millions of listeners overseas.

Baltimore will be the second American city to play host to the organization in its 76-year history. The importance of the Congress is reflected in the impressive roster of its sponsors: President Kennedy will act as High Patron; Secretary of State Dean Rusk is to make the welcoming address; and Governor Tawes has served as chairman of the organizing committee which his been hard at work for the past year. In fact, since the first Congress in 1885, thirteen kings and five presidents have served as high patrons.

The basic aim of the organization is the free interchange of information leading to better seaways and waterways. Nevertheless, the delegates will seek relaxation. The City of Baltimore and the State of Maryland will have an unique opportunity to demonstrate their traditional warmth and hospitality. Many events have been scheduled. For example, the Women's Committee, under the direction of Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, will sponsor a program for wives of the delegates to provide a feminine view of America through tours and teas in the homes of Baltimore City and visits to supermarkets and shopping centers.

For myself, I am looking forward to hosting, as President, the reception and buffet to be held at Goucher College on September 13. In effect, each and every Baltimorean and Marylander associated directly or indirectly with the Navigation Congress will be able to act as a world ambassador in his own backyard. The Port of Baltimore has a long and proud record of carrying on fair trade with all parts of the world. I am confident that it will also sustain its record of fair diplomacy during the XXth International Navigation Congress next month.

Grinders

For the young crowd who like their picnic fare high, wide, and handsome—this is it. Jaw-challenging GRINDERS stack up from favorite poor boy rolls, cut in half, lengthwise. On each bottom half are placed—12 slices of thinly sliced Cervelat, 3 slices tomato, 2 thin slices onion (broken into rings), and 2 slices sharp process cheese. Serve 'em "as is" for on-the-go-meals. For backyard fests, heat them in a hot oven (400°F.) for about 5 minutes, to relax the cheese.

German Potato Salad

6 cups hot diced potatoes
½ cup finely chopped onion
9 slices bacon, diced
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
½ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
¾ cup boiling water
1½ tablespoons prepared mustard
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine hot cooked potatoes and onion. Fry bacon until crisp; drain on paper toweling. Pour off all but 3 tablespoons of bacon drippings. Add vinegar, sugar, water and mustard to bacon drippings; stir until sugar is dissolved. Add hot mixture to potatoes and toss gently until most of the moisture is absorbed. Fold in sour cream, parsley, bacon, salt and pepper until well blended. Serve warm or cold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Double The Pleasure

When two popular favorites are plentiful and readily available, and when they combine with most pleasurable results, it's reasonable to assume there's double the eating joy in store from such a combination in one dish. The plentifuls in question—potatoes and sour cream—make as fine a duo as you're likely to find.

Try scalloped potatoes for lunch or dinner some day soon. This combination of potatoes, eggs, and sour cream is especially pleasing during this sultry season of the year. Somewhat off-beat in taste sensation, its slightly tart flavor and easy-to-eat quality make it just right for now—the kind of dish likely to tempt a jaded appetite. With it all, it's nutritious and satisfying, and fits right into both a luncheon or dinner main dish. Or it may be served alone in casserole style.

You'll find the major ingredients of this fine dish in ample supply right now. Since milk flow is still hovering around the seasonal peak, dairy products such as sour cream and others are about as abundant as they well can be.

Potatoes have likewise been in bountiful supply for some time past. At the produce counters, both the "old" and the "new" potatoes of the spring and summer crops are on display — at extremely reasonable prices.

Your combination potato and sour cream dish is a good choice on every score.

For Scalloped Potatoes, try this recommended recipe: Cook 6 medium size potatoes in boiling water until fork tender, 25-35 minutes. Drain, dry, peel, slice, and layer slices ina buttered casserole. Meanwhile, stir 2 tablespoons each chopped onion and butter together over a low heat. Add them to a mixture of 2 well beaten eggs and 1 cup sour cream seasoned with salt and pepper. Pour the sour cream mixture over the potatoes and top with ½ cup grated sharp cheese. Bake 35 minutes in a 350°F. oven.

Cranberry Fruit Salad Dressing

⅓ cup whole cranberry sauce
1 cup mayonnaise
¼ cup thick sour cream
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon grated horseradish

Pickled Trout For Hors d'Oeuvres

If you are lucky enough to have a fisherman in the family who brings home a string of trout, save out a few of them to serve in this delightful Spanish way First slice 1 or 2 small onions and add the sliced onion with a fistful of minced parsley to ¼ cup Spanish olive oil, heated just to the smoking point. Quickly brown the cleaned trout in the olive oil, over moderate heat. When tender, remove, place fish with onion in large porcelain bowl and cover with ½ cup each vinegar and water, 1 bay leaf and ½ teaspoon salt. Leave in marinade for 4 or 5 days then serve as hors d' oeuvers.

Liverwurst Filling On Rye

Liverwurst gets the liveliest lift ever from a potpourri of condiments. A good summer traveler, too, this filling (for 7 sandwiches "on rye") features ⅔ cup liverwurst with tasty additions of: chopped cucumber (with skin) and pecans—3 tablespoons each; chopped dill pickle — 2 tablespoons; prepared mustard and catsup—1 tablespoon each; chopped chives—1 teaspoon; Worcestershire cauce, garlic salt, and granulated sugar — ¼ teaspoon each.

Sour Cream Slaw

1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons minced onion
Few grains cayenne
4 cups shredded cabbage

Blend sour cream and seasonings. Pour over shredded cabbage and mix. Chill. Makes 6 servings.

Westernport Plans Parade This Evening

Legion Carnival Open All Week

PIEDMONT — A parade will be held this evening as one of the features of the annual street carnival this week at Tichnell grounds, on Third Street, sponsored by Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion.

The parade will form at the upper end of Main Street, Westernport, and march to the carnival grounds and disband.

The Oakland City Band, Lonaconing City Band, Keyser High School Band, Blue Angels Drum Corps of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport and fire companies of the area have been invited to participate.

The kitchen at the carnival is being operated by the Women's Auxiliary. The past president's are operating a fancy work table. A different past president is in charge each night running in alphabetical order beginning with Mrs. May Adams.

Discuss Area Legislation

Fuller Family Holds Reunion At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The third annual reunion of the Harry Sanner Fuller family was held August 19, at Braddock Park Playground. Forty of the 42 living members were present. Out-of-town members attending included J. Howard Fuller, Barberton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herbig, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herbig Jr., and children Judith and Jeffrey, all of Akron, Ohio.

The events of the afternoon included pony rides and games for the children, and a mock ball game between the Skirts and the Shirts, umpired by Mrs. Fannie Anthony.

A feature of the program was an art-composition contest. Howard Fuller, Harry Fuller III, and Janet Blank judged the contest, with Jessie Cummings and Mrs. Jesse Fuller having the winning entries. The souvenir booklet, which was entitled "I Remember—," was an outstanding attraction. Events of the past were recalled and written up in the booklet, and much reminiscing by the family resulted. A ham dinner was served to the group.

A play, in which all the children participated, featured the evening program. Movies of previous reunions were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Emery Loar.

Mrs. James Cummings was chairman for the reunion. During the business session, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blank volunteered to serve as a committee for next year's rally.

In 1900, the median age at which men married was 26 and for women it was 22.

Safety Council Expresses Early Labor Day Warning

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Labor Day weekend is more than a week and a half off, but the West Virginia Safety Council suggested Wednesday that now is the time to start thinking about how to avoid getting killed in the fun-making.

State Police have concluded that there is more highway traffic and recreational activity, such as boating and swimming, during the Labor Day weekend than at any other time in the year in West Virginia.

For this reason, Safety Council Director Charles Hopkins said, families planning trips or outings during the Sept. 1-4 period should make advance arrangements, at the same time, to avert accidents.

There were 11 traffic fatalities and one drowning in West Virginia during the 1960 Labor Day period.

"These accidental tragedies need not be repeated," Hopkins said. "We can prevent them if we adopt safe practices on the highway, in the home and at play."

Frostburg Youth Named Member Of Music Caravan

FROSTBURG — Thomas Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Richardson, 18 Bowery Street, has been selected as a member of the Presbyterian Youth Music Caravan made up of 20 members and representing the states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, New York and Ohio and one representative from India.

The group will travel through Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio until the end of August giving programs in various Presbyterian Churches.

The purpose is to share ideas on ways to make music more effective in the total program of the church. The media to be explored will be: Choral music on youth level; the use of standard instruments; the use of recorders; the study and use of hymns; the use of English handbells; the use of Negro spirituals and music for fun and fellowship.

Young Richardson has studied the accordion for eight years and is presently studying piano and church organ. He will play piano, church organ and sing in the chorus on the tour.

The music caravan is made up of 20 senior high school students, 12 girls and 8 boys and four adults. The group has a serious interest in music, people and their church. Some of them plan to go into the Ministry of Music, others look on church music as simply a means of expressing outwardly the many facets of their faith. They will work in the churches they visit with church youth, teachers and advisors of youth, choir directors and those with music responsibilities.

Work Is Started On New Garage

Senate To Vote On Promotion Of Williams

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate is scheduled to vote Thursday afternoon on whether to approve the promotion of West Virginia Adj. Gen. Gene Hal Williams to brigadier general in the Army Reserve.

Such promotions have hardly created a stir in the past but some senators who themselves hold the rank of general in the Reserve, along with lady Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, have raised a question of Williams' qualifications.

They claim he does not meet the necessary qualifications for a boost all the way from major to general. They have been attempting to make it tougher for such promotions, and the Williams case apparently has become their major arguing point.

Mrs. Smith mentioned in the Senate Wednesday that Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., also plans to vote against the Williams promotion.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., is leading the fight for confirmation of the 33-year-old Williams. It is expected that he will be confirmed.

Williams maintains he meets all the necessary federal and state qualifications for the promotion. He acknowledged frankly that he is not qualified to lead a unit into combat, but said this is not relevant because he would never be called on to do so if he were given the one-star rank.

In event the Senate refuses to approve the promotion, Williams said he will submit his resignation to Gov. W. W. Barron of West Virginia, but said this doesn't mean he would be ready to give up the post. He said he would like to stay on even though he would be outranked by 25 other West Virginia National Guard members.

As adjutant, Williams is commander of the Guard — and he said that clear designation would counteract any possible question of authority.

Archers To Meet

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Archery Club will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at Braddock Park with Richard Sluss, president, in charge.

Doctors Urged To Fight Social Medical Plans

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—The president of the West Virginia Medical Association urged his colleagues Wednesday night to continue the organization's fight against "socialized medicine."

Speaking at a meeting of the House of Delegates of the association on the eve of the formal opening of the group's annual convention, Dr. John W. Hash, Charleston, noted that proposals in Congress to tie medical care for the aged to social security "may be delayed for awhile."

But he urged state doctors not to relax their opposition "as long as forces exist in this country which look to Washington as one looks to a great white father for all our care."

"Getting rid of responsibilities does not give an individual more freedom," Hash insisted. "It merely gives the government more control of his life, thereby actually lessening individual freedom."

Hash endorsed West Virginia's program of medical care for the aged as the "non - compulsory way" of accepting responsibilities.

"The care of the aged is the responsibility of our total society," he said.

Gov. W. W. Barron is scheduled to address the first overall session of the 94th annual convention Thursday morning. After this will come the first general scientific session.

Speakers later in the week will include American Medical Association president Leonard W. Larson, Bismarck, S. D., and Dr. Karl Menninger, Topeka, Kans., dean of the famous Menninger School of Psychiatry.

Hash said "medicare" as it stands now includes a provision for payment of professional services. The proposed tie-in with social security does not, he said.

"The professionals should not be subjected to underwriting any social services program to an extent greater than their just share of taxation," Hash said.

"Our society frowns upon discrimination. Incentive and ambition will be destroyed if our tax burden continues to rise. Family responsibility and the responsibility of the individual to prepare for his retirement would be diminished under the social security approach."

Interstate Roads In W. Va. To Cost $585 Millions

LAEGER, W. Va. (UPI — The latest estimate is that Interstate System highway construction in West Virginia will cost $585 million.

The authority for the estimate is State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers, who spoke before a chapter of the McDowell County Better Roads Association here.

The federal government will foot about $529 million of the cost. The government's basic share is 90 per cent, but West Virginia and some other states will get a "bonus" for agreeing to ban billboards from along the superhighways.

Sawyers said good progress is being made on construction of approximately 300 miles of Interstate highway allocated to West Virginia.

New Commander Named For XXI Army Corps

BRIG. GEN. S. R. LARSEN

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa.—Brigadier General Stanley R. Larsen will assume command of the XXI US Army Corps, with headquarters here, early in September.

Nominated for promotion to the rank of major general, Larsen comes from California to his new assignment. He erved as commander at Fort Ord for three months and late. as deputy commander of the US Training Center (Infantry) at the Fort.

At Indiantown, he succeeds Major General Ralph C. Cooper, who has been reassigned to the office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C.

Born in Honolulu, Hawaii, Larsen received an appointment to the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., in 1935. Upon graduation from West Point in 1939, he was commissioned a second lieutenant of Infantry.

He served as company officer and company commander with the 25th Division at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, prior to World War II.

During World War II, he served with the 35th Infantry Regiment of the 25 the Division and was involved in all four campaigns in which his regiment participated in the Pacific. He earned the Distinguished Service Cross and the Silver Star for gallantry in action. He became a colonel in 1944.

Since World War II he has served in various assignments and commands, and has attended the Command and General Staff College, Fort Levenworth, Kas. He took Airborne training and commanded the 325th Airborne Infantry of the 82d Division at Fort Bragg, N. C. He graduated from the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. in 1954.

He also had a tour of duty in Europe and served as assistant chief of staff for Organization of the Allied Forces Northern Europe, with headquarters at Oslo, Norway. After this he became assistant division commander of the 10th Infantry Division in Europe.

Gen. Larsen and his wife, the former Nell White, are the parents of three children: Stanley, David and Eric. The General and his family plan to reside on the post.

In his new assignment, General Larsen will head the XXI Corps which is responsible for the overall Army Reserve and Army ROTC Programs in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. Presently, there are some 220,000 Army Reservists located in the Corps area. In addition, there are 39 colleges and universities within the four-state and District of Columbia area sponsoring the Army ROTC program with close to 23,000 Army ROTC cadets under jurisdiction of the Corps.

Public Baptism To Be Held At Midlothian

All Day Meeting Slated Sunday

FROSTBURG — Featured this Sunday at Trinity Assembly of God Church in Midlothian will be an "All Day Meeting." The reason for this will be the annual water baptismal service at the baptismal pool in the rear of the church yard.

The Sunday School will convene at 9:45 a. m. followed with the 11 a. m. worship service. At the close of this meeting the congregation is urged to assemble in the top floor of the new wing of the church, where basket lunches each family brings will be opened and a time of food and fellowship will be held.

At 2 p. m. the group will go to the outdoor pool around which will be placed large benches for the group to be seated. The public is welcome to attend, according to Rev. James L. Tate, pastor.

Those who will be baptised upon the confession of their faith are: Mrs. Mary Beeman, Frostburg; Gary Showalter, Cumberland; Rebecca Robertson, and Carolyn Robertson, Slabtown; Thomas Yutzy, Rd 2, Frostburg; Mrs. Clara Haberlein, Eckhart; Miss Wilma Walker, Gilmore; Miss Emma Walters, Frostburg; Mrs. Betty Haberlein, Mt. Pleasant Street, Frostburg; Daniel Sisler, Frostburg; Esther Kennell, Shaft; Linda Stewart, LaVale; Blanche Stevenson, Frostburg; Beverly Richardson, Wrights Crossing, and Mrs. Beatrice Willison, Hoffman.

Student Council Workshop Being Held At FSTC

FROSTBURG — The annual workshop of the Maryland Association of Student Councils is being held this week at Frostburg State Teachers College with Felix Simon, director of guidance at Parkville Senior High School, Baltimore, in charge.

Over 200 student council officers from 82 high schools throughout the state are registered, as well as 30 staff members.

Representatives of high school Student Councils are officers who will take over during the 1961-62 year. They are divided into five different work groups and will study and discuss the following: "How to Conduct a Meeting;" "Problems and Projects of a Student Council;" "Student Council Functioning;" "Resource Materials;" "Tapes from Different Authorities Which are Played, Telling of the Defferent Aspects of Student Councils;" "Tips for Student Council Presidents" and "Secretaries and Treasurers."

The daily schedule begins at 9 a. m. when the first discussion group meets until 10. The second session is from 10:15 to 11:15 a. m. and the third from 1:30 to 3 p. m. From 3 to 5 recreation, consisting of games and preparation for evening programs, takes place. Friday will mark "Achievement Night" with each of study groups being given a problem of Student Council.

The workshop will end Saturday.

Union Elections Are Ordered At Plants

BALTIMORE (AP) — The regional office of the National Labor Relations Board said Wednesday that union representation elections have been ordered for Aug. 31 in three plants of the Colonial Hardwood Flooring Co.

The union elections will be held in two Colonial plants in Hagerstown, and one in Waynesboro, Pa. The three plants employ about 250 persons.

John A. Penello, fifth region director for the NLRB, ordered the election as the result of a petition submitted by Local 992 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

The election will include all production and maintenance workers, including truck drivers and plant clerks, but will not include office workers, guards or supervisors.

Colonial Hardwood employes do not now have a union bargaining agent.

The NLRB office here said balloting at Plant One in Hagerstown will be conducted from 4 to 5 p. m.; balloting at Plant Three in Hagerstown will be from 3 to 3:30 p. m., and workers at Plant Two in Waynesboro will vote from 4 to 4:45 p. m. on the designated day.

Municipal News Cover Shows Narrows View

A view of The Narrows, historic Gateway to the West, is printed on the cover of the current issue of the Maryland Municipal News.

The issue notes that the 14th annual convention of the Maryland Municipal League will be held in Cumb rland October 26-28.

The convention is being held earlier than usual, the League said, so delegates can view the spectacular fall foliage and colors in the forests of Western Maryland.

Beall, Conlon

said fire losses average about 30 per cent of the premium cost, or about $150,000 to $200,000 a year.

In addition to fire coverage, Taylor said, the state gets an inspection of each property each year and recommendations for safety measures.

Agents Take Turns

Taylor said the insurance business is allocated by State Treasurer Hooper S. Miles. He said if an agent asks to participate he is put on a list and receives some of the business when his turn comes up in accordance with his insurance activity and experience.

Other legislators participating, and the amount of insurance they are writing, include:

Sen. Bernard I. Gonder, D-Garrett, $893,000 worth; Del. Thomas R. O'Farrell, D-Carroll, $216,000; Del. Preston L. Hale, D-Carroll, $100,000; and Del. Thomas F. Conlon, D-Allegany, $61,000.

Lansdale G. Clagett of Upper Marlboro, a member of the State Roads Commission is listed as writing $433,000 worth.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 45 Most Union regiments which went into action at Bull Run later had bands. Confederate forces had them, too, and on both sides were brigade and divisional commanders who maintained personal troupes of musical entertainers.

"Jeb" Stuart's favorite banjoist, Sam Sweeney, rode with him everywhere. Stuart also kept fiddlers handy.

No other war ever was accompanied by so much harmony—musically speaking. Music more expansive than drum roll and bugle call was deemed so necessary to morale that bandsmen were attracted with higher pay than infantrymen, cavalrymen or artillerymen were offered.

Bandsmen enjoyed more safety, too: both Johnny Reb and Billy Yank were disposed to spare a man on the opposing side who knew his business with trumpets, flute, cymbal, drum. A Confederate veteran recalled an incident in the siege of Atlanta—when the war had reached the bitterest stage:

The brass band of Maj. Arthur Shoaff's Georgia Sharpshooters had an expert cornetist. Each evening after supper, the musician came to the front lines and played for Confederates in the entrenchments. When firing was heavy, he failed to appear.

Across the lines, Federal pickets would shout, "Hey, Johnny Reb, we want that cornet player:"

"He would play but he's afraid you'll spoil his horn," was the response.

"We'll hold fire."

"Alright, Yanks."

The cornetist would then mount the works and play. The concert over, the firing would resume.

Some of the numerous war songs written in the North and South were played on both sides; one of these, surprisingly, was "Dixie." The latter was not the accepted Southern anthem until after the war. A rival in popularity in the South in 1861 was an adaption of the French militant anthem, "La Marseillaise" [see left].

Budgets Approved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of School Finance Wednesday approved budgets for four county school systems including the largest in the state—$18,487,503 for Kanawha County. The others are Clay $833,491, Morgan $610,404 and Gilmer $549,128. Grant and Hancock are the only counties which have not yet submitted their budgets for approval.

Cow Breeding Report Given

The Maryland Artificial Breeding Cooperative Inc. reports that during June 102 cows were bred in Allegany County.

Harry E. Miller, technician, performed the services. The 10 county dairymen with the highest number of breedings are:

Potomac State College, eight; C. A. Liller, six; C. W. Brinker, S. H. Brode, Harry H. Delbrook, A. E. and D. W. Light, C. W. and Elizabeth H. Miller and Shumaker Brothers, five each; Donald V. Brooks and William H. Winter, three each.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 Allegany County bred a total of 1,397 cows.

Frederick and Washington counties were among the three counties in the state breeding the highest number of cows for the fiscal year.

The two counties along with Harford bred a total of 31,441 cows.

Statewide, the cooperative had a gain of 2,906 cows, making a total of 68,838 cows bred over the preceding fiscal year.

Donates $20,000

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Glass Bottle Blowers union contributed $20,000 Wednesday to help families of members who were victims of the Charleston area flash floods last month. Union officials said local unions here at Parkersburg, Huntington, Fairmont and Morgantown contributed about $11,000 of the amount. The rest came from elsewhere around the country.

Suit Filed Here

A property damage suit stemming from a two-car accident July 6 this year on Bedford Street has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Catherine K. Moore, 115 Harrison Street, filed the suit against Walter Charles Simpson of 917 Grand Avenue.

Lawrence Russell

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, William Beeney, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white taffeta, with a scalloped neckline and cap sleeves, with which she wore elbow-length gloves. Her waist-length veil was draped from a matching taffeta headdress. Completing her costume, she carried white carnations on a white Bible.

Her maid of honor wore a pink organdy and taffeta dress with matching hat and veil, and the bridesmaids were in green and yellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ice were graduated from Marietta High School, class of 1960, and will be second-year students at Southland Bible Institute, Pikesville, Kentucky, when classes resume next month.

A reception was held in the church basement. Orange and white gladiolus centered the serving table, which was arranged with a three tier wedding cake and bowl of punch, which were served by Mrs. William Beeney, Mrs. James Mullenix, Mrs. David Binhamn, sisters of the bride and Mrs. William Yoho.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Charles Trappe, Mrs. Virgil Ice, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rinker and son, Rodger, Cumberland; Miss Mary Elizabeth Ice and Miss Cathy Sue Ice, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Low Bidders On Big Road Jobs Listed

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission Wednesday announced the apparent low bidders on four projects totaling $6.5 million.

The biggest job, a federal aid project, calls for surfacing one mile of the Capital Beltway from River Road to Seven Locks Road in Montgomery County. It includes relocation of River Road, reconstruction of Burdette Road and construction of an interchange between the beltway, River Road and Cabin John Parkway.

The apparent low bid on this project was a joint offer of $3,281,111 by the Case Construction Corp. of Mt. Airy and T. Edgie Russell General Contractor Inc. of Frederick. There were four other bidders on the project, which carried an SRC estimate of $3,386,973.

The Lycoming Construction Co. of Williamsport, Pa. was lowest of four bidders on a contract to extend the Jones Falls Expressway for 1.6 miles from Falls Road to Valley Road in Baltimore County.

The Pennsylvania firm bid $1,541,847, compared to an SRC estimate of $1,666,394, on the second phase of the State's portion of an interstate project which will give motorists a non-stop facility from the Baltimore Beltway to the heart of the city.

Target date for opening the expressway is next fall.

On another Baltimore County project, Harry T. Campbell Sons Corp. of Towson was low bidder at $177,777 for widening Maryland 45 (York Road) from Seminary Avenue to Ridgely Road, a distance of less than one mile. There were two other offers.

The fourth project, surfacing Maryland 190 in Montgomery County for 2.3 miles from the District line to Winston Drive, attracted five bidders. The Wright Construction Co. of Odenton was low with an offer of $1,497,868.

Dwelling Permits Issued By County

Two dwelling permits have been issued by James G. Stevenson, clerk of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Wesley A. McGraw, Potomac Park, plans to build a brick veneer home which will have a concrete block foundation, composition roof and partial cellar.

Moon Eclipse To Be Visible Friday Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Sky watchers will see an almost total eclipse of the moon Friday night—weather permitting.

More than 99 per cent of the moon's disk will pass through the earth's shadow, the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium said Wednesday.

Astronomers at the planetarium said the eclipse should be visible from all parts of the United States, except the northwestern tip of Alaska, starting at 8:35 p.m. EST.

Freeway Unit Will Meet At Clarksburg

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia - Pennsylvania Freeway Association will meet here Friday to draft a so-called plan of future action concerning a North-South superhighway.

The highway would cut through West Virginia from the Morgantown area to the Beckley vicinity. Principal speaker will be Julius W. Singleton, Morgantown, speaker of the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Association president Charles A. Montgomery, Clarksburg, said it is imperitive that construction be speeded up if West Virginia is to be in a position to tie in with the Pennsylvania portion of the route, already being built.

Five Injured In Accident In Mineral County

Two young men were hospitalized and three others slightly injured Tuesday when the car in which they were traveling overturned on U. S. Route 50 in Mineral County near the Grant County line.

Paul E. Kuhn, 21, of Emoryville, is reported in "satisfactory" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland. He sustained lacerations and abrasions.

Lonnie J. Kuhn, 18, of Mt. Storm, who suffered a possible fractured skull and severe facial lacerations, was taken to the Oakland hospital and later transferred to the West Virginia Medical Center, Morgantown, to undergo plastic surgery, attaches said.

Treated at the hospital and released were Ronald G. Kuhn, 19, of Mt. Storm, driver of the convertible car, Hobart E. Hipp, 16, and DeWitt E. Idleman, 15, of Mt. Storm.

State Police of Grant County said the accident near the Hilltop Restaurant at Hartmansville was apparently caused when the vehicle went into a curve in the road at too great a speed and overturned several times.

The car reportedly went off the highway to the berm, went out of control, careened to the opposite side and overturned.

Stuart's Hit Trips Braves

Pittsburgh Wins Game In 9th, 7-6

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates spotted Milwaukee a three-run lead fashioned on Frank Thomas's grand-slam homer and then reached back into their 1960 book for a comeback touch and a 7-6 victory on Dick Stuart's ninth inning single.

Stuart, who drove in three runs, singled to right to score pinch runner Dick Schofield. The score was tied at 6-all when the Pirates went to bat for the last time.

Walt Moryn, batting for winner Elroy Face, singled and Schofield ran for him. The runner moved up on Bill Virdon's sacrifice and Bob Skinner, who had a homer in the eighth inning that enabled the Pirates to tie the count, was purposely walked by losing pitcher Don Nottebart. Then Stuart came through with his climactic blow that pleased the home crowd of 15,117.

Giants Belt Reds, 14 To 0

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants scored 12 runs during a wild ninth inning rally in which they tied a major league record by hitting five home runs to crush the Cincinnati Reds, 14-0, Wednesday night behind Juan Marichal's three-hit pitching.

The 12 runs set a major league record for runs scored in a ninth inning, surpassing the previous mark of 11. The five homers equalled a record previously shared by the 1939 Giants and the 1949 Philadelphia Phillies.

Five Bettors Have Bel Air Double

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—The combination of 10 and 2 proved lucky Wednesday for five $2 daily double ticket holders at Bel Air Race Track. The combination returned $5,237.60 for $2.

The five tickets were sold on Uncle Sid in the first race and Kid Rover, winner of the second. Both of the winners paid more than $100 straight in the mutuels.

Within a half hour after the second race, two of the ticket holders, who asked that they not be identified had cashed their stubs, after filling out the U. S. Internal Revenue forms, they requested payment by check. The track complied.

Clinic Postponed

The West Virginia Football Clinic slated for August 29 at Keyser High School has been postponed until Wednesday, September 6, at 7:30 p. m. at the school. All area officials, coaches, players and members of the press are invited to attend.

The rules meeting will be conducted by Gordon Eismon, executive secretary of the West Virginia Activities Commission.

Matches Postponed

MONTREAL (UPI) — The International Junior Davis Cup Matches Wednesday night were postponed for one day until Friday because the United States team was unable to arrive here on time.

The round robin competition will include teams from the U.S., Mexico, Italy, and Canada.

Westernport Whips Colts

Beats Klondyke 4-2 In Twilight Series

Righthander Ollie Smith twirled a five-hitter and struck out seven as he pitched Westernport to a 4-2 triumph over the Klondyke Colts yesterday in the second game of their championship playoffs in the Twilight Baseball League.

The victory gave Westernport a 2-0 edge in the best-of-five series for the playoff title. The winners defated the Colts 17-7 on Monday and the two teams will clash in the third game of the series on Friday at 5:30 p.m. at Midland.

Joe Niland smacked a solo home run in the third for Westernport and Dick Wilson doubled home a pair of tallies in the fourth to give the winners the margin of victory.

With Westernport trailing 2-1 in the fourth, Smith opened the frame with a single and after the next batter reached first on an error, Wilson doubled along the right field line to plate both runs. Westernport added an insurance tally in the sixth.

Jim Winters allowed only six hits in a losing cause for Klondyke.

Kenny Johnson had a double and single for the losers while Smith obtained a pair of singles for Westernport. The results:

Westernport	001 201 x—4	6	2

Jim Winters and Ken Johnson, Ollie Smith and Joe Niland.

Special Meeting For Rec Managers

A special meeting for all managers of teams in the Rec Softball League has been called by Eugene Mason, city rec director, and Bill Payton, chairman of the league, for tonight at 6 p.m. at City Hall.

The meeting will deal with questions arising from playoff games being postponed by rain, Mason said, principally the contest between Wiley Ford and Bennett's Transfer which was interrupted in the fourth inning on Tuesday with the former leading 4-1.

Both playoff contests yesterday also were rained out.

Odds 13-10 Maris Won't Beat Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Although Roger Maris of the New York Yankees is running ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 home-run pace, the man-to-man betting in New York is 13-10 that Maris does not beat Ruth's record of 60 home runs in 154 games.

In professional wagering, a bookie will lay $6 that Maris does not beat the record in 154 games against $5 bet by a Maris admirer. But if a Ruth reverer wishes to bet that Maris does not beat the record, he must pay up $7 against the bookie's $5 that Maris does.

The man-to-man price against Mickey Mantle beating the record in 154 is 2-1.

Double Pays $690

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — George W. Albright's Free Case, a 68-1 shot, won the second race at Shenandoah Downs Wednesday night, completing a record $690.60 daily double.

It was the highest combination payoff in the night track's three-year history. The $139.60 paid by Free Case to win was the second highest straight payoff.

Oklahoma State has not beaten Oklahoma at football in 15 tries since 1946. State won, 47-0, in 1945.

Hard Rains Wash Out Majority Of Area Ball Games

Yesterday's hard rain washed out the majority of the area softball and baseball games scheduled to be played many of them playoff tilts in the various leagues.

The County Softball League semi-finals between Greenpoint Inn and Ellerslie was washed out with the contest rest for Ellerslie today at 6 p.m.

The Frostburg Mounties and Cresaptown semi-final playoff encounter in the Bi-State Pony League was postponed and was rescheduled today at 5:30 p.m. at the Junior High School field in Cresaptown. The third game between the two, if necessary, will be played Friday at Frostburg.

The other Bi-State action between Mt. Savage and Lonaconing also was postponed, but no new date for the semi-final clash was reported.

The semi-final playoffs between the V.F.W. and the Moose at Stitcher Field was washed out and reset for today at 6 p.m. at the North End field. The game between K. of C. and Ritter's A.C. originally set today at Stitcher Field was moved back a day and will be played Friday at 6 o'clock.

Three Hot Stove League games also went by the boards yesterday. A contest between Cumberland Optimists and Bedford Road Optimists was rescheduled for Saturday at 6 p.m. at Penn Avenue field.

The title game between Lions and Rotary in the Frostburg Little League was postponed and will be played today at 6 p.m.

Smith Injured By Wall Collision

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The aches and pains Bobby Gene Smith complained of after two "wall crashes" and a dive for a fly ball were explained Wednesday when X-ray examination revealed the Philadelphia Phillies,' outfielder was suffering a broken rib and a pulled muscle.

Temple's Homer Defeats Mossi

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Johnny Temple hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning to give the Cleveland Indians a 4-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night. It was Temple's third homer of the season and came after Vic Power beat out a bunt for a hit.

Barry Latman was credited with his 10th victory against three defeats. He was removed in the seventh inning for a pinch-hitter and Frank Funk finished the game for the Indians, blanking the Tigers in the last two frames.

Rocky Colavito hit his 34th homer in the fourth inning with the bases empty. In the seventh the Tigers added another run when Norm Cash walked, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Chico Fernandez' single.

Legion Cops Title In Oakland Playoff

The American Legion's first half champions swept two straight games from the Lions' second-half winners to capture the championship playoffs in the Oakland Little League yesterday. The Legion won the opener on Tuesday, 11-2, then clinched the title by defeating the Lions 9-4 yesterday.

Bob Finch pitched a four-hitter for the victors in the deciding game while George Beeman paced the winners at the plate with three singles. Bill Mattingly had a double and single and Bill Finch collected a pair of doubles for the Legion.

Geiger, Jensen Homer For Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Gary Geiger and Jackie Jensen blasted late-inning homers Wednesday and propelled the Boston Red Sox to a 9-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

Geiger blasted a two-run homer, his 17th of the season, in the seventh inning, breaking a 3-3 tie. His 385-foot drive came on a full count, fast ball delivery off loser Marty Kutyna (6-6).

Jensen wrapped up the game an inning later with his 10th homer, a line drive into the screen atop the left field wall, with two mates aboard.

Kutyna was the victim of this one too.

The big hits provided Bill Monbouquette his 9th victory of the season — first since July 5 — against 12 losses. He scattered eight hits in going the distance.

Two of the safeties were homers—solo, back to back jobs by Bob Johnson and Gene Woodling in the fourth inning.

Roberta Albers Defeats Judy Eller In Amateur Golf

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) Roberta Albers, 14-year-old golfing wizard from Temple Terrace, near Tampa, Fla., won her third round match in the Women's National Amateur golf tournament Wednesday when she trounced Curtis Cupper Judy Eller, Old Hickory, Tenn., 5 and 3.

But 17-year-old Mary Lowell, the upset kid from Hayward, Calif., and British Amateur champion Elizabeth Price, Farnham, England, were knocked out of the running.

Miss Lowell, who eliminated defending champion JoAnne Gunderson Tuesday, was the victim of a steel-nerved round by national intercollegiate champion Judy Hoetmer, Seattle, and was soundly beaten, 5 and 4.

Phyllis Preuss, Gregory, Mich., came from far off the pace to beat Mrs. Price, 1-up.

Fisher, Snyder Cop Upset Win In Doubles Tourney

Douglas, Crawford Lose To Unknowns

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — In the first upset of the 81st USLTA National Doubles Tennis Championships, comparative unknowns Ron Fisher and Dave Snyder ousted seventh-seeded Jon Douglas and Chris Crawford, 7-9, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, 10-8, Wednesday.

Fisher, 21, of Houston, Tex., and Snyder, 26, University of Arizona tennis coach from Tucson, turned the trick amid a steady drizzle that forced suspension of play at one point.

The rain also caused postponement of all the women's matches and many of the men's at water-soaked Longwood Cricket Club.

Play was delayed for 15 minutes in the upset with former Stanford football quarterback Douglas and 22-year-old Berkeley Calif., resident Crawford leading, two sets to none.

Only three second-round men's matches were played as the rain grew heavier throughout the day. None of the top seeds were in action.

Miguel Olvera and Edwardo Zuelta of Ecuador romped through a straight sets win over local favorites Paul Sullivan of Belmont, Mass., and Ned Weld of Weston, Mass., 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and Whit Reed of Alameda, Calif., the eighth-ranked tandem, fired their way into the third round with a toying 7-5, 6-4, 11-13, 6-4 triumph over Hubert Hauck of Portland, Maine, and Arthur Hills of Winchester, Mass.

The top-seeded father and son, team was eliminated in morning action, former winners Frank A. Froehling Jr., and Frank A. Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., turning the trick. Losers in the 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, match were Harry R. Hoffmann and Harry Jr., of Philadelphia, who won in 1957, 1958 and last year.

In the lone women's match, Mrs. Merceina Parker of St. Louis and Mrs. Mary Richards of Newton, Mass., defeated Kay Hubbell of Conway, N.H., and Mary Sherar of Yakima, Wash., 1-6, 7-5, 6-1, to gain the quarterfinals.

Shuffle Loop To Meet Today

The Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League will hold a meeting today at 8:30 p. m. at the Purple Heart Club on Greene Street.

All teams that were members of the circuit last year and seek to re-enter again this season are expected to be represented at tonight's meeting.

New teams seeking berths in the league also are invited to attend the session.

Higgins Denies He'll Quit Bosox

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston Red Sox manager Mike Higgins Wednesday denied a published report that he will quit at the end of this season.

The Boston American this morning printed a report of his impending resignation, saying Higgins would probably accept a "semi-retired position as scout, adviser on trades and trouble shooter for owner Tom Yawkey."

SA Eliminates Potomac Park, 6-3

Salvation Army broke a 3-3 tie with three runs in the fourth inning and went on to eliminate Potomac Park from the Church Softball League's double elimination tournament yesterday at Triple Lakes field. The score was 6-3.

Ball Rawnsley held the losers to six hits as Salvation Army advanced to the semi-final round against First Baptist on Monday at 6 p.m. at Triple Lakes. The winner will meet undefeated Cresaptown for the title.

George Price paced Salvation Army at the plate yesterday with a triple, double and home run. The results:

Had No Authority Under Owner Finley

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Frank Lane Thursday called his short career as general manager of the Kansas City Athletics a rat race and said it developed he had no authority.

Club owner Charles O. Finley fired Lane Wednesday, charging him with spreading harmful rumors about the faltering, 10th place American League baseball team.

Lane denied Finley's accusation and disclosed a long-simmering, under-surface feud between the two.

His chief charge in his salvo of accusations against his former boss was that Finley has been considering moving the club to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Rumors to this effect broke a week ago. Finley denied them.

"I know what I'm talking about when I say this move has been in Finley's mind for some time," Lane said. "Now that he knows it can't be done, he is saying he never contemplated it."

One of Finley's charges was that Lane had been responsible for the firing of Manager Joe Gordon.

"I did not fire Gordon and Finley knows it," Lane continued. "In fact, Gordon and I got along very well. I have made the promise to Gordon that if I ever get another job Gordon will be the first man I hire."

He said that after Hank Bauer was appointed to Gordon's spot "Finley wanted me on several occasions to fire him." But Lane said he felt that outfielder Bauer had been doing a better job than could be hoped for in a man with no previous managerial experience.

Curry Retains National Title In Net Tourney

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Hugh Curry, of Orlando, Fla., defending national boy's champion in the 15 and under division, retained his title by defeating Bob Gieltz of Bethesda, Md. here Wednesday, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

Earlier, Curry defeated Dick Dell of Bethesda, 7-5, 7-5, to gain a spot in the finals of the Eastern Shore Tennis tournament here. Goeltz fought his way to the finals by defeating Ray Buck-Lew of Baltimore 6-1, 6-3.

Defending champion Jim Busick of Cambridge retained his crown in the junior division (boys 18 and under), defeating Russell Tontz of Baltimore 6-2, 9-7. Tontz battled back from a 5-2 deficit in the second set and at one time tied the score 5-all. He failed to sutain his rally, however, and finally went down 9-7.

Jack Stevenson of Salisbury took the boys 13 and under division, downing Phil Irish of Bethesda 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

Novikov Captures Pentathlon Title With 5,217 Points

MOSCOW (UPI)—Igor Novikov, 32 year-old teacher from Yerevan, won the world pentathlon championship for the fourth time Wednesday and became the first world champion to score over five thousand points in this event.

Novikov's 5,217 points in the five-day gruelling contest was a personal best.

Runners-up Ivan Deryugin of the U.S.S.R. and Andras Balczo of Hungary also exceeded the 5,000 points mark with 5,092 and 5,070 points, respectively, as Russia took the team title.

Alan Jackson, Bob Beck and Arnold Sowell, the U.S. entries, placed 9th, 10th and 15th, respectively, in the individual overall standings.

Overall team standings: U.S.S.R. 15,220 points; 2. Hungary, 13,358; 3. United States, 13,255; 4. Finland, 13,176; 5. Sweden, 12,755; 6. Japan, 12,365.

Women's Golf Tour Resumes

Spokane Open Begins Today

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) —The Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour resumes here Thursday after a 10-day layoff when more than 25 of the nation's top women golfers vie for some $7,500 in prize money in the Spokane Open.

The lady golfers have been idle since Louise Suggs fired a 295 to capture the Kansas City Open more than a week ago but begin their Far West tour here on the 6,077-yard, par-70 Esmeralda golf course.

Miss Suggs was not expected to be on hand for the tourney, automatically installing Mickey Wright, San Diego, Calif., the favorite to cop $1,200 first prize.

Betsy Rawls, LPGA president, and Mary Lena Faulk figure to give the long-hitting Californian the most competition while young Shirley Englehorn will be the crowd's favorite in the four-day, 72-hole meet.

Miss Englehorn, from Caldwell, Idaho, is sponsored on the professional circuit by Spokane's Athletic Round Table — the sponsoring body for this the second Spokane Open.

Liston-Johansson Fight Up In Air

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The proposed Sonny Liston-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight bout for Canada in December was up in the air Thursday.

While promoter Bill Fugazy of New York appeared optimistic about bringing the two top contenders together in Toronto or Montreal, the chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission wasn't in any such mood.

The chairman, Jim Crowley, pointed out that Liston is under indefinite suspension by the Pennsylvania commission.

Crowley said that Pennsylvania is a member of the National Boxing Association and so are Toronto and Montreal and as such he expected them to honor the suspension.

TO TELEVISE TENNIS

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV announced Tuesday that it will nationally televise the semifinal and final rounds of the 81st National Singles Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., on Sept. 9-10. The tournament will be presented on both tape and live, starting both days at 5:30 p.m. EDT and continuing to 7 p.m. Only the men's semifinals will be televised on Saturday but both the men's and women's finals will be covered on Sunday.

Bel Air Double Pays $5,237 For $2

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—The combination of Uncle Sid in the first race and Kid Rover, winner of the second, paid a $5,237.60-for-$2 daily double at Bel Air race track Wednesday.

Uncle Sid paid $111 straight in taking the opener, and Kid Rover returned $161.40 in the second race.

Game Postponed, Reset For Today

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies - Chicago Cubs game scheduled for Connie Mack Stadium Wednesday night was postponed because of rain.

The game was rescheduled for Thursday night, an off-day for each club. It marks the final appearance of the year in Philadelphia for the Cubs.

Mexico Hurler Wins No-Hitter

Tops Germany 4-0 At Williamsport

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—Rafael Montemayor, 12-year-old fastballer for Monterrey, Mex., tossed a no-hit, no-run game Wednesday in defeating Pirmasens, Germany, 4-0, in the quarter-finals of the 15th annual Little League World Series.

A two-run homer by Bill Shutt powered El Campo, Tex., to a 4-2 extra inning victory over Terre Haute, Ind., in the first game of the quarter-final competition.

Montemayor, a 5-foot, 8-inch, 165-pound righthander, permitted only three Pirmasens players to reach base, all on walks. He struck out 12 in relying mostly on a fast ball and slow curve.

The no-hitter was the fifth in Little League World Series history. The last one was fashioned by Joey Mormello of Levittown, Pa., in the championship game last year.

Monterrey will face El Campo and El Cajon, Calif., will meet Hilo, Hawaii Thursday in the semi-finals.

Bolt To Miss $50,000 American Golf Classic

30-Day Suspension Meted Out; Top Pros Vie At Akron Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A crack field of professionals and amateurs was set to shoot for the big pot of gold in the $50,000 American Golf Classic Thursday, but Tommy Bolt was pushed to the side-lines with a new suspension.

The stormy Bolt was handed a 30-day retroactive suspension by the Professional Golfers Association Appeals Committee after a 90-minute hearing Wednesday. Bolt said he regarded the decision as fair. Complaining of a bad back, he headed for home in Crystal Beach, Fla.

The 43-year-old golfer was reprimanded for an incident that occurred off the links. It was at the PGA tournament in Chicago on July 30. Bolt was accused of using "bad language" in the presence of club members in the locker room at Olympia Fields.

The PGA gave Bolt an indefinite suspension three weeks ago.

Despite the absence of the colorful Bolt, the field is top notch. Heading the golfers shooting over the tough par 35-35—70 Firestone Country Club course—7,165 yards if it is played full length — are Gary Player, Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders. Those three are the leading money-winners on the pro tour. Gene Littler, the National Open champ, and PGA king Jerry Barber also are entered in the 72-hole test, along with popular Sam Snead.

The entire field will play Thursday and Friday. The 90 low scorers and ties after 36 holes will fire in the third round Saturday, and the low 60 and ties in the final 18 Sunday.

Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts opens his second 48-lane bowling establishment in Towson, Md., Sept. 2.

State Agency Announces Waterfowl Seasons, Limits, Shooting Hours

Both Redhead And Canvasback Ducks Remain Protected

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Department of Game and Inland Fish Wednesday announced seasons, limits and shooting hours for the taking of migratory waterfowl for 1961-62.

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the conservation agency, said the action was taken in cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and in conformity with state and federal laws.

Vaughn said redhead ducks and canvasbacks remain in such a precarious condition that they are still on the fully protected list. The director said this action was prompted by the drought which resulted in what was described as the worst breeding ground conditions in 30 years.

The regulations:

Ducks and Coots: The open season will be from Nov. 11 to Dec. 30 with shooting from sunrise to sunset, Eastern Standard Time, except on opening day when it will be from noon to sunset. The daily bag limit for ducks is two with a possession limit of four. For coots, the bag and possession limits are six.

The regulation also provides that the daily bag and possession limits may not include more than two wood ducks and one hooded merganser.

In addition to the bag limits on other ducks, the daily bag limit on American and red-breasted mergansers is five with a possession limit of ten.

Geese and Brant: The open season will run from Nov. 10 to Jan. 8 with shooting from sunrise to sunset. The daily bag limit for geese (except snow geese) is two with a possession limit of four. Brant hunters will have bag and possession limits of 10.

Vaughn said all persons hunting wild waterfowl must have a $3 federal duck stamp in addition to the regular hunting license. He said these stamps can be purchased at most post offices. Hunters under 16 are not required to have the duck stamp.

The director said the use of live decoys, bait, sinkbox, rifles or handguns, crossbow and recording devices is illegal but use of the bow and arrow is permitted.

A boat may be used as a blind as long as it is not under power and is anchored or tied in a licensed blind site for the current hunting season, Vaughn said.

Tackle Sidelined With Muscle Strain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Arthur of Baltimore, junior tackle on the University of Pennsylvania football squad, will be sidelined from 4 to 5 weeks, the university announced Wednesday.

Officials said Arthur, 225-pounder considered an outstanding prospect, will require a minor operation to correct a strain.

Gambrills Defeated In Amateur Tourney

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — John Pavlik of Cleveland tossed a one-hitter in blanking Gambrills, Md., 6-0 Wednesday in the first round of the National Amateur Baseball Federation Junior Tournament.

In other first round games Youngstown beat Philadelphia 4-2 in 10 innings and Cincinnati took Dayton 7-4.

PLYMOUTH

announcing a special showing AT POTOMAC MOTORS

THURSDAY – FRIDAY – SATURDAY
of the Famous Italian Sports Car,
ALFA ROMEO

ALFA The body created by Bertone, is one of the most agreeable applications of the laws of aerodynamics. It is a masterpiece of elegance, classical but modern, renowned the world over.

The powerful engine, small dimensions and narrow steering radius give the Romeo remarkable managerial ability on mountain roads. Due to the fully synchronized gear box, it is possible to down gear back into first and push to maximum power on the sharpest curves. On straight roads, whether the surface is dry or wet, and on wide curves the managerial ability is really surprising. At the end of a curve, the wheel comes back rapidly.

The brakes are highly efficient and secure, with world famed instantaneous action which allows the car to come to a stop even at high speed due to both dimensions and excellent cooling. The braking action does not fade even after the most intensive use.

The heart of the excellent performance of the Giulietta Sprint is the engine, rated at 80 HP (SAE 92) at 6300 r.p.m. The double barrel vertical Solex 35 APAI-G carburetor is fitted with an accelerating pump and with a hydraulic amortizer on the automatically controlled regulator. This provides regular carburetion. Most remarkable: this engine is perfectly silent.

True sports car, designed for speed, the Alfa Romeo nevertheless offers high comfort and space. The interior is perfectly suited to the low, racy profile of the car. Driver as well as passengers will appreciate the individual seats with adjustable back, the wide round windshield, all contributing to perfect visibility in all directions. The flat bench behind the seats can be either used as a luggage compartment or be fitted with upholstered cushions, thus providing space for two additional seats. Excellent heating is provided through three openings under the windshield for de-icing, de-fogging and comfort.

The famous ALFA ROMEO sports car is now available in Cumberland and Frostburg at Potomac Motors. Three outstanding models . . . . . with prices starting at $3150. And our factory-trained sports car service specialist will be able to keep it in first-class competitive condition.

Market Declines Sharply As Auto Walkout Feared

NEW YORK (UPI) — Declines outnumbered advances by nearly two-to-one on the stock market Wednesday, as mounting fears of an auto strike drove prices sharply lower.

Volume declined for the fifth consecutive session on the sell-off however, totaling 3,550,000 shares against 3,640,000 in the prior session.

A total of 1,264 issues crossed the tape — 13 less than the day before and six less than a week ago. Of these 363 advanced, 41 to new highs, and 682 declined, 15 to new lows.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index finished at 67.98 for a loss of 0.46 while Dow-Jones 30 industrials fell 5.30 to 720.46 with 10 issues within the indicator losing a point or more.

These were American Telephone, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Foods, General Motors, Johns-Manville, Swift & Co., Texaco, United Aircraft and U.S. Steel. Owens-Illinois Glass and Union Carbide added a point each and Procter & Gamble 1⅛.

D-J rails dipped 0.19 to 144.73 with B&O down 1⅛, Illinois Central off 2⅜ and Southern Railway up 1¾. Utilities closed at 119.93 off 0.18 with Cleveland Electric down a point.

Four Stores Open Today At LaVale Plaza

Ribbon Cutting Ceremonies Slated

Ribbon cutting ceremonies are scheduled at 10 a.m. by two of the four stores which will open today in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center.

Full ceremonies are planned by the W. T. Grant Store and the new McCrory store in the center.

The other two units which open today, Nobil's and the H-P Stores, plan to hold formal opening ceremonies on August 31, when the shopping center is scheduled to go into full operations.

To Cut Ribbons

The area's new McCrory's store will open today at 10 a.m. with ribbon cutting ceremonies.

The new self-serve store is the newest link in a nationwide chain of 681 stores and will have 20,000 square feet of floor space, about 13,700 feet of it in sales area.

The LaVale store will be a variety department store offering a full line of home furnishings, including television sets, automobile accessories, women's and men's wearing apparel departments, and a snack bar.

Gene M. Early, a native of Texas, is the manager of the store, which will have about 40 employes when it is in full operation.

Mr. Early was transferred from the firm's Stillwater, Okla., store to manage the new store in LaVale. He has been with McCrory's for about 10 years.

He and his wife and their three children, Gene Jr., 6; Kathryn Ann, 3, and Janet Lynn, 1, are making their home on Winchester Road.

McCrory's has operated a 5 and 10-cent store on Baltimore Street for many years.

Grants To Open

Ribbon cutting ceremonies are planned at 10 a. m. at the new W. T. Grant Company store in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center.

Among the Grant officials here for the opening will be William Lockett, Chicago, regional merchandising manager, and J. T. Reynonds, district manager.

The store will have 2,865 feet of counter space in its LaVale unit.

Manager of the store will be Carl A. Wood. About 90 employes will be on hand for the grand opening.

The new store is one of over 900 home and family stores operated by the firm, which was formed in 1906.

Second In Area

Nobil's, which has operated a shoe store at 135 Baltimore Street for many years, will open a new store in the LaVale Plaza center today at 10 a. m. and will continue its grand opening through Saturday.

Leonard C. Cody, 933 Weires Avenue, LaVale, who has been manager of the Baltimore Street store, will be in charge of the LaVale store and will have Gary Screen as his assistant.

The firm's Baltimore Street store will be managed by Jack Edwards, who has been assistant manager.

Nobil's will offer some 20,000 pairs of shoes for the family in its LaVale store, which is located in a 30-by-120-foot unit in the center.

Plans Opening

The H-P Stores will open its unit in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center today at 10 a. m. but will hold its formal grand opening on August 31 with many other units in the center.

Joseph Tresino, who has managed the company's Piedmont store for several years, will be the manager of the store. The staff will include two assistant managers and about 12 sales girls.

The store will offer a full line of clothing and shoes in the LaVale unit, which has about 7,000 square feet of floor space.

The company also operates units at Keyser, Piedmont, Romney, Moorefield, Petersburg and Kingwood, W. Va.; Oakland and Hancock, Md., and Meyersdale, Pa., and 14 other communities in the tri-state area.

THEIR STORES OPEN TODAY — These four men will manage four stores which will open this morning at 10 o'clock in the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center. Two of the stores will hold ribbon cutting ceremonies in connection with their grand openings and all are expected to participate in the ceremonies planned August 31, when other units begin operations.

Sears Again Refuses Auto Insurance Probe

BALTIMORE (AP) — State insurance officials have declined for the second time to hold public hearings on policy-cancellation procedures of certain automobile insurance companies.

Douglas Sears, the state insurance commissioner, Wednesday refused a request from the Maryland Plaintiffs' Bar Association for a hearing on what the association termed "improper" and "arbitrary" cancellations which force some motorists into assigned risk programs.

Sears previously had rejected a similar request made by Hyman A. Pressman, Baltimore attorney.

Sears said his department has no authority to prescribe rules which a company may adopt concerning the risks it will keep insured.

The commissioner also said the bar association had not cited any specific case of alleged violation by any particular company. He said in order to hold the hearings requested he would have to notify the company complained against.

GRADUATES FRIDAY—Miss Bonnie Lee Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher, 216 Arch Street, will graduate tomorrow as an X-ray technician from Johns Hopkins School of Radiology in Baltimore. Miss Fisher is a 1959 graduate of St. Mary's High School. She has accepted a position on the staff at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Forestry Experts Will Inventory Md. Timber Crop

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Federal and state forestry experts are taking an inventory of Maryland's valuable timber crop.

The Department of Forests and Parks reported Wednesday that Maryland foresters are working with the U. S. Forest Service on the first such survey since 1950.

The state forestry agency said the survey will determine Maryland's tree growth in the ten-year period and serve as a guide for management and use of the state's forest resources.

The department said Maryland's timber falls in four classes—seedling, sapling, pole and saw timber. The loblolly pines predominate along the Eastern Shore while in Western Maryland the hardwoods and scattered white pine and hemlocks make up most of the timber crop.

Gas Tax Refund Requires Claim

Owners, tenants or operators of farms in Allegany County who buy gasoline for use on the farm are being reminded that claims for a refund of federal tax on the gas must be filed no later than September 30.

Forms 2240 used in filing the claim are available at the office of Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent. He said the amount refundable for each gallon used is three cents for gasoline purchased before October 1, 1959 and after June 30, 1961, and four cents for gasoline purchased from October 1, 1959 through June 30 this year.

Mr. Steger pointed out that the form is to be filed with the U.S. District Director of Internal Revenue. Additional information may be obtained at Mr. Steger's office at the Court House.

Cresaptown Couple Take Dairy Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hardman of Cresaptown were among a group of Maryland dairymen who have returned from a tour of Wisconsin and Illinois.

They visited purebred dairy farms, commercial farms, the University of Wisconsin, a farm machinery manufacturing plant, artificial breeding service and a milk processing plant.

The group showed interest in the methods used by Wisconsin dairymen in feeding green or soft corn.

Beall, Conlon To Help Write Md. Insurance

18 Legislators Receive Policies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Some 18 Maryland legislators are among insurance agents writing policies on state-owned buildings.

The insurance written by the lawmakers has a total policy value of $11.9 million, according to figures released Wednesday by the deputy State treasurer, J. Hugh Taylor.

Taylor said the state pays about $545 for a three-year policy on each $100,000. Of this $545, the agent gets about $100 in commissions.

The 18 legislators, then, receive about $11,900 in commissions from the state for each three - year period.

House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson, D-Prince Georges, accounts for nearly half the total amount written by legislators. Wilkinson's Hyattsville firm is agent for $5.6 million worth of insurance on state buildings, or about $5,600 in commissions for three-year period.

D'Alesandro Firm Included

Among federal officials participating in Maryland's insurance cover are U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall, and Thomas D'Alesandro former Baltimore mayor and now a member of the Federal Renegotiations Board.

Sen. Beall's Frostburg firm is writing $1,253,000 worth, and D'Alesandro's Baltimore agency is handling $3,814,000 worth.

All told, some 563 agents write more than $241 million in insurance policies on state property at a cost of about $1.3 million every three years. Nearly all the coverage is against fire.

Taylor said Maryland officials feel the state gets the best coverage by placing insurance through private commercial firms rather than through self-insurance. He

Moose To Make Bid For 1962 Convention

Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will make a strong bid for the 1962 convention when the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia lodges hold their state meeting in Salisbury Friday through Sunday.

Heading the Cumberland delegation will be Frank J. Davis, past state president.

Other delegates will be Russell R. Minnicks, governor; Arthur F. Gellner, secretary; Herman V. Lewis, prelate; George Thomas, treasurer, and Edward Roberts, trustee. All will be accompanied by their wives.

The Cumberland Lodge is slated to receive a trophy at the convention for winning third place in the Maryland Moose Bowling Tournament last March.

Clockers See Race Record Attained

Members of The Clockers, a local drag racing group, recently attended races in York, Pa., where a world's record mark was attained in racing.

They plan a car wash on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Spoerl's used car lot. Those interested in joining the club are welcome.

FOE Stag Picnic Planned Sunday

The annual stag picnic of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the SS. Peter and Paul picnic grounds along Mason Road.

Members and prospective members are invited to attend, according to Herman L. Myers, secretary, who said invitations have been sent to some 20 neighboring aeries.

Man Given $200 Fine In Liquor Case

Zihlman Tavern Owner Charged

A Zihlman tavern operator was fined $200 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court after he was found guilty of two liquor law violations.

The man, Raymond Anderson, was found guilty of the two charges by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Anderson was charged with possession alcoholic beverages for the purpose of consumption and permitting the consumption of alcoholic beverages after 1 a.m.

The violations occurred on August 19 and Anderson was arrested on warrants secured by Roy Willison, an inspector for the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

Simon F. Reilly represented Anderson, and State's Attorney James S. Getty prosecuted for the state.

Mr. Getty said Anderson has a license to sell only beer, but had several bottles of liquor on the premises for consumption.

Area Men Face Sentencing In Federal Court

United States District Court will convene Monday in Wheeling, W. Va., at which time several persons are to be sentenced and a former bank executive, Reed Garvin, 54, of Glen Dale, Marshall County, is to enter a plea on a charge of falsifying bank records to the tune of $100,000.

Garvin, former executive vice president of the bank of McMechen, was arrested July 11, 1960 on the bank charge. He has been free under $10,000 bond and the hearing had been delayed because of his ill health.

Seven other persons indicted in Elkins are to be sentenced, as they have already entered guilty pleas. Among them are Herbert Waybright of Mineral County and Virgil A. Elza of Randolph County, charged with moonshining; and Max G. Parkinson of Hagerstown on a charge of extortion.

Injured While Playing

City Tax Bill Preparation To Begin Today

230 Corporations To Get Statements

The preparation of Cumberland tax bills for the 1961-62 fiscal year will begin today, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner.

Some 13,000 tax bills are scheduled to be delivered to City Hall today, and workers in the City Collector's and Finance offices will begin immediately on the task of preparing the statements which are scheduled to be mailed by September 23.

Printed on buff stock, the bills will call for a tax rate of $1.54, including $1.2498 for operating expenses of the city and 29.02 cents for debt service.

Will Make Changes

The City Collector's office will place the names, addresses and assessments on the bills, and Finance Office workers will calculate the amount of taxes due.

Mrs. Roeder said the office will, as usual, be able to take care of any changes of address, so statements will be delivered promptly.

City taxes may be paid interest free until midnight on Monday, October 23.

Interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month, dating back to the signing of the levy Monday, will be charged beginning October 24.

To Bill Corporations

Some 230 bills for corporation taxes will go out today, Mrs. Roeder said.

Another 120 corporations will be billed throughout the year as assessments are certified by the State Tax Commission.

The prompt action on the corporation tax bills is a service to corporations, many of which are anxious to close their accounts.

It is also of great advantage to the City of Cumberland, since prompt payment can tide the city over, without the expense of borrowing for operating expenses, until the other tax funds begin to come in late in September.

State's Attorney Cites Officers For Work On Case

State's Attorney James S. Getty has written letters to heads of two law enforcement agencies in the county commending their men for outstanding work in the murder trial which ended Tuesday.

In a letter to Lt. W. E. O'Hara, Mr. Getty cited the "outstanding and thorough investigation" in the case by Sgt. William F. Baker, Tfc. Bruce E. Diehl, Tfc. Willis E. Diehl and Trooper Richard J. Graham.

Mr. Getty also wrote Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and commended the work by Deputy Edgar M. Lewis in the case. The state's attorney said Deputy Lewis produced several vital witnesses and conducted much of the investigation on his own time.

Mr. Getty said the officers in the case displayed the highest degree of cooperation between investigator and prosecutor.

Long Hill Job Progresses

This aerial photograph shows some of the progress which is being made by the Cumberland Contracting Company on the relocation of U. S. Route 40 in the Long Hill section. The work is being done for the State Roads Commission under a $941,430.15 contract which begins at a point near the east approach of the Cumberland Thruway and extends 1.4 miles toward Wolf's Mill. The dual highway will be north of the present road, as grading work in the picture shows. A bridge on top of Long Hill is included in the contract, which is one of four which are under way on Route 40 in Allegany County.

THEOS A. ANGELUS

Highest Grade Of Membership

Theos A. Angelus, Sunset View, senior research mathematician in the rocket research department of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, is one of five Hercules Powder Company employes who have been appointed charter senior members of the American Rocket Society.

The selections were made by a special committee appointed by the society's board of directors.

The four other Herculites named were Dr. Loren E. Morey, Dr. Lyman G. Bonner and Dr. Einar West, all formerly of ABL, and Fred M. Hakenjos, director of operations, Chemical Propulsion Division.

An initial group of 721 senior members were named by the ARS special committee from a total membership of about 18,500.

Senior members are professional persons with at least 10 years' experience in science or engineering in or related to rocketry and astronautics who have by above average performance in at least four of those years, attained distinction in their fields.

The senior member grade is the highest grade of membership for which application may be made.

Mr. Angelus, a native of Alma, Mich., and a graduate of Michigan State University with a B.S. degree in mathematics, joined ABL on December 28, 1954 as a research assistant.

He is a member of the technical working group on solid propellant instability of combustion established by the Department of Defense, is past president of the Algonquin Players, and is a committeeman in Boy Scout work.

Mr. Angelus has published a number of papers in the classified and open press, and at ABL has worked in the field of ballistics research and experimental techniques.

Woman Falls From Car

A Newark, N. J. woman was hospitalized yesterday morning in Bedford, Pa., after being injured when she fell from a moving car at the Bedford interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Eleanor Slawinski. She received a fractured jaw and multiple abrasions of the body.

State Police at Everett said Mrs. Slawinski was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Edward R. Slawinski. Police said Mr. Slawinski applied his brakes sharply to avoid hitting a slow-moving vehicle and Mrs. Slawinski was thrown from the car when the door flew open. Mrs. Slawinski was asleep at the time of the accident, police said.

Swim Revue Monday At Celanese Pool

A swim revue by students of Raymond "Ike" Law, 302 Cumberland Street, local swimming instructor, will be held on Monday at 7 p.m. at the Celanese pool.

Mr. Law said about 75 persons including four- and five-year-old youngsters, will participate in the 43d annual revue, open to the public at no charge.

The revue usually attracts a large number of spectators. Mr. Law said there will be a diving exhibition as well as a swimming exhibition.

All participants, he said, are to be on hand at 6:30 p.m.

Phone Building Being Cleaned

The Joseph J. Graciano Company of Pittsburgh began cleaning the exterior of the C&P Telephone Building on South Centre Street on Tuesday.

The work will include pointing up the masonry surfaces and sandblasting the concrete portions of the building.

RC Board To Meet

A regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross will be held Monday, August 28 at 4 p.m. at the Red Cross office in the Post Office, Robert L. Ebert, chapter chairman, announced yesterday.

Two Men Hurt In Accident Near Bedford

Cars Hit Headon On Route 220

Two Bedford, Pa., motorists were injured late yesterday afternoon in a two-car headon collision on U.S. Route 220 about a mile south of that community, according to police, who said nearly $3,000 in property damage was caused.

Pennsylvania State Police said Cessna was driving a sedan south on Route 220 at an apparent high rate of speed and rounded a curve on the wrong side of the road.

The car plowed headon into a taxi being driven north on Route 220 by Gordon. They said Cessna will be charged with reckless driving.

The accident at 4:05 p.m. (EST) occurred near the Bedford Elks Club. The two men were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Gordon, who is employed by the Armored Carrier Corporation of Pittsburgh, was reported to have been driving the taxi while on vacation.

About $1,500 damages were caused to the Cessna car and about $1,400 damages to the taxicab, police said.

ABL, Navy Investigating Fire, Blast

A fire and explosion which caused about $100,000 property damage Tuesday night at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory is being investigated by ABL officials and the Navy.

Officials reported no persons were hurt in the explosion at 9:41 p.m. while an experimental rocket propellant was being mixed at the facility operated by Hercules Powder Company for the Navy.

A 35 by 17-foot building housing the operation was destroyed by the blast and fire. No one was inside the building in which equipment was being operated by remote control from another building. The experimental operation was being monitored by television, ABL spokesmen explained.

The 600 - square - foot structure was located in an isolated section of the ABL reservation, away from other buildings and behind a high mound of protective earth.

ABL officials said the operation of the Rocket Center, W. Va., facility, engaged in research and development of solid propellant rockets, has not been affected by the incident.

The explosion rattled windows in homes here and in nearby Short Gap, W. Va., causing considerable excitement because of the explosion at the ABL plant on May 22, three months ago to the day, in which nine persons were killed.

Drainage Problem Can Be Solved

County Roads Commissioner Harry T. Skelly said yesterday that Andrew N. McLuckie, Baltimore Pike, has notified him that he plans to move a pile of rocks near the outlet of a cross drain where a drainage problem has developed on Pleasant Valley Road.

Mr. McLuckie said the rock pile, standing for at least 20 years, was not the cause of the problem. He had been notified to do something about it.

Mr. Skelly said that a new fill on U. S. 40 has caused erosion. Debris washes along the east side of the road, fills in a ditch and damages the hard surface of the road. Both men agreed that a larger drain pipe is needed under Pleasant Valley Road. Mr. Skelly said seeding of the new fill should correct the erosion problem.
